However, according to Sierra Madre Local recreation areas such as Bailey FIre Captain Rich Snyder, as of late Canyon and the Mt. Wilson Trail may Friday evening, Sierra Madre has not been subject to the specific conditions that warrant an alert. According to Captain Snyder, there are specific conditions that must be met before a Red Flag Alert is called for this area.

"So far, the specific conditions of high wind and low humidity did not strike Sierra Madre on Friday." The SMFD will continue to monitor the situation and if conditions reach that critial level, residents will be notified.

In a notice sent from SM Fire Chief Steve Heydorff to city department heads and officials, the city will use the established criteria which consists of:

"For Southern California from mountains westward - Either Relative Humidity \leq 15%, with sustained winds \geq 25 mph and/or frequent gusts ≥ 35 mph (duration of 6 hours or more) Relative Humidity $\leq 10\%$ (duration of

SIERRA MADRE BOULEVARD STREET PROJECT UPDATE From the City of Sierra Madre

The Sierra Madre Public Works Department is continuing with the street project of 2013. The first phase of rebuilding the intersections in the downtown has been completed and now we will continue with the second phase of slurry sealing the rest of the roadway. The final process will be re-striping the parking stalls and crosswalks.

We have determined the least disruptive way to complete this process is to perform this work throughout the night hours.

There will be No Parking or driving on West Sierra Madre Boulevard Friday October 4, 2013 from 9:00 PM until 11:00 AM the following Saturday, October 5, 2013. (This struction crew will open the road to the trash collection day. as soon as the new surface is ready streets will be striped. For up to 3 hours there will also be NO Parking during the striping process, as soon as the paint dries the parking stalls will be opened for parking.

Your cooperation during the time this necessary work is being per-formed will be appreciated. Your patience will be rewarded by a new surface coating on our street, which will last many years.

REMEMBER: NO PARKING TOW AWAY signs with the exact dates of work on the street and hours of restricted parking will be posted at least 48 hours in advance of the crews starting work on the street. Vehicles not removed from the street before work begins will be towed at the owner's expense.

Barricades will be provided from 10:00 PM to 10:00 ÅM during one day within that period to eliminate unnecessary traffic. The street will will affect the downtown only, be accessible to emergency vehicles Baldwin to Lima). The project will at all times. Do not hesitate to call be monitored by the City's inspec- 911 should you require emergency tors and a staff member of the con- assistance. There will be no change to be driven on. The following THE STREET WILL BE Sunday night October 6, 2013 the CLOSED TO ALL TRAF-FIC FOR A SHORT PERIOD, AND NO PARKING SIGNS WILL REMAIN UNTIL THE PROJECT IS COMPLETED.

GOVERNMENT SHUTDOWN CLOSES ADAM'S PACK STATION

Deb Burgess and 'Fred' courtesy Adam's Pack Station website, www. adamspackstation.com

Earlier this week, the city of Sierra Madre was notified that the Chantry Flat

Recreation area in Angeles National Forest, would be closed as a result of the federal government shut down. Sierra Madre Police Chief Larry Giannone confirmed that the city was asked by the Forest Service to close the gate entrance on Santa Anita Avenue. This closure will remain in effect until elected officials in Washington allow the government to get back to work.

The shut down has had an immediate negative impact on small business owners Deb and Sue Burgess, and their employees. The ladies have been owners of the Adam's Pack Station since 2006. The Pack Station. which has been serving that community since the 1800's, provides services to the 80 cabins in the area plus the 40 cabins in Sturtevant Camp in Big Santa Anita Canyon. All are only accessible by foot. They also operate the general store which hikers in the area depend on. On the Pack Station's website Deb writes.

"[It] has resulted in shutting down any developed areas of the Angeles National Forest which includes Chantry Flat and Mt. Wilson. Any area or facility that is developed and requires any level of maintenance (whether actually done or not)

has been closed. The hiking trails are open but you have to walk to get to them.

As a small business that employs staff that live off the meager wages they earn from us, this is devastating. It could go on for weeks."

She noted that the hiking trails are open (unless closed for dangerous weater conditions, and that "Permittees (cabin owners) are allowed to enter through the Chantry Gate as they do not require maintenance of facilities.'

Sierra Madre-Pasadena-

AUTHOR OF "DON BENITO WILSON: From Mountain Man To Mayor, Los Angeles 1841 to 1878" TO SPEAK AT SIERRA MADRÉ KIWANIS ČLUB

Nat Read, noted author, songwriter and stand-up comic, will be the guest speaker t 1630his Tuesday, October 8th at the Sierra Madre Kiwanis Club. The meeting begins at noon with lunch followed by Mr. Read's presentation.

Read is also the author of The Jonathan Club Story and Poet Cop. In addition, he wrote the lyrics to Shadows Among Us, a tribute to veterans. His writing has appeared in dozens of national and regional publications, including The Wall Street Journal, Saturday Evening Post, Good Housekeeping, Boy's Life, Reader's Digest, Leatherneck, Denver Post, Chicago Sun-Times, Los Angeles Times, Los Angeles Magazine and many others.

As a stand-up comic he has appeared on the stages of such clubs as the Comedy Store, Improv and Ice House and has traveled throughout the Western United States and Canada performing for conventions and large corporate gatherings. He is a frequent emcee for non-profit events.

The book on which he will be speaking, Don Benito Wilson: Mountain Man to Mayor fills a long-missing gap in the record of Southern California history. Published by Angel City Press, this biography documents the life of one of the most significant pioneers of Los Angeles. The grandfather of Gen. George Patton, Wilson is almost unknown today except for the prominent local peak, Mount Wilson, which was named for him, but as the book reveals, there is so much more to the legacy of this historic figure.

The event will be held at The Lodge (formerly the Masonic Temple), 33 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., Sierra Madre. Lunch is $10. The program is free.

Please call 626-355-0728 to reserve your seat and/or lunch.

SIERRA MADRE POLICE BLOTTER

For the period September 22-29, 2013

Sunday September 22, 2013

At 9pm, officers responded to the 1900 block of Lilliano Drive to investigate a report of a disturbance. An intoxicated female started an argument with her boyfriend and began slapping him repeatedly about the chest and arms. In an attempt to get her to stop, the boyfriend pushed her into the pool. Minutes later, the girlfriend appeared at the rear door with a shovel and began striking the rear door. When the boyfriend tried to stop her from damaging the door, she started swinging the shovel at him. The girlfriend became further enraged and threw objects about the room. When the police arrived, she was arrested for Domestic Violence. The boyfriend sustained visible injuries to his chest, wrists and arms.

Monday September 23, 2013

At 11:15pm, an officer observed a vehicle travelling south on Michillinda Avenue that was drifting over the designated lanes then suddenly veering back into the correct lane. Two other traffic violations were observed before the officer could stop the vehicle. The driver exhibited signs of intoxication and was unable to pass the field sobriety test. The driver (female 45 years of age) was subsequently arrested for DUI.

Tuesday September 24, 2013

At 9:30pm, a resident in the 500 block of Auburn Avenue was inside her home when she heard the side gate leading to her rear yard open. Moments later she observed a male wearing a black hoodie looking in at her from a rear window. The resident immediately called the police and the suspect fled. A search was conducted with the assistance of the helicopter but the suspect was not located. A thorough search and investigation of the property was conducted in an attempt to obtain evidence.

Friday September 25, 2013

At 9:30pm, a resident in the 700 block of Auburn Avenue was returning home and observed a silver compact car parked in the no parking zone at the access point to the catch basin. He found this to be suspicious and notified the police department as he drove into his garage. Immediately upon entering his residence, he noticed that portions of the interior had been ransacked. He again called the police who arrived at the location within two minutes. However, by the time they arrived, the suspicious vehicle was no longer at the location. The investigation determined that unknown suspects gained entry through a rear bedroom window using a pry tool to compromise the lock. Once inside, they ransacked the bedroom and removed a firearm that was in a drawer. It is possible the owner interrupted the crime when he returned home as the suspects apparently fled using the same bedroom window.

ORDINANCE NO. 1345

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF SIERRA MADRE, CALIFORNIA AMENDING CHAPTER 17.90 OF THE SIERRA MADRE MUNICIPAL CODE PERTAINING TO THE ART IN PUBLIC PLACES PROGRAM

WHEREAS, the City Council previously adopted Ordinance 1244, creating the City's Art in Public Places program; WHEREAS, on June 26, 2013, the City Council directed staff to return with revisions to the City's Arts in Public Places

WHEREAS, on June 26, 2013, the City Council directed staff to update outdated language contained in Municipal Code Chapter 17.90 and to correct an inconsistency between the Intent and Purpose of the ordinance, and the use of funds collected

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SIERRA MADRE DOES HEREBY ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. Chapter 17.90.030 - Administration of the city of Sierra Madre art in public places program, is hereby amended to read: The art in public places program shall be administered by the city council of the city of Sierra Madre. To assist in administering the program, the city council may designate this responsibility to the Sierra Madre Community Services commission. If this designation is made, the Community Services commission shall review the program annually and report the results to the city council.

SECTION 2. Chapter 17.90.070 - Creation of art in public places trust fund, is hereby amended to read:
There is hereby created within the treasury of the city a special fund to be known as the city of Sierra Madre art in public places trust fund. This fund shall be maintained by the city and shall be used solely for the intent and purpose stated in Section 17.90.010. All money received by the city pursuant to Sections 17.90.050 and 17.90.060 of this chapter or from endowments or gifts to the city designated for the arts shall be placed in the art in public places trust fund. All such money shall be deposited, invested, accounted for and expended as follows: . Money received pursuant to Sections 17.90.050 and 17.90.060 of this chapter shall be deposited in the art in public places trust fund in a manner to avoid any commingling with other revenues and funds of the city, except for temporary investments, and all funds shall be expended solely for the purposes for which they were collected. Any interest income earned by the money in the art in public places trust fund shall be deposited in the art in public places trust fund and shall be expended only for the purpose for which the money was originally collected.

2. Accounts may be reviewed by the public pursuant to the California Public Records Act.

SECTION 3. If any sections, subsections, subdivisions, paragraph, sentence, clause or phrase of Ordinance 1345 is for any reason held to be invalid, such invalidity shall not effect the validity of the remaining portions of this Ordinance. The City Council hereby declares that it would have passed each section, subsection, subdivision, paragraph, sentence, clause or phrase hereof, irrespective of the fact that anyone or more sections, subsections, subdivisions, paragraph, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared invalid.

