THE HORN IS BACK!

....And no one is happier about it than this man!

There are so many historic icons in Sierra Madre and the Sierra Madre Emergency Horn is certainly one of them. Currently housed in the Montecito parking lot at the corner of Baldwin Ave. and Montecito Ave., it is touted as being the most effective 'warning' system there is. That is, of course, according to old timers like former Mayor George Maurer and his coffee crew.

A very loud horn, when functioning, it that something is very wrong. When power is out, and all else fails, the horn can get the job done.

This seemingly magical device is actually, according to James Carlson of the city of Sierra Madre, "..a radio frequency controlled signal originally used for alerting volunteer members of the Department to the existence and location of a fire. The horn was previously used as a secondary alerting system, as required by the NFPA and ISO. With the ability to be heard over the entirety of the 3.2 square miles of the City of Sierra Madre, the horn has faced some controversy since its original installation in 1915 due to the volume and frequency of the alerts.

Over the course of the horn's nearly 100 year history, the horn was tested daily at 12:00 noon in accordance with NFPA 3-1.5.2.2 requiring all outside devices, radio, telephone, or other means for alerting volunteer and off-duty fire fighters to be tested once a day. This practice was briefly discontinued in 1999, however, following community support for the tradition (lead in part by Sierra Madre City College's sale of t-shirts reading "Save Our Horn... Blow Me Daily") testing was once again reinstated until late in the 2000s. In 2008 the Kiwanis Club with former Mayor George Maurer leading the charge, approached City Council with the intention to reactivate the horn after a period of disuse. The horn has recently been repaired, and it is intended that the horn will be used as an emergency notification system in the event of disaster."

On Wednesday, October 1st at 2:00 pm. The Horn will be officially tested. It is a very effective emergency alert because it is so loud there is no section of the city in which it cannot be heard. Its' reinstatement is intended to interface with the city's Emergency Radio Station, 1630AM in the event of a disaster. When residents hear the horn, they will know to turn to the station or SMTV3 for further instructions.

Thank you George for your persistence in getting this valuable tool emergency warning system back in action!

SIERRA MADRE POLICE TAKING BACK UNWANTED PRESCRIPTION DRUGS SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 27th

[SIERRA MADRE, CA] - On cabinets are highly susceptible to September 27 from 10 a.m. to diversion, misuse, and abuse. Rates p.m. the Sierra Madre Police Department and the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) will give the public its ninth opportunity in four years to prevent pill abuse and theft by ridding their homes of potentially dangerous expired, unused, and unwanted prescription drugs. Bring your pills for disposal to the Police Department Lobby at 242 W. Sierra Madre Blvd. (The DEA cannot accept liquids or needles or sharps, only pills or patches.) The service is free and anonymous, no questions asked.

Last April, Americans turned in 390 tons (over 780,000 pounds) of prescription drugs at nearly 6,100 sites operated by the DEA and more than 4,400 of its state and local law enforcement partners. When those results are combined with what was collected in its eight previous Take Back events, DEA and its partners have taken in over 4.1 million pounds—more than 2,100 tons—of of prescription drug abuse in the U.S. are alarmingly high, as are the number of accidental poisonings and overdoses due to these drugs. Studies show that a majority of abused prescription drugs are obtained from family and friends, including from the home medicine cabinet. In addition, Americans are now advised that their usual methods for disposing of unused medicines—flushing them down the toilet or throwing them in the trash—both pose potential safety and health hazards.

DEA is in the process of approving new regulations that implement the Safe and Responsible Drug Disposal Act of 2010, which amends the Controlled Substances Act to allow an "ultimate user" (that is, a patient or their family member or pet owner) of controlled substance medications to dispose of them by delivering them to entities authorized by the Attorney General to accept them. The Act also allows the Attorney General to authorize long term care facilities to dispose

CITY TO BEGIN USING ADDITIVES TO REDUCE 'BROWN' WATER

Since Sierra Madre began importing water, residents have had an ongoing problem with brown, rust colored water. This continues to occur in various parts of the city.

The 'brown water' has been reported in homes with galvanized pipes as well as those with copper pipes. The cause has been deemed to be the rust that is released by the interaction of the imported water on the city's water delivery system. It is now believed to be generated as the water travels through the city's worn infrastructure. This was not a problem prior to the importation of water, as Sierra Madre well water contained no chemicals that would trigger such a reaction. In an effort to resolve this problem (corrosion control), review the City's existing nitrification action plan, and other water concerns, Dr. Helene Baribeau of Baribeau Environmental Engineering was awarded a professional services contract in June to study the situation and see what could be done. (http:// mtnviewsnews.com/v08/htm/ n25/index.htm)

Last month Dr. Baribeau completed an Interim Corrosion Control Plan and it was presented to the city council on September 9th by Public Works Director Bruce Inman. The plan calls for the infusion of Zinc Orthophosphate into the water system before it leaves for distribution to households. By doing so, it is hoped that a liner will form in the pipes preventing corrosion that is then transported to individual households. The council approved moving forward with the recommendations contingent upon LA County Health Department approval.