SECTION 4. The City Clerk shall cause this Ordinance to be published or posted in accordance with California Government Code Section 36933, shall certify to the adoption of this Ordinance and his/her certification, together with proof of the publication, to be entered in the book of Ordinances of the City Council.

ORDINANCE 1345, PASSED, APPROVED and ADOPTED this 24th day of September, 2013.

POLICE SEEK SEXUAL ASSAULT SUSPECT

The Pasadena Police Department is asking for the public's help in identifying a suspect that tried to sexually assault a Pasadena woman on Sunday night.

According to police, the suspect approached a lone Pasadena woman around 9 p.m. as she was walking home and attempted to sexually assault her. A passerby frightened the suspect off who fled from the area on foot.

Pasadena Police Lt. Vasken Gourdikian said the incident took place in the 300 block of S. Hudson Avenue.

The suspect is described as a male white or Middle Eastern, 35-40 years of age, approx. 6 feet tall, full beard, with hair pulled back in a ponytail.

Anyone with information regarding this incident is asked to contact the On-Duty Watch Commander at (626) 744-4620.

Mayor, City Officials Attend League of California Cities

Mayor Bill Bogaard was among nearly 1,800 city officials from throughout California who attended the 115th Annual Conference of the League of California Cities, Sept. 18–20, 2013 in Sacramento. officials attended the three-day conference to see and learn from experts about new resources and opportunities to help solve critical issues facing California's

"We have a history that goes back 115 years to when a group of city officials first came together to form the League with a mission to give California cities a voice in Sacramento," said Mayor Bogaard, who served as the League's President of the Board of Directors during 2012-2013.

"They understood the strength of joint efforts and the importance McKenzie. of a forum where city officials can share and learn about best practices. Our voice remains strong today and this conference was a key opportunity to sharpen our skills as leaders," Bogaard

Bogaard and other attendees were briefed on the recent conclusion of the 2013 California Legislative session, including bills affecting cities, as well as a wide range of issues including economic development, infrastructure, municipal finance, land use, ethics, the environment and sustainability.

Keynote speakers at the conference were Erik Wahl, the author of UNThink on the art of vision and Dr. Lowell Catlett, a futurist who spoke on the evolving role of cities. Attendees participated in approximately 40 preakout sessions covering all aspects of local government.

'California as a whole can only be stronger when our cities are strong. Our members are vitally important to ensuring that the voice of cities is represented in Sacramento. I am inspired by the dedication of California city officials and the League exists to support the work of cities," said League Executive Director Chris

Free Flu Vaccination Offered

Get some free help for you and your family in the fight against the "Flu Season" this year by getting a free flu vaccine from the Pasadena Public Health Department from 2:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m., Tuesday, Oct. 15, 2013. The clinic will be held on a first-come, first-served basis on the front lawn of Day One, a non-profit public health education organization, 175 N. Euclid Ave., near Walnut Street, in Pasadena.

Free flu vaccine will be available to everybody ages 3 and older at no cost while supplies last. Health officials ask everyone to wear short sleeves. Minors must be accompanied by a parent and/ or guardian.

For more information on this event, call (626) 744-6164 or visit www.cityofpasadena.net/ publichealth.

In addition to the Pasadena Health Dept., event sponsors include the Los Angeles County Department of Public Health; City of Long Beach Department of Health and Human Services; Orange County Health Care Agency and Huntington Hospital.

Each flu season, a variety of flu viruses can spread and they can affect people differently based on individual immunity. Even healthy children and adults can get very sick from the flu.

We hope the public will take advantage of this free clinic on Oct 15 to get vaccinated as flue is a very serious disease that can lead to hospitalization. Flu symptoms can include fever, cough, sore throat, runny or stuffy nose, body aches, headache, chills and fatigue," said Dr. Eric Walsh, Pasadena Public Health Department Director and the City's Health Officer.

High-risk groups vulnerable to flu or flu complications include seniors; people with chronic illnesses such as asthma, or Chronic Pulmonary Obstructive Pulmonary Disease (COPD) and pregnant women, Dr. Walsh said.

Theodore Von Karman and the Creation of JPL

This year marks the 50th anniversary of Theodore von Karman's death. Born in Budapest, Austria-Hungary in 1881, von Karman emigrated to the United States in 1930, joining the faculty of the Guggenheim Aeronautical Laboratory at Caltech, where remained until 1944. He then gradually moved to Washington, D.C., to head the Air Force's Scientific Advisory Group. He was ultimately awarded the first Medal of Science by President Kennedy in 1963. Von Karman was also the first director of JPL. This talk will tell the story of von Karman's life in aeronautics, engineering and science, and particularly focus on his role in founding JPL. Free lectures on Oct. 10 at

AROUND SAN GABRIEL VALLEY

"What's Going On?"

News and Views from Joan Schmidt

Recently there was a joint celebration in Duarte, the City, 56 years and the City of Hope its centennial!

Festivities began with the annual Route 66 Parade, "Gateway to Hope". More than 1,000 marched or rode along Huntington Drive; the Grand Marshall was Dr. Rahul Jandial, a City of Hope Neurosurgeon and health expert for KTLA Morning News. Local officials included Mayor Margaret Finlay, husband Brad and grandchildren; Mayor-Pro-Tem Liz Reilly; Council Members, John Fasana, Phil Reyes, and

Tzietel Paras-Caracci, and Authors Claudia and Alan Heller. School Board participants were Ken bell, Reyna Diaz and Pam Kawasaki. Children, parents and mascots from all local elementary schools marched; Northview Middle School and Duarte High Bands, Clifton Middle School from Monrovia, Don Lugo HS (Chino) and Rim of the World (Lake Arrowhead). Local businesses and Church groups also participated. The Parade concluded with Fire Engine 44 from Station 44 on Highland Ave. (Thanks to my daughter Karen for the great photos!)

After the great parade were the City picnic with live music, great food, raffles and more. Duarte's Friends of the Library had a spinning wheel and all who played won either a small prize or book. It was a lot of fun!

100 years ago, the City of Hope began as a small Monrovia tuberculosis sanatorium. It has grown into a world-renowned biomedical research, treatment and education center committed to shaping the future. Its success is seen as hospitals around the globe have adopted its compassionate care model. Besides its drive to revolutionize the treatment of cancer, City of Hope also works against diabetes and other life-threatening diseases. Research at the City of Hope has led to synthetic human insulin used worldwide by millions with diabetes, as well as the lifesaving cancer drugs Rituxan, Avastin, and Herceptin.

What a great double birthday celebration!

Mayor Margaret Finlay wore 2 Hats in the Parade- Rode in the car at the beginning as Mayor & then walked with her Church, Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

Now here's the highlight of my evening: I discovered the Gooden School garden! Best one I've seen all year! Cold frame boxes filled with Italian eggplant and tomatoes! Fabulous tomatoes, flourishing, producing lots of good sized fruit! Yellow squash, watermelons still on the vine, and a pomegranate tree, with a good dozen pomegranates hanging from the branches! It was glorious!

Had such a great time admiring the garden that I needed to know more; which led to a nice visit with Marianne Ryan, who is the Assistant Head of School and Director of Admissions and four of the young ladies of the fourth grade, who work in the garden and are very proud of their accomplishments. The Gooden School has been part to use and general garden of Sierra Madre since 1975 and advice. He's also the worm tea is based on the concepts of: expert! ASSEMBLYMAN CHRIS HOLDEN JOINS STATE SENATOR CAROL LIU TO REQUIRE CAL TRANS TO SELL 710 FWY HOMES - Gov. Brown Signs SB 416

Pasadena – Governor Brown signed a historic measure designed to clear the way for the sale of state-owned real estate along the 710 freeway corridor and end decades of speculation about a freeway surface route. Assemblymember Chris Holden is a principal co-author on SB 416 which was authored by Senator Carol Liu.

"I applaud the Governor for signing this bill, as it is a critical first-step to restoring peace and security to neighborhoods long threatened by Caltrans' poor property management and an ill-advised surface extension of the 710," said Assemblymember Holden. "Thanks to Sen. Liu, Caltrans' decadeslong mismanagement of the 'surplus homes' will finally come to an end."

SB 416 enables Cal Trans to get out of the real estate business by selling houses they acquired more than 50 years ago along the 4.5 mile corridor through parts of Pasadena, South Pasadena, Alhambra and East LA. The properties have been plagued by years of mismanagement and neglect. SB 416 accelerates the sale of the properties by allowing them to be sold in "as is" condition.

"I am pleased to have worked with Sen. Liu on this critical measure to ensure that the surface route for the 710 extension is dead and that we can now work toward other options that reduce local pollution and get traffic in the region moving," concluded Holden.

FORMER ARCADIA POLICE OFFICER CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLEMENT

A former Arcadia Police Department officer pleaded not guilty today to one count of grand theft by embezzlement for allegedly charging more than $50,000 for personal items, including making a down payment on a motorcycle, on a police association's credit card, the District Attorney's Office

Christian Eric Blesch, 36 (dob 8-16-77), surrendered on a felony complaint for arrest warrant filed on Sept. 24 by Deputy District Attorney Geoffrey Rendon with the Justice System Integrity Division. His bail was set at $45,000 in case BA416513.

Rendon said Blesch, who was elected in January 2011 to serve as treasurer for the Arcadia Police Officer Association, allegedly used the association's credit card to purchase parts and accessories for his personal motorcycles, as well as personal items such as clothing, exercise equipment, shaving accessories and cigars. Blesch allegedly paid the monthly credit card bills via check from the association's checking account.

If convicted, Blesch, who resigned from the department in September, faces up to three years in custody.

Blesch returns to court on Nov. 8 in Department 30 at the Foltz Criminal Justice Center downtown Los Angeles to set a date for his preliminary hearing.

Arcadia Police Blotter

For the period of Sunday, September 22^{nd} , through Saturday, September 28^{th} , the Police Department responded to 965 calls for service of which 119 required formal investigations. The following is a summary report of the major incidents handled by the Department during this period.

Sunday, September 22:

Just after 1:40 a.m., officers responded to Arcadia Methodist Hospital, 300 West Huntington Drive, in regards to a disturbance. After being triaged, a male subject became combative with staff members and other patients. The 50-year-old White male was arrested for Interfering With Business Operations and transported to the Arcadia City Jail for booking. A records check revealed the subject was recently arrested for trespassing at the same location.

At approximately 7:22 p.m., an officer was dispatched to Residence Inn by Marriott, 321 East Huntington Drive, in reference to found property. A housekeeper found a bag containing two handguns, ammunition, and pistol magazines inside a vacant hotel room. A records check revealed one handgun was reported stolen out of the City of Industry. The Detective Bureau is conducting further investigation on the room's guest registry list.

Monday, September 23:

- At about 11:16 a.m., an officer responded to Hugo Reid Elementary, 1000 Hugo Reid Drive, in reference to a child abuse report. A 6-year-old girl came to school with bruises on her face and arm, and explained she was hit with a wooden spoon by her 22-year-old White mother. An investigation revealed the suspect had hit the victim multiple times and on numerous occasions. She was arrested and transported to the Arcadia City Jail for booking. The victim and her 3-year-old sister were taken into protective custody by the Department of Child and Family Services.
- Around 3:06 p.m., an officer responded to a residence in the 100 block of California Street regarding a burglary report. Unknown suspect(s) made entry through a window and fled undetected with various electronics and jewelry. No evidence was located.

Tuesday, September 24:

- Around 7:05 a.m., an officer responded to the Metro Gold Line construction site in the area of Cornell Drive and Windsor Road regarding a theft report. Unknown suspect(s) stole approximately 200 metal stakes and 500 pieces of rebar from the location. Over 100 pounds of rebar was also reported missing from the construction site adjacent to Santa Anita Avenue and La Porte Street. The property was left unsecured and no witnesses were located.
- Shortly before 4:00 p.m., an officer was dispatched to Nordstrom at the Santa Anita Mall, 400 South Baldwin Avenue, in regards to a theft investigation. A Nordstrom employee processed several fraudulent returns and merchandise markdowns for his girlfriend. The 25-year-old Hispanic male was arrested and transported to the Arcadia City Jail for booking. The girlfriend, a 25-year-old White female, is also being considered for theft prosecution.

Wednesday, September 25:

- Around 12:44 p.m., an officer conducted a traffic stop on a vehicle for traveling 84 miles per hour (MPH) on Campus Drive near Park Avenue, an area posted as a 25 MPH school zone when children are present. The officer discovered the 17-year-old White male driver was in violation of his provisional license as he had an under-aged passenger inside the vehicle. He was cited for Reckless Driving and released without incident. His vehicle was impounded for 30 days.
- At approximately 4:34 p.m., an officer was dispatched to Macy's at the Santa Anita Mall, 400 South Baldwin Avenue, in regards to a theft report. An adult suspect concealed merchandise inside a used shopping bag and exited the store without making payment. The 59-year-old Chinese female was arrested and transported to the Arcadia City Jail for booking.

Thursday, September 26:

- Around 1:32 a.m., an officer conducted a traffic stop on a vehicle for speeding in the area of Santa Anita Avenue and Live Oak Avenue. The officer discovered the 24-year-old Chinese male driver was under the influence of alcohol. He was arrested and transported to the Arcadia City Jail for booking.
- At about 9:21 a.m., an officer was dispatched to AA Wireless, 425 North Santa Anita Avenue, in regards to an armed robbery that just occurred. An unknown suspect brandished a handgun and demanded cell phones from an employee. The suspect filled a bag with ten iPhones and fled the location in an awaiting blue GMC SUV. The suspect is described as a Black male wearing a ski mask and a dark colored hooded sweatshirt. No suspects were located; however, the incident was recorded on video surveillance. Further investigation is being conducted by the Detective Bureau.

Friday, September 27:

- Just after midnight, an officer conducted an enforcement stop on a bicyclist for riding with no lights on in the area of Santa Clara Street and Second Avenue. A search of the subject's purse revealed she was in possession of tar heroin and drug paraphernalia. The 25-year-old White female was arrested and transported to the Arcadia City Jail for booking.
- Shortly after 8:30 a.m., an officer responded to a residence in the 1600 block of South Fifth Avenue regarding a burglary report. A male suspect entered the victim's open garage and stole property including an iPod and cello instrument. No suspect was located at the time of the report.
- A few hours later, the victim found his stolen cello posted on Craigslist. Officers organized an operation and agreed to purchase the property from the seller at Sears, 3801 East Foothill Boulevard. The 35-year-old White male was arrested in the parking lot where he admitted to the burglary. He was transported to the Arcadia City Jail for booking. A records check revealed he was on felony probation.

Saturday, September 28:

Free Estimates

- At about 2:04 a.m., an officer conducted a traffic stop on a vehicle for failing to stop at a stop sign on Live Oak Avenue at Las Tunas Drive. An investigation revealed the driver was under the influence of an alcoholic beverage and was in possession of cocaine. The 24-year-old male of unknown race was arrested and transported to the Arcadia City Jail for booking.
- 14. Just after 10:50 a.m., an officer was dispatched to the Arcadia Police Department front counter in reference to a fraud report. The victim explained her credit card, cell phone, and driver's license were stolen at a night club in the City of Los Angeles. An online check of her bank account revealed unknown suspect(s) had made several unauthorized charges.

CITY OF MONROVIA WINS STATEWIDE HELEN PUTNAM AWARD - City Wins for YES Program

MONROVIA — The League of California Cities has selected the city of Monrovia as a 2013 Helen Putnam Award winner. The 2013 award winners were honored during the Opening General Session of the League's Annual Conference & Expo at the Sacramento Convention Center held Sept. 18 – 20.

Monrovia won the Ruth Vreeland Award for Engaging Youth in City Government for the city's Youth Employment Service (YES) program to provide job training, mentoring and internship opportunities to Monrovia-at risk youth.

Now in its sixth year, YES has successfully graduated over 135 at-risk kids. The program provides mentoring and intervention features geared toward high school students, specifically those who have failing grades, unstable home lives, a police record or simply bad attitudes. Launched in 2007, the program is designed to address the community's need to improve the quality of life and opportunities for local youth in response to gang violence in some areas of the Studies indicated that the relative effectiveness of combating gang activity was to place 70 percent of its efforts on prevention and intervention, and 30 percent on suppression. In Monrovia, the allocation of resources was reverse: 80 percent was being spent on suppression, while only 20 percent was being spent on prevention and intervention. At the time there were fewer job opportunities for the city's youth and funding for internships. YES was started to address these issues by partnering with the Santa Anita Family YMCA, Monrovia Unified School District and the Monrovia Chamber of Commerce.

"We are honored to receive the Helen Putnam award and are very proud of the YES program's success." Of those youth who have graduated, we've seen grade point averages increase by 14%, absenteeism decrease by 200% and tardiness decrease by 145%," said Mayor Mary Ann Lutz. "Many of these youth have focused their energies back into the community, which makes the YES program even more Established in 1982, the Helen Putnam Award for Excellence program recognizes outstanding cities that deliver the highest quality and level of service in the most effective manner possible. Monrovia was one of 13 cities out of 149 applicants throughout California to receive this coveted award.

Particular attention and credit is given to applications specifically advancing the League's strategic priorities (www.cacities.org/priorities), which are determined each year by the board of directors.

The award is given annually in 12 categories: CCS Partnership Intergovernmental Collaboration Award; Community Services and Economic Development; Economic Development through the Arts; Enhancing Public Trust, Ethics, and Community Involvement; Health and Wellness Programs; Housing Programs and Innovations; Internal Administration; Planning and Environmental Quality; Public Safety; Public Works, Infrastructure and Transportation; the Ruth Vreeland Award for Engaging Youth in City Government; and the League Partners Award for Excellence in City-Business Relations.

Established in 1898, the League of California Cities is a nonprofit statewide association that advocates for cities with the state and federal governments and provides education and training services to elected and appointed city officials.

Robbery

October 1 at 2:00 p.m., a robbery was reported in the area of Monterey and Colorado. The victim was walking southbound on Monterey when a female suspect ran from behind her and stole the iTouch she was carrying in her hand. The suspect continued running southbound on Monterey to a waiting vehicle and fled the area. The investigation is continuing.

October 2 at 10:12 p.m., an officer was on patrol in the 900 block of South Fifth when he saw a 2010 black Cadillac Escalade sitting on its axles without rims and tires in a hotel parking lot. The owner was staying at the hotel and wasn't aware of the theft, which occurred some time between 9:30 and 10:00 p.m. A witness saw a male White subject in a white utility van next to the victim's vehicle. The witness noticed two of the rims and tires were missing, but thought the subject in the van was the owner of the Cadillac. The investigation is continuing.

TIP OF THE WEEK

Mail Theft Prevention

If you order items over the phone, via the Internet, or by mail, chances are those packages will be delivered straight to your front porch. The majority of deliveries do not require a signature and are generally left at your door, even if no one is home to accept them. Some thieves look for crimes of opportunity, but other thieves actually target your delivery. Thieves will follow or watch for the UPS, FedEx, US Mail, or other delivery trucks, and then target a home after a delivery is made.

Here are some suggestions for helping to prevent a theft of your packages:

If possible, use your workplace as the shipping address.

Track your shipments by phone or online so that you know what day they should

Ask your neighbor to watch for your delivery and then hold the items until you

Keep an eye on your neighborhood and report suspicious persons or vehicles in the area.

Request a signature delivery option if available or request the shipment be held at the shipping facility such as a UPS office.

Check with "mailbox" businesses in your town and see if they will accept shipment of your item for a fee.

If you do not receive your shipment on time, check with the company of origin and confirm the delivery. If the item was delivered and you did not receive it, report the theft or loss to the original company, the shipping company, and your local police.

PASADENA UNIFIED COLLEGE AND CAREERS SHOWCASE TAKES PLACE OCTOBER 9 AT THE PASADENA CONVENTION CENTER

Pasadena, CA-The Pasadena Unified School District (PUSD) in partnership with the Pasadena Educational Foundation invites students and families to attend the 2013 College Fair & Career Pathways Showcase Wednesday, October 9 from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. at the Pasadena Convention Center. The event will include a college fair, seminars and student career portfolio showcase. The event is free and open to the public, serving as a forum for students and families to become better acquainted with the educational and extracurricular opportunities that participating institutions can offer.

The event will feature representatives from approximately 100 colleges, universities and technical schools. Financial aid and NCAA college athletics information will also be available. Additionally, high school community business partners such as the Armory Center for the Arts, Lockheed, JPL and the Light Bringer Project will be on hand to highlight projects PUSD students have accomplished in career PUSD's College and Career Pathways connect academics to real-world applications by integrating challenging instruction with a demanding project-based technical curriculum. Students explore the workplace, build experience and develop mentoring relationships with local businesses, government and nonprofits. High school academies include Arts, Entertainment and Media, Business and Entrepreneurship, Creative Arts and Design, Culinary Arts and Hospitality, Engineering and Environmental Science, Health Careers, Law and Public Service and the App Academy (mobile, web and game development). Students apply to academies during PUSD's open enrollment period which takes place in January.

"This event is an opportunity for families to create a road map for their child's future," said PUSD Superintendent Jon R. Gundry. "The earlier the better when it comes to students and families thinking about college and career."

TOP TECH TIPS FOR A SUCCESSFUL SCHOOL

(StatePoint) The back to school season can be a hectic time for students. With dozens of assignments, tests and projects, it's easy for some things to get lost in the chaos.

It may start with one loose book or crumpled paper thrown into a locker or backpack, but it can quickly balloon into a disaster area without proper maintenance.

Don't let messes and disorganization stand in the way of success in the classroom. New technologies and old organization tricks can help you stay neat and organized during the back to school season:

Stay on Task

It is always smart for students to maintain a separate section in a notebook or binder for every class. If there are several parts to one class, keep a section in the binder for each part of that class. Avoid using a different binder for each class as often it is unnecessary and will cause clutter.

Get Desks in Shape

At home and at school, desks are a place for learning, concentration and personalization for students. A lot can be learned about a student's personality by looking at items on top of the desk or inside the desk drawers.

Students can keep their desks organized and show off their personal style by using a variety of web-connected printing solutions, gadgets with touch technology and detachable hybrid PCs, such as those from HP.

For example, with the HP ENVY 4500 e-Allin-One printer, students can save time creating lab-quality photos and laser sharp documents by printing from their smartphones, tablets and Internet-connected PCs.

Connect in More Places

No matter if a student is in grade school, high school or college, having the right technology can help keep everything straight. An all-in-one desktop PC, such as the HP ENVY Rove20 All-in-One, will help streamline everything from research to art projects to book reports and study aids. With a versatile design and built-in battery, students can easily move it from room to room.

For college students, a device like the HP Split x2 is great for getting things done. It transitions effortlessly from a notebook to a tablet so students can take notes in class and then go back to the dorm to web chat with their families. More information on technology that can help students succeed is available at www.HP.com.

E-Books

Consider saving space in your locker, book bag or dorm room by opting for e-textbooks. Looking up unfamiliar words, taking notes, searching for passages and highlighting sections for later review is quick and easy on an

The school year doesn't have to be filled with messes and clutter. There are always new ways to be productive, stay organized, and live connected throughout the school year. With just some focus, determination and the right tech tools, organization can easily be achieved.

THE REEL DEAL: by Ben Show CLOUDY WITH A CHANCE OF MEATBALLS 2

I thoroughly enjoyed the first 'Cloudy' movie, with its strangeness and unusual comedy, and was greatly looking forward to see the sequel, which I believe was better than the first. All I can hope for now is a third installment.

After Flint Lockwood (Bill Hader) and Sam Sparks (Anna Faris) stopped the strange device that turned water into food, they were forced to evacuate by renowned inventor, and Flint's idol, the mysterious Chester V (Will Forte). He promises to clean up their island home as soon as possible. When Flint moves away, he ends up working for Chester at his company, Live Corp. However, Flint soon discovers that his machine never stopped working and that Chester V's intentions aren't as good as they sound.

This is the perfect kid's movie: plenty of quirky characters, a plot that is simple enough for children to understand while having a deeper message for adults, and animation that was made for 3D. I would recommend this for anyone with a good sense of humor and looking for a downright weird and funny movie.

Oktoberfest October 12th Santa Anita Race Track Get Your lederhosens out of the Closet!

Crown Prince Ludwig, later to become King Ludwig I, was married to Princess Therese of Saxony-Hildburghausen on 12th October 1810. The citizens of Munich were invited to attend the festivities held on the fields in front of the city gates to celebrate the happy royal event. The fields have been named Theresienwiese ("Theresa's fields") in honor of the Crown Princess ever since, although the locals have since abbreviated the name simply to the "Wies'n".

Horse races in the presence of the Royal Family marked the close of the event that was celebrated as a festival for the whole of Bavaria. The decision to repeat the horse races in the subsequent year gave rise to the tradition of the Oktoberfest. In 1811 an added feature to the horse races was the first Agricultural Show, designed to boost Bavarian agriculture. The horse races, which were the oldest and - at one time - the most popular event of the festival are no longer held today. But the Agricultural Show is still held every three years during the Oktoberfest on the southern part of the festival grounds.

In the first few decades the choice of amusements was sparse. The first carousel and two swings were set up in 1818. Visitors were able to quench their thirst at small beer stands which grew rapidly in number. In 1896 the beer stands were replaced by the first beer tents and halls set up by enterprising landlords with the backing of the breweries.

The remainder of the festival site was taken up by a fun-fair. The range of carousels etc. on offer was already increasing rapidly in the 1870s as the fairground trade continued to grow and develop in Germany.

Fast Forward to Oktoberfest 2013

Today, the Oktoberfest is the largest festival in the world, with an international flavor characteristic of the 21th century: some 6 million visitors from all around the world converge on the Oktoberfest each vear.

And since the Oktoberfest is still held on the Theresienwiese, the locals still refer to the event simply as the "Wies'n". So "welcome to the Wies'n" means nothing other than "welcome to the Oktoberfest"

Authentic German foods, beers and traditional German music will all be offered on Saturday, Oct. 12, as Santa Anita Park and Dog Haus hosts their first-ever Oktoberfest in the track's spacious Infield AreaIn addition to traditional German fare, beer and music, attendees can also rock out with The Spazmatics and special guests Boogie Knights, live in concert.

INGREDIENTS:

- 4 (12 ounce) cans beer
- 1 large onion, diced
- 10 bratwurst 2 teaspoons red pepper flakes
- 1 teaspoon garlic powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper

DIRECTIONS:

- 1. Preheat an outdoor grill for medium-high heat. When hot, lightly oil grate.
- 2. Combine the beer and onions in a large pot; bring to a boil. Submerge the bratwurst in the beer; add the red pepper flakes, garlic powder, saft, and pepper. Reduce heat to medium and cook another 10 to 12 minutes. Remove the bratwurst from the beer mixture; reduce heat to low, and continue cooking the onions.
- 3. Cook the bratwurst on the preheated grill, turning once, 5 to 10 minutes. Serve with the beer mixture as a topping or side.

RULES By Cynthia Lord

Sundays open for groups of 20 or more

We have now made it to October, dear readers, and we can finally feel that early autumn sensation of cooler days and the anticipation of Halloween. However, this first selection for the month of October follows a more serious tone, like "The Middlesteins" previously, but also highlights on a sensitive subject. I introduce to you "Rules" by Cynthia Lord, and its simple title alone should make you raise an eyebrow or at least the odd image of the rubber duck and goldfish. The summary and overall plot of "Rules" by Cynthia Lord is on the subject of autism, and how our central character, 12 year old Catherine, tries to deal with this matter as her younger brother is autistic. This is where Lord works her magic with the youthful yet bittersweet tone that Catherine holds when explaining the various rules to her brother in everyday life (such as no toys in the fish tank and keeping his pants on). Readers will appreciate the youthful spirit of Catherine, but may also be able to sympathize as well; how Catherine voices her frustrations, and especially how her frustration eventually manifests when she meets Jason and Kristi, the two types of friends that she's always desired. When this happens for Catherine, her current situation and outlook does a 180 as she discovers it is her own behavior that is the most surprising which brings up the question of what normal is. Although youthful and with a bit of wit, readers will be able to pick up the seriousness of "Rules" as autism is the subject matter, and readers can be able to understand where Catherine is coming from, especially for you readers who are in a similar predicament and have a form of autism or have individuals in your life that have been diagnosed with autism. This columnist herself lives through it daily because I myself was diagnosed with PDD-NOS (a form of autism) around when I started high school (even though I've had it my whole life; my family was unsure in my younger years) and can see the effects of how everyone involved in my life has been affected.

Cynthia Lord highlights the good, sometimes bad, the odd, funny, and quirky aspects with Catherine in "Rules" and that in spite of her brother's autism, the unusual spark that he brings to her life and family overall. Copyrighted in 2006 (so this pick maybe a bit of an older pick), and receiving praise from Booklist, as well as positive acknowledgment from various critics, "Rules" is another interesting read for readers of various ages, and is helpful when you want to learn something better, or to just appreciate the uniqueness of someone or something in your life, in spite of any challenges that come your way.

SEAN'S SHAMELESS REVIEWS:

underrated, rock Gods or major sellouts, but Kings of Leon, perhaps one of the biggest modern rock acts in the world, are back at it. It's been three years since Kings of Leon released their fifth and ultimately disappointing album, "Come Around Sundown." In 2011, it appeared the band was slowing down and hits like "Sex On Fire" and "Use Somebody" were clearly absent on the aforementioned record. With a tour abruptly cancelled and breakup rumors swirling, Kings of Leon decided to take a seemingly much desirable

This past June, however, it was revealed by the band that they would be making their return with album number six in ten years entitled, "Mechanical Bull." Does "Mechanical Bull" put the band back on top? Well, for starters, after a first listen, this is clearly a much better record than "Come Around Sundown." Nevertheless, some inconsistencies with tone and theme forbid the record on being spectacular rather than just very good. If you can skip through those particular tracks that drag down the record, you'll find out that Kings of Leon still have the magic left in them.

Mechanical Bull" kicks off with the first single, "Supersoaker," a summer type jam with enthusiasm and vigor to boot. It recalls the youthful days of KOL such as the "Aha Shake Heartbreak" record. However, with the heavy studio sound surrounding it, the song appears less organic than those of their earlier days. Nonetheless, "Supersoaker" is undoubtedly the inner workings of a band that knows how to still have fun.

After the frolicsome opener, the band throws a few misfires into the record with "Rock City" and subsequent track, "Don't Matter." Those two tracks stray away from what the album wants to say midway through the end. "Don't Matter" channels the former days of KOL, but since the band has clearly grown into a more, mature rock band, this song feels painfully outdated to be added to their current repertoire.

Rest assured, regardless of a pretty solid single that's followed by two or three average tracks, Kings' come on stronger than possibly ever before. "Temple," a clear standout that is filled with hooks and powerful, but smooth guitars. It's one of their catchiest songs to date and an obvious choice for the next single. "Wait For Me" slows it down, but you couldn't ask for a better cool down track. Beautifully written, wonderfully wistful, and supporting a vintage KOL sound, "Wait For

KINGS OF LEON

Call them overrated, Me," might just be one of their best songs ever. 'Comeback Story" is another gentle song that it's very difficult not to be utterly enamored by.

> Artist: Album: Label: Release

Sure, it may sport some silly lyrics, "I walked a mile in your shoes/And now I am a mile away and I've got your shoes." Nonetheless, the sensitive, attractive guitar layout pulls you in and easily captures your heart. Compassionate and cordial, Kings adds another strong track to their collection (one that is quite plentiful with hits).

"On The Chin" closes out the album with another simple and carefree tune that has an alternative-country rock vibe. Not the best song here, but a fitting closer to an album that balances between youthful sounds and mature themes. The deluxe album has two bonus tracks that are terrific, especially "Work On Me." This classic rock inspired tune alone should attract new fans who never seemed to give KOL a fighting chance. I wish the bonus material had been on the regular edition instead of some of the subpar tracks that did make the final cut.

If you pick up this album - and you totally should - the deluxe edition is the way to go. All in all, "Mechanical Bull" is a winning effort from band that has had its share of ups and down. Kings of Leon are one of the biggest rock bands around and over the span of their 10 plus year career, no other rock act has come close to imitating their signature sound. Love them or hate them, they should be respected and regarded as utterly talented musicians. Innovators or not, Kings of Leon's latest endeavor pulls the Nashville boys out of the rubble to shed new skin. At the very least, there are plenty of satisfying rock songs to enjoy. Deserves a listen, but possibly worth much more than just that.

Grade: 8.4 out of 10 Key Tracks: "Temple," "Wait For Me," "Comeback Story," "Coming Back Again"

JUST FOR BEST FRIENDS

As if it isn't enough to know that this past week's Congressional impasse and subsequent government shutdown will take a devastating toll on our country's economy and the overall well-being of thousands of individuals who can't afford another hard hit, add to that the sad fact that it will also have a negative impact on federal programs designed to regulate the humane treatment of animals in a number of facilities throughout the US. You are probably thinking, "Where's the happy side of this quagmire of a tale?" And to that question, I must answer, "There may not be

The Humane Society of the United States posted a list of animal-related departmental programs being impacted in an adverse way by the federal government's furlough of thousands of employees, leaving enormous gaps in daily operations that will lead to devastating results for the animals involved. If you are not much of a pet or animal lover but you like to eat meat, then you'll be happy to hear that this week's federal fiasco will not interrupt quality control of the meat you may purchase in your local grocery store during the shutdown. However, those of you who do care about the animals being utilized for research or exploited for personal financial gains or for entertainment purposes, will not be as pleased to hear that those animals may suffer more due to the lack of manpower typically on hand to regulate the laws meant to ensure their humane treatment.

Under the Animal Welfare Act, the U.S. Department of Agriculture is responsible for legal regulation, inspection and investigation of entity sites where animals are involved. There are currently about 12,000 such regulated sites including research facilities, commercial dog breeders and dealers, and exhibitors of exotic animals. Now that the legislators on Capital Hill have chosen to hold out on funding and have furloughed man power for daily operations apparently deemed non-essential, inspectors will no longer be on site to regulate the laws that apply, leaving the animals vulnerable to potential abuse and neglect. In short, much of the legislation that has been put into place being held in short and long-term holding treated properly, will for now be ignored by our federal government. It makes one wonder how our representatives define the word, "essential". I guess it is a relative term, subject to interpretation and personal prioritization.

The Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service is another branch of the USDA that will be out of commission until further notice, due to the recent government shutdown. I guess in the minds of those making crucial decisions on "we the people's" behalf, deem this as yet another non-essential program! This may not seem like such a big deal on a temporary basis if it didn't mean taking away the governmentappointed employees assigned to watching out for criminal activities involving illegal misuse or removal of both plant and animal wildlife located on typically-protected properties. In case your concerns are not about animal or plant welfare, it might interest you to know that this also includes monitoring diseases and other predators that can impact the health of our plants and animals, which eventually trickles down (or up, as it were) to the top of the food chain, and I am sure most of you know that means it could affect the overall health of

The Horse Protection Act is a bit of legislation mandated to ensure that Tennessee Walking Horses are not subjected to the abusive act of soring which is the intentional infliction of pain through chemicals or other substances in order to force an artificial exaggerated gait. In the absence of federal inspectors, the oversight of activities involving these beautiful beasts will also go unattended. God bless those gorgeous horses if/when the wrong kinds of owners or trainers take charge knowing there is no one there to monitor their activities.

While the Department of Interior's Bureau of Land Management reports that they will be allowed to maintain a minimum number of employees needed to care for the 50,000+ wild horses now through animal advocates' "blood, sweat facilities, unfortunately typically on-going horse or burro adoptions will be put on hold during the shutdown, adding to the already compounding problem of housing and caring for those animals at the tax> payer's expense. Now, that makes a lot of common Congressional sense, ya think?

> I guess if there can be a happy ending to this tale, it would be that certain departments of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service have been chosen among the few "essential" animalrelated programs, per the powers that be. This means that in designated natural areas, government-assigned law enforcement staff will still be on hand to patrol and prevent the illegal killing of wildlife within those defined perimeters. And, on a more personal note, another happy aspect is the fact that the wild animals residing in our national parks will finally get to enjoy a reprieve from numerous humans trekking through their habitats on a daily basis, and they'll enjoy fresher, cleaner air in the absence of emissions that would typically be caused by the vehicles those human voyeurs would use to gain access to their natural > Ultimately, the bottom line is that there is no positive bottom line that can come from the government shutdown as it pertains to our society, including the animals and wildlife. Animals would never come up with a silly scheme that might render their own species vulnerable to a downfall. Animals inherently fight for their own rights, but only in an effort to survive. There is no ego contest among the species found in the wild kingdom, other than basic survival skills instilled in them by their maker. The chaos causing an uproar among we humans in the US today, is indeed unique to our species. I wish we could take more seriously the concept of learning from the other species with whom we share our planet. I encourage my fellow humans to let your inner instincts help guide you through the process of life. Stop listening to people who may wish to control your mind. Think critically and independently. Exercise the brain muscles you were given at birth and let your heart guide you in a more positive direction, just as the animals do.

WHAT'S ON 98

September 30 - October 6

The best musical movies releases the tensions of the day. The positive, up-beat, feelings from the best musical movies make you want to dance, sing and celebrate life.

The musical film genre is unique from all the other film genres in that the characters portray the plot and message of the film with singing and dancing, rather than using speaking and acting to portray the film's message. This genre is fun and different and offers a fresh spin on the usual film genres.

The first musical films ever produced were released in the 1920s-right after having sound in films was made possible. These early musical films often featured live bands, vocalists, and dancers. Lee De Forest was the first producer to put out several short musical films in 1923 and 1924. These films were of the first to include audio tracks including non-diegetic and diegetic music. Some of the first musical films of the '20s were the 1927 Warner Brother's The Jazz Singer, Blue Skies, and My Mammy.

By the 1930s, the musical film genre was still getting started, but the genre still managed to put out some the best musical movies, including The Wizard of Oz, Snow White and the Seven Dwarves, and Babes in Toyland. In the 1940s, the genre was becoming more popular. Some of the popular films of this decade included The Red Shoes, Fantasia, Meet Me in St. Louis, and Yankee Doodle Dandy. By the time the 1950s rolled around, the best musical movies such as Singin' in the Rain, Gentlemen Prefer Blondes, White Christmas, and Cinderella lifted the spirits of all of us.

Only the best musical movies impacted the film making industry as well as they reflect the people, music, and events of the current day. When musicals were first made, they were cutting edge technology, compared to the silent films of the previous years. They opened up a whole new way of making films by introducing the use of sounds, singing, dancing, acting, and speaking. Musical films also reflect the current culture. The music and plots that were used in musical films of past decades usually reflected the popular music of the day, and the plots reflected the big news and important events of the day. A good example of this is Bye Bye Birdie, directed by George Sidney.

If you're looking to watch a some classic musicals but don't know where to start, here is a list of musical films from free movie websites to help get you started: Singin' In the Rain, The Sound of Music, Seven Brides for Seven Brothers, Bye Bye Birdie, Grease, The Phantom of the Opera, and Pitch Perfect.

If you haven't watched many or all of the actors listed above you are in for a real treat. After 11a.m. about every two hours a new movie will start on channel 98.

This is how the schedule works:

7-11 Youth programs and movies 11- Noon Comedy movies

1-3 Romance movies

HEALTHY LIFESTYLES

THE JOY OF YOGA BLOWING IN THE WIND

They say that this weekend we will be blowing again. In Yoga and Ayurveda (the sister science to yoga) we say that the wind is Vata. Wind is good, it keeps things blowing or moving around. It keeps us dancing, talking, questioning. But when we get too much wind - we get spacey. The wind can make us ungrounded, unfocused and depressed. If we cannot concentrate - we cannot get anything done. Getting things done gives us a sense of self and accomplishment.

In today's world everything is Vata! There are planes, trains, cars, cell phones and Twitter! Everything is moving too fast. Not to mention that as we age, well, we get a little drier in the skin and bones department. So while we want to keep moving, we need nurturing and grounding. We want to learn the secrets of living longer and feeling whole.

Your yoga practice can make a HUGE difference. A focus on the elements can bring greater balance. For example, the elements that balance wind would be Earth and Water. So bringing in the earth element can stabilize and ground you. The water element can hydrate and nourish you. A flow-y water like practice can counter that fast-paced wind but keep you moving and happy. Forward folds are a great way to bring in earth. Balancing with your gaze fixed on a spot on the floor can help too. What we want is calm and steady. So we flow a little and then stabilize. Easy right?

The idea is not to get rid of what we cannot change – the wind, but to balance and support what we can change - ourselves.

CONSUMERS FLOCK TO COVERED CALIFORNIA WEBSITE AND SERVICE CENTERS AS OPEN ENROLLMENT BEGINS

State's New Health Benefit Exchange Receives Thousands of Calls and Millions of Page Views on Launch Day

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — Covered California™ officials are thrilled with the strong consumer response today, the historic first day that California consumers have been able to shop for, compare and enroll in affordable health plans or apply for no-cost or low-cost Medi-Cal through the state's new health benefit marketplace.

Calls to Covered California Service Centers and visits to Covered California Web pages from enthusiastic consumers were extremely high throughout the day. Some 5 million page views were made to the Covered California website by 3 p.m. The page views averaged 5,000 per minute and peaked at 16,000 per minute.

Also by 3 p.m. Covered California had logged in some 17,000 phone calls to its Service Centers. To ensure that consumers will have positive experiences going forward, Covered California will take down the enrollment section of its website from 9 p.m. Tuesday until early Wednesday. This will help optimize performance for the millions of people expected to log in to use the enrollment function in future. Other portions of the website will remain accessible.

Today is merely the starting line, not the finish line, for those seeking health coverage through Covered California. Consumers will have the ability to enroll by Dec. 15, 2013, in order to ensure coverage starting Jan. 1, 2014, and after that they can still get insurance until open enrollment concludes on March 31, 2014.

About Covered California

Covered California is the state's marketplace for the federal Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act. Covered California was charged with creating a new health insurance marketplace in which individuals and small businesses can get access to affordable health insurance plans. With coverage starting in 2014, Covered California will help individuals determine whether they are eligible for premium assistance that will be available on a sliding-scale basis to reduce insurance costs or whether they are eligible for low-cost or no-cost Medi-Cal. Consumers can then compare health insurance plans and choose the plan that works best for their health needs and budget. Small businesses will be able to purchase competitively priced health insurance plans and offer their employees the ability to choose from an array of plans and may qualify for federal tax credits.

Covered California is an independent part of the state government whose job is to make the new market work for California's consumers. It is overseen by a five-member board appointed by the Governor and the Legislature. For more information on Covered California, please visit www.CoveredCA.com.

Special Guests: Tommy Lasorda from the LA Dodg-Benefiting City of Hope. ers and Dodger broadcaster Jorge Jarrin

Irwindale, Calif. - - This Saturday night, October 5, Irwindale Speedway will promote national Breast Cancer Awareness Month with a special night of Whelen All-American Series NAS-CAR competition benefiting the track's nearby neighbor, leading cancer research and treatment center, City of Hope.

We've pledged to contribute $2.50 for each adult ticket sold on Saturday night and I'm really hoping to be able to write a very big check payable to City of Hope at the end of the evening," said Irwindale Event Center's President/CEO Jim Cohan.

"This is the 100th anniversary of City of Hope and we are very proud to represent them and have this opportunity to celebrate the service they continue to provide to people from near and far. The idea of close teamwork yielding good results in motor racing is well-known, and the great teamwork at City of Hope is what has made them one of the nation's most respected research and treatment centers.'

Irwindale Speedway is honored to welcome to the track cancer survivors and medical staff from City of Hope. Doctor Joanne Mortimer, Director, Women's Cancer Programs and Co-Director, Breast Cancer Programs who will serve as City of Hope's Grand Marshall for the night and "give the command" for the drivers to start their engines for the first race.

Adding to the festivities on Saturday night will be a special guest appearance by Tommy Lasorda of the Los Angeles Dodgers. The Dodgers have been longtime supporters of City of Hope's causes. Lasorda will be at the Speedway to salute the organization and to greet all of the fans who love both NASCAR Home Track Racing and the LA Dodgers.

Popular Dodgers radio broadcast team member and co-host of "Dodger Talk" on AM 570 Fox Sports Los Angeles, Jorge Jarrin will emcee the pre-race ceremonies on Saturday night.

SENIOR HAPPENINGS

HELP FOR SENIORS WHO ARE DROWNING IN CLUTTER

My 67-year-old mother's house has become a cluttered mess. Since my father died a few years ago, her house is so disorganized and messy with stuff that it's becoming a hazard. I think she has a hoarding problem. What can I do? Worried Daughter Compulsive cluttering is a problem that effects up to five percent of Americans – many of whom are seniors – with problems ranging anywhere from mild messiness to hoarding so severe it may be related to a mental health disorder like obsessive-compulsive disorder (OCD). Here's what you should know, along with some tips and resources that can help your mom.

Why People Hoard

The reasons most people hoard are because they have an extreme sentimental attachment to their possessions, or they believe they might need their items at a later date. Hoarding also may be a sign that an older person is depressed, or showing early symptoms of dementia.

Common problems for seniors who live in excessive clutter are tripping, falling and breaking a bone; overlooking bills and missing medications that are hidden in the clutter; and suffering from the environmental effects of mold, mildew and dust, and even living among insects and rodents.

To get a handle on your mom's problem, the Institute for Challenging Disorganization offers a free "Clutter Hoarding Scale" that you can download off their website at challenging disorganization.org.

If you find that your mom has only a mild cluttering problem, there are a number of things you can Start by having a talk with her, respectfully expressing your concern for her health and safety, and offering your assistance to help her declutter. If she takes you up on it, most professional organizers recommend decluttering in small steps. Take one room at a time or even a portion of a room at a time. This will help prevent your mom from get-

Before you start, designate three piles or boxes for your mom's stuff - one pile is for items she wants to keep-and-put-away, another is the donate pile and the last is the throwaway pile.

You and your mom will need to determine which pile her things belong in as you work. If your mom struggles with sentimental items that she doesn't use, like her husband's old tools or mother's china for example, suggest she keep only one item for memory sake and donate the rest to family members who will use them.

You will also need to help her set up a system for organizing the kept items and new possessions.

If you need some help with the decluttering and organizing, consider hiring a professional organizer who can come to your mom's home to help you prioritize, organize and remove the clutter. The non-profit group National Association of Professional Organizers has a directory on the website at napo. net to help you locate an expert in your area.

If she has a bigger, more serious hording problem (if her daily functioning is impaired, or if she is having financial difficulties, health problems, or other issues because of her hoarding) you'll need to seek professional help. Antidepressants and/or talk therapy can help address control issues, anxiety, depression, and other feelings that may underline hoarding tendencies, and make it easier for her to

To learn more and find professional help see the OCD Foundation (ocfoundation.org/hoarding) which provides a hoarding center on their website that offers information, resources, treatments, self-help groups, and more. Also see hoardingcleanup.com, a site that has a national database of qualified resources including cleaning companies and therapists that can help.

KATIE Tse.....This and That

but this time Maria was there. Maria and accomplished. Although the story works at a different site, so I rarely get to talk with her. To my surprise, she mentioned that she saw one of my articles in the paper!

Not a lot of people know that I write. It's like being mild-mannered Katherine Tse by day, and literary Katie by night. Also, if people knew I that I write, they might act differently around me for fear they'd show up in my next story! (Just kidding. I hardly ever write about co-workers, clients, and other innocent parties; and if I do, it's always in a positive light.) I typically change people's names in my articles, but I figured that, with so many Maria's out there, why bother? It's a joke in our department that hitting a Maria!

"And "Sandy" (but not "Sandra") has always just what does a 'Rebecca' look like?" stuck out as a name for nice, somewhat she responded. He rolled his eyes, "Not shy women. No one at the meeting like a 'Maria,' that's for sure!" agreed with me on this.

We were all cracking up when Maria My vision of "Sandy" came after asked, "Do I look like a Rebecca?" watching the movie, "Rebecca." Daphne "Yes," I said, "You do! It's a strong FYI: GRANDPARENT SCAM MAKING THE ROUNDS AGAIN...

My grandmother retired to Florida after working for Western Union for many, many years. A few years before she passed away at the age of 97 in 1997, a scammer called her and said the following, "Grandma?" She replied, "Chris?" That's all that was needed for the scammer to proceed. It gave him a "legitimate" identity. The scammer, pretending to be my son told her that he was in jail and needed money ASAP. To this day, I don't know if she was a victim but I do know that until her dying day, she thought my son had been arrested. The reason I'm bringing this up again is because the scam is back...Two seniors, members of the local Senior Club, relayed tales of similar telephone calls they both received very recently. This time, there is a twist; the scammers supplied the correct name of the grandchild! Both ladies think it's information perhaps garnered from school records. The premise is same however; the "grandchild" has been arrested and needs a lot of money right now. Neither lady fell victim to the scam but the fact that is back with a vengeance makes one think it must be an extremely lucrative endeavor.

Here are some things to remember:

1) Don't fill in any blanks for the scammer.

2) Do whatever is necessary to confirm the real relatives whereabouts. Call you're your grandchild's home, school or work.

3) Don't send money unless you have verified that your relative is really in trouble. If a caller asks for your bank account number or urges you wire money for any reason, that's a good indication of a scam. Cons prefer wire transfers because they are fast, there are transfer agents in most communities and funds can be picked up in multiple locations. (bothell-reporter.com)

HELPFUL HINT: To make homemade flower arrangements look like they came from the florist, no need to spend money on floral foam or a floral frog. Just secure strips of transparent tape in a crisscross pattern at the mouth of the vase and place flowers in the grid. The tape holds the flowers in place, saving you time and money.

FOR YOUR FUNNY BONE - On a business trip, my father approached the security check-point at the airport. The National Guard shift was rotating and a guard, in full uniform, was in line in front of him. As with everybody else, the soldier was ordered to go through the metal detector. Before doing so, he handed his M-16 rifle to security personnel along with other items such as handcuffs and a flashlight. Still the alarm sounded when he walked through. Further inspection revealed a Swiss army knife inside one of his pockets. "Sorry, sir," security said to the soldier, "but this item is prohibited." Taking the knife away, the airport worker then handed him back the M-16.

The World Around Us

Looking with Bob Eklund MARTIAN IGNEOUS ROCK IS SURPRISINGLY EARTH-LIKE

During the nearly 14 months that it has spent on the red planet, Curiosity, the Mars Science Laboratory (MSL) rover, has scooped soil, drilled rocks, and analyzed samples by exposing them to laser beams, X-rays, and alpha particles using the most sophisticated suite of scientific instruments ever deployed on another planet. One result of this effort was evidence that ancient Mars could have supported microbial life.

But Curiosity is far more than a one-trick rover, and in a paper published today in the journal Science [http://www.sciencemag.org/content/341/6153/1239463], a team of MSL scientists reports its analysis of a surprisingly Earth-like Martian rock that offers new insight into the history of Mars's interior and suggests parts of the red planet may be more like our own than we knew.

The paper—whose lead author is Edward Stolper, Caltech's William E. Leonhard Professor of Geology, provost, and interim president—examines in detail a 50-centimeter-tall pyramid-shaped rock named "Jake M" (after MSL surface operations systems chief engineer Jacob "Jake" Matijevic, who passed away two weeks after Curiosity's landing).

The rock was encountered by Curiosity a few weeks after it landed, during its slow drive across Gale Crater on the way toward the crater's central peak, Mount Sharp. Visual inspection of the dark gray rock suggested that it was probably a fine-grained basaltic igneous rock formed by the crystallization of magma near the planet's surface. The absence of obvious mineral grains on its essentially dust-free surface further suggested that it would have a relatively uniform (i.e., homogeneous) chemical composition.

For that reason, MSL's scientists decided it would be a good test case for comparing the results obtained by two of the rover's scientific instruments, the Alpha Particle X-ray Spectrometer (APXS) and ChemCam, both of which are used to measure the chemical compositions of rocks, sediments, and minerals.

However, the APXS came up with some unanticipated results. Far from being similar in its chemical composition to the many Martian igneous rocks analyzed by the Spirit and Opportunity rovers on the surface of Mars or to Martian meteorites found on Earth, Jake M is highly enriched in sodium and potassium, making it chemically alkaline.

Although Jake M is very different from known Martian rocks, Stolper and colleagues realized that it is very similar in its chemical composition to a relatively rare type of terrestrial igneous rock, known as a mugearite, which is typically found on ocean islands and in continental rift zones.

"We realized right away that although nothing like it had ever been found on Mars, Jake M is similar in composition to terrestrial mugearites, which although uncommon are very well known to igneous petrologists who study volcanic rocks on Earth," Stolper says. "In fact, if this rock were found on Earth, we would be hard pressed, based on its elemental composition, to tell it was not an Earth rock."

THE MARKET WHERE YOU MOVE

As we see some market recovery, the scales become a little more balanced be-tween buyers and sellers. However, if you're a buyer moving out of the area, local conditions here aren't relevant. You need to investigate whether it's still a strong buyer's market in the area where you are relocating.

If long listing times and price reductions are prevalent, then you have the luxu-ry of exercising some of the following options when you search and eventually make an offer. First of all, you needn't jump at the first suitable home you find, because inventory will be high and price reductions open to

When you finally decide to make an offer, play the time card to your ad-vantage, asking for a speedy seller response, perhaps within 24 hours. Pres-sure to accept is one thing, but do allow a reasonable amount of time for in-spections, repairs, etc. Speaking of which, don't be shy about stipulating major repairs in your offer, and the inclusion of a "home warranty" policy for the first year.

Offer below asking price, but don't lowball and insult the seller. You can al-ways reject their counteroffer in a strong buyer's market, as long as you can accept the risk and move on to the next property. Have your representative assemble a good selection of suitable properties and take one step at a time!

THE SUMMER IN MY REARVIEW MIRROR

I awoke last Tuesday with a Now I know. strange feeling I had missed something. Not only that, but I was shivering like a polar bear without his pajamas. I knew something was wrong, but to put my finger on it was just too early in the morning for me. I like starting my days slowly. At my age just getting up is quite an accomplishment.

I felt my forehead to see if I had a fever. I found my forehead easily enough, just above my eyes, but I can never tell if I am hot, cold or lukewarm.

The condition progressed to such a degree I had to swallow my pride and inquiry of the Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage. She can look at me and tell me if I am sick or not. Usually, I'm sick.

So I approached her and said, "Am I sick or what?" Quick as a wink she said, "Off the top of my head I would say you are 'or what."

And this was just the beginning of my day.
Then my wife looked at me and said, "Why do you ask?

So I explained to her about the feeling I had that something was missing and on top of that, I could not stop shivering. She felt my forehead to see if I had a fever, and I did not. When she turned her back on me, I was tempted to stick out my tongue and say "AHH."

"Well," she said, "you're not sick and I don't understand how you could be cold."

to shiver more. "It looks like it's cold out there," I complained.

My wife looked at me with one of those looks that every husband knows and fears, and said, "It should be cold outside, it's winter, for Pete's sake.

"Winter? What happened to summer?"
"Oh you silly boy," my wife chuckled, "summer's over and winter's brewing."

I just stared out the window at the bleakness of the morning, wondering where in the world summer went. At the moment, it did not seem possible to me that summer was over. Is not that the way things go? Just as soon as you get used to something, it is over.

I suppose it is because a person becomes so busy doing the mundane daily things he fails to consider the whole picture. If you do not enjoy what you are doing right now, one day you will look back and wonder where in the world it disappeared.

quite a career. I remember when I was young the old folks used to say, "I remember the good old days." I've often wondered what they were talking about.

When I was young, my whole life was looking forward, but now that I am old, I spend part of my time looking at the rearview mirror. That is the wonderful advantage of getting older. When you are roung, you do not have anything to look back to.

The older you get the more you have to look back on. I have a few things I reflect on. One of these is the memories I have made throughout the years. Often when my wife and I are sitting together one of us will say, "Do you remember when...?" Then one of us will recite a wonderful memory from the past and have a good laugh together. Maybe this is why older people laugh so much. I know it is why I laugh a lot.

One of the wonderful things about a person's memory is that it is personal. I will not say that I enhance my memories (of course I do) but I will not confess to it. If it is my memory, I should be able to recite it any which way I please. I particularly enjoy those memories that I share with no one else. Because then, I have the freedom to remember it any which way I please.

I once listened to a very old woman share memories of her childhood. At the time, she was in her early 90s. As I drove away from listening to her I thought to myself, I wonder how much of those memories were really true. Then again, they were her memories not mine. Who am I to judge?

Also in looking back, there are those things we I looked aimlessly out the window and began refer to as regrets. I suppose everybody tries to live in such a way to keep regrets to a minimum. I have a long list of things I regret doing or saying or not doing or not saying.

The one category of regrets I have is those things that I have done that my wife knows about. Talk about memory?

This brings up the difference between a husband and a wife. A husband cannot remember anything and his wife cannot forget anything. But between the two, they lick the platter clean.

The apostle Paul practiced the fine art of forgetting. He wrote, "Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended: but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus." (Philippians 3:13-14 KJV). My rearview mirror is full and the temptation is At my age, it seems that looking back has become to focus solely on them, thus missing the scenery in

HOOP IT UP BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT SLAMS INTO THE CITY OF PASADENA OCTOBER 4-6,

La Salle High School to host the event with the Pasadena Community Health Fair

Pasadena, September 9, 2013-The La Salle Board of Regents is proud to announce that the Hoop It Up Basketball Tournament is returning to Southern California after a ten year absence. Established in 1989 by the National Basketball Association, Hoop It Up is the nation's largest three-on-three outdoor street basketball competition. Over the years, more than 500,000 players have competed in the games. The tournament is designed to promote both community and fitness, and will be open to youths, teens and adults, with an expected participation of 400 to 500 players with hundreds more in attendance. The weekend's events will be held at the La Salle High School Campus and will also feature a 3 point shooting contest and slam dunk contest on Saturday, October 5th.

As part of the ongoing efforts to promote fitness, health, and well-being in the community at large, La Salle High School will also host the inaugural Pasadena Community Health Fair during the Hoop It Up Tournament on October 5th from 9am to 4pm on the La Salle campus. This supporting Community Health Fair will be free to all participants thanks to the generosity of the event sponsors Methodist Hospital of Arcadia, Merrill Lynch, East West Bank, and Dick's Sporting Goods.

last week's article, I had been diagnosed as having suffered a silent heart attack and was scheduled for an angiogram on Wednesday. Well, it was all a false alarm. The machines were wrong; I suffered no heart attack -although I still have symptoms associated with atrial fibulation, congestive heart failure, hypertension, diabetes - oh there are more, but who cares? The real question facing me is what I am going to do with the rest of my life for however long I might be around. This same question faces all of us and I wonder how many of us give it much thought. I suppose there is another important question which concerns what to do after death. I never give this question much thought, as I am a kind of life-long atheist who has always accepted a conclusion that death is most like the turning out of lights-except that the lights can't be turned on again.

I haven't changed my mind about this belief, but I was surprised at the number of friends, relatives, and acquaintances who let me know they were praying for me. I kind of liked the idea and now that things have turned out well, or better than I expected, I feel kind of strange about the whole thing. FIRST OF ALL, Thank you one and all for your prayers. It feels good to know that people have taken the time to think about me and direct meant when he advised everyone to just positive energy towards me. (Why is it easier for me to accept vague terms like positive energy when I so fight the idea of prayers affecting physical outcomes?)

I know there is an infinite amount of writing about the merits of the Scientific View and the Religious or Spiritual View Different religions talk about hierarchical levels of spiritual attainment and understanding while science somewhat pretentiously, I think, pretends to know all the answers when it does not even know how to formulate the right questions. The militant atheist (I love that term) Richard Dawkins is speaking at Cal Tech in the near future but his hard-line position does not the opportunity by I don't know Whom interest me very much. Really, I don't to enjoy this life that was miraculously care what people say they believe—it's how they live their life that interests me.

Over the weekend I had an interesting conversation with the relative of a German Scientist who had worked for away

Well, at least I'm still Hitler and then was brought to the United nctioning, which is States to work for NASA. For those of you who weren't around at the time, the Arms Race was contemporaneously described as a battle between the American German Scientists and the Russian German Scientist. Tom Lehrer wrote a wonderful little ditty describing Werner Von Braun, formerly the head of Hitler's Rocket Program who later became the Director of NASA. The ditty

> You too can become a big hero By Learning to Count Backwards to Zero

I just shoot the Rockets up Who Cares Where They Come Down And I'm Learning Chinese Says Werner von Braun

I questioned a relative, a Scientist herself, about this attitude and she took some time to explain things to me. She said that when you are a research scientist trying to discover or create some solution that the world has never seen before, it erases almost everything else in your life. Practically, as an important researcher, you are well taken care of with food, a roof over your head, medical care, and whatever else you need. So what's not to

So is that the answer to all problems? Find some field that best utilizes your talents; learn all you can about it, cultivate their own gardens? Well, I hope Over the weekend my wife was driving along Huntington and we saw a car almost run over a little black dog. The driver stopped, got out of his car, put the dog on the sidewalk, returned to his car and took off. Almost immediately the dog went back into the street and almost got hit by another car. My wife stopped our car and my son picked up the dog and put him in our car. We looked at the dog's collar, called the owner, and delivered the dog to its home.

I felt great about participating in this dog's rescue. It felt something like prayer, I think and I am glad to have been given the opportunity by I don't know Whom given to me. I hope our Congressmen can reach out and do whatever else they are supposed to be doing without dropping bombs on people and walking

My Turn

ANOTHER BAD JOKE FOR CALIFORNIA'S YOUTH, POOR AND HOMELESS FROM JERRY BROWN!

I remember my first "real" job working at Richfield gas station on the corner of Lincoln Avenue and Orange Grove Boulevard in Pasadena. It was in the summer of 1963, just after my 16th birthday. I remember I earned minimum wage -- a whopping $1.25 an hour! And I was glad to get it. A $1.25 an hour job working 4 hours a day 5 days a week after taxes and Social Security was a cool $20.00 a week, or a $80.00 a month. Compared to delivering newspapers, mowing lawns or washing cars this was real dough.

This kind of bread that could take you places, real places. You could take your favorite girl to a movie on Saturday night for $.85 each to one of the ornate 20s-style movie houses still in business back then in Pasadena. Does anybody remember the Crown? It was two blocks west of City Hall and still had an orchestra area up front, left over from the silent era.

And then you could catch a bite at Bob's Big Boy Drive-in on East Colorado Blvd. It was on every teenager's itinerary of places to go after a date, football game, party, you name it. Bob's was definitely da place to hang out with friends, or to make new friends until curfew called it a night.

You could also pay the $1.00 admission into the old Pasadena Civic Auditorium to hang out with your buddies and dance the night away with some of the hottest chicks in Southern California to the electric tunes of the "King of the Surf Guitar," Dick Dale and the Del Tones.

A car and a full tank of gas gave my generation the freedom to go anywhere, almost anytime, and for us surfers taking a well-earned surf break from the boredom of high school was like a much needed student mental health day. A day at the beach surfing with your surf buds was reinvigorating and sure beat the heck of English class. Weekends were different because our parents understood our love of the sport.

Ditching school was another thing. Absence notes had to be forged (usually by a girl whose handwriting was more likely to pass as your mom's). Extra care had to be taken to get home at the same time you would have arrived had you gone to school. And then there was always the need for a ready excuse for a sunburn. ("Mom, they couldn't get a sub for English so we had two periods of P.E. today!)

$1.25 was worth a whole lot more in 1963. For example, a new 1963 Ford Country Squire Station Wagon was $3,018; the price of a 17C1 ticket (behind the Dodger dugout) to the fourth game of the shut by the Dodgers over the Yankees at the 1963 World Series was $12.00; And World Series refreshments were even cheaper: Cokes were $.15, Popcorn was $.25 buttered to the max, and a Dodger Dog was $.45! And regular gasoline was $.30 a gallon!

From 1963, when California's minimum wage was $1.25 an hour until 2013 when it is $8.00 an hour is a 50-year raise of $6.75, or $.14 a year increase! And raising it to $10.00 an hour by 2016 is a bad joke! Let's see $8.75 divided by 53 years comes to about $.17 a year increase -- a $.03 a year more by 2016! Is it any wonder why so many "kids" live at home well into their 30s, and why there are some many more working poor and homeless people living on our

Come on Jerry, California can do better than that, much better. Drop this whole bogus debate over minimum wage. It's high time for you to be a leader. Show some political backbone and use the bully pulpit of the Governor's Office to get Californians discussing something that can really help our youth, the poor and the homeless -- a minimum living wage!

HOWARD Hays As I See It

"The Republican budget . . . would repeal the guarantee of health care for poor children, people with disabilities, pregnant women, and older Americans . . . deny quality health coverage to nearly eight million people, deny meaningful health care to over a million people with disabilities, even to 150,000 veterans . . . "President Bill Clinton - December, 1995

"This shutdown is about rolling back our efforts to provide health insurance to folks who don't have it. This, more than anything else, seems to be what the Republican Party stands for these days." President Barack but also eighteen years ago prior to our last government shutdown. The difference is that then Republicans were insisting on cutting $163 billion from Medicaid to address the budget deficit (which was on track to being eliminated by the end of Clinton's term, anyway). Today, it has nothing to do with government spending or the (already declining) deficit. It's all about the determination of those bankrolling House tea-baggers to cripple the Affordable Care Act – with millions having already applied on its roll-out last Tuesday (5 million logging into Covered California by 3PM on its first

As for the budget, the CBO informed House Speaker John Boehner (R-OH) last July that eliminating the ACA would add $109 billion to the deficit through 2022. Democrats had already acceded to Republican demands to maintain the recovery-stalling sequester cuts that kicked in last March. (Remember the "fiscal cliff"?) The CBO says these cuts will take 1.2% off the GDP through the end of next year, and cost 1.6 million jobs. Democrats went along anyway, wanting a bill that could pass both houses. But it wasn't enough - because it didn't gut the ACA. There's scoffing on the right that, aside from inconveniencing some tourists, a government shutdown has no real effect – and might even be a good thing. The impact is real, though, on 800,000 furloughed federal workers, with $1 billion a week in lost pay taken from the economy (and this time they're unlikely to be reimbursed). Courts will start sending home workers if the shutdown lasts another couple weeks. Kids with cancer will be turned away from clinical research projects at the NIH. The ability of the Center for Disease Control to detect and respond to outbreaks will be

The Food and Drug Administration suspend safety inspections. Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants and Children (WIC) could Thousands of kids will be close down. turned away from Head Start programs. The IRS will suspend audits and close down help lines. The FHA won't be backing new home loans (it now backs a third of them), and no more government-backed loans to small businesses. OSHA will halt workplace inspections. Veterans appealing denials of disability benefits will have to wait. The EPA can't proceed with the clean-up of two-thirds of the Superfund sites, and would "effectively shut down."

Testifying Wednesday before the Senate Judiciary Committee, Director of National Intelligence James Clapper warned that with 70% of NSA personnel on furlough, The damage will be insidious . . . This is a dreamland for foreign intelligence services". Republicans respond that it's not their

Not just "these days", Senators would "negotiate", they might work a deal not only on the ACA but on other items from their wish list: privatizing Medicare, expanded oil drilling offshore and on public lands, defunding Planned Parenthood and allowing employers to decide what preventive care coverage women can be offered, gutting Dodd-Frank Wall Street reforms, etc.

Senate Budget Committee chair Sen. Patty Murray (D-WA) reminds that Democrats asked Republicans eighteen times over the past six months to appoint members to a conference committee to work out differences on the budget, and each time Republican leaders refused. These are the folks who likened negotiation and compromise with the president and Democrats to capitulation and treason. Now, as the government was shutting down and they were suddenly calling for negotiations, Sen. Murray responded, ". . we're not going to do it with a gun to our head that says we're shutting government down and we're going to conference over a short little six-week" continuing resolution.

Most in Congress, both Republicans and Democrats, "get it". If the "clean" resolution leaving the ACA alone and simply keeping the government open were given a vote in the Republican-controlled House, it would pass. The problem is that the tea-baggers won't let House Speaker Boehner bring it to the floor.

These are the progeny of the Karl Rove engineered gerrymandering of districts coming out of the 2010 census - safe for Republicans, except for those showing a willingness to "compromise" or a desire to actually "govern". There are eighty of them over 75% white males. They comprise a third of House Republicans, and 18% of all house members. Conservative columnist Charles Krauthammer calls them the "suicide caucus". Their constituency comprises 18% of our nation's population, yet they're positioned to hold our nation hostage.

House Speaker Boehner would love to get this "clean" resolution passed, get the government running again, and tackle the ACA some other day. He's afraid, though, that if he were to send it to the floor in defiance of the tea-baggers, they have enough influence to dump him and anoint a replacement Speaker more to their liking. His own job is more important to him than the jobs of those 800,000 furloughed workers.

As reality sets in, more grown-up Republicans are defecting from the sphere of the "suicide caucus" and putting the nation's interest above the interests of The Heritage Foundation and the Koch Brothers. The real test will come in a couple weeks when the tea-baggers threaten to smear the full faith and credit of the United States unless they get their way - with consequences exponentially more serious than the current shutdown, both here and abroad. Then we'll truly see "what the Republican party stands for these fault. If only the president and Democratic

ARE CONSERVATIVES CRAZY?

Since we're now in the midst of a government slim down, let's address that issue first. I've purposely used the term "slim down" instead of the more popular and alarmist phrase, "shut down" because it's more accurate. Not even the most radical leftie can argue that the government has shut down. By definition, all essential services relating to public health, safety, national defense, social security, Medicare, etc. are operating and being funded at full levels. What's being cut back are those services deemed nonessential, and they're being tailored to levels that will help make expenditures come closer to available revenues. In a sense, it's a forced balancing of the public budget. That's not a bad thing in its won right.

Beyond the theory (and it's a pretty good theory that we ought not spend more than we bring in), let's consider the practical affects of the slim down. The world won't end, the economy won't crater, and gramma won't have to fight the cat for food. If you don't believe me, or your own eyes (we are still functioning as a society right now), let the historical record inform your opinion.

This is the 18th time the federal government has been slimmed down due to an impasse between the Congress and the President. President Carter actually went through 5 (in only 4 years), one lasting two full weeks; President Reagan put up with 8 of them; and President Clinton actually holds the record for the longest one at three weeks.

We went through all 17 of these. In total, they encompassed 110 days, and there was a slight recession during 6 of those days. Considering the fact that we've been in a recession 20% of the time from 1976 to the present, it's clear that government slim downs don't cause recessions or the end of civilization as we know it. There's an interesting element to the press reaction to these. President Reagan actually "blinked" during one of the threatened shut downs. He actually addressed the nation to explain that he was going accept the several thousand page budget presented by Congress even though he thought it a terrible idea. He even had all the pages stacked up on his desk to give a visual. The reason he blinked and signed this budget is partly in response to the press coverage which portrayed him as the bad guy even though it was the Congress which threatened to let the government shut down. Somehow when it's a Democratic Congress refusing to negotiate, it's the Republican president's fault, while today it's the Republican Congress's fault when the Democractic president won't negotiate. Rule one for those in journalism: it's always the Republican's fault.

So, let's consider what those "wascally 'publicans" are up to. Again, I don't know what Republican leadership would like to do because there is some dissention there. It's been conservatives in the party who have driven this process forward and gained enough votes in the Republican caucus to push forward the radical idea that we have to get serious about balancing this budget. Obamacare isn't just a poorly crafted assault on the nation's healthcare system, which, by the way, has garnered overwhelming public opposition. That should be more than enough to justify elected representatives in their efforts to get this thing revised. Obamacare is also a massive new entitlement program. When the subsidies kick in, the amount of extra government spending has been projected to top another $1 trillion. No matter how good you think this program is going to be, you have to find some other programs to cut in order to move resources to this new program. We can't fund everything.

Making the hard calls – deciding which programs to fund and which programs to cut – is what the Congress is supposed to do. All of us have to balance our budgets by trimming in some areas in order to spend in others. The Liberals who just want to keep spending more don't understand we're at the end of the rope.

At some point, this impasse will be solved. Let's hope that we're witnessing the early stages of massive entitlement reform so that the programs which are important and actually work can be funded but the ones that don't work, or are obsolete, can finally be shuttered.