VOLUME 8 NO. 39

Inman confirmed in a telephone interview on Friday that there are still many old steel pipes in the city's system that do rust. This is not the case with cement pipes and may be the reason that some areas of the town aren't experiencing discolored water.

He also explained that the orthophosphate will "overtime form a microscopic coating to keep rust from being released. Discoloration from corrosion is not a problem unique to Sierra Madre. Other cities, use orthophosphate for that very reason, said Inman.

Approval has been received from the county to use the chemicals as described in Dr. Baribeau's plan. During the council meeting, she appeared via Skype to assist Inman with the presentation.

The chemically enhanced water will begin distribution on Monday. As for health concerns, Inman says the amount of orthophosphate being used will do no harm, nor distort the taste of the water when ingested.

Why do water systems add phosphate to drinking water? What are the health effects of drinking water containing phosphates?

The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has issued a report on the toxicology of inorganic phosphates as food ingredients. The FDA considers phosphates as a food additive to be "generally recognized as safe." This report is available at: www. elsevier.com/locate/foodchemtox.

WALKING SIERRA MADRE...The Social Side By Deanne Davis

St. Rita's Student Scarecrows

"Scarecrows, corn rows, pumpkins on the vine, Leaves curl, wind swirls...Fall is right on time!"

Tuesday, 6:00 a.m. - 63 degrees. Perfect weather to walk Sierra Madre. Walking partner, John, in his USC ball cap, me in my hole-y tennies, set off to see what's going on downtown. Lots! Wow! The Scarecrow Festival is taking hold all over Sierra Madre. If you don't do anything else this week, go look at the one in the window at Leonora Moss. It's made out of plant pots of various sizes, assorted plants and moss, and it's enormous! They've also got some fabulous jeweled spiders that I don't think I can live without. Take a look!

St. Rita's has student scarecrows in their front

Festival coming up in less than a month! Creative Arts Group's scarecrow is busily working away at a potter's wheel and if you haven't seen Lew Watanabe's beautiful sculpture-fountain piece, "Antiquity" in front of their building, take time to stop and enjoy a moment

Webb-Martin Realtors has a super scarecrow in their window, Sierra Juice has been invaded by an enormous spider on their umbrella and the guys at Haynes & Oakley, Architects at the

Neighbor Lisa Cardella (Ixora Florist) has a pumpkin-headed, fashionably dressed scarecrow in front of her house and one of our neighbors on the south side of Grandview, east of Auburn, has one, too! Scarecrow competition is heating up, folks, and it's such fun to see these guys all around town.

Something exciting is going on at the former Yellow Bus on Baldwin, the inside has been peeled down to foundation stuff! The Kensington is starting to look like a really beautiful place, isn't it! Lot of stuff to put in our calendars, too: The Wine, Rhythm & Brews Walk is October 4th, where we walk all over town and see what our local merchants are doing; the 3rd Annual Fall Family Festival at Bethany Christian School is October 11th; Zugo's Café is doing crepes Creative Arts Potter Scarecrow

Tuesday, 8:00 a.m. - a bit hotter and the town is controlled chaos with parents bringing their backpack laden sweeties to all our local schools. The highlight of our day is seeing all those excited little people running to meet the day. Hope your day is filled with excitement and wonder, too. Don't forget to watch for scarecrows!

SIERRA MADRI

Sierra Madre-Pasadena:

Remembrance

Edward "Eddie" Richmond Clare, III September 23, 1946 – August 27, 2014

Just shy of his 68th birthday, Eddie Clare departed this suddenly in his Sierra Madre home. The owner of Ed Clare's Electric, founded in 1984, he was well known, loved and admired throughout the community.

Born and reared in Pasadena, California, he lived in Sierra Madre for 33 years. He attended Hamilton Elementary, Wilson Junior High and Pasadena High School. He received a Bachelor of Arts Degree and Teaching Credential from the University of California - Long Beach. He also served in the United States Army during the Viet Nam war and was an active member of Sierra Madre's VFW 3208. One of his most cherished projects was the Veterans Wall in Memorial Park. Ed was often seen encouraging families to buy a brick and/or post their veteran's picture on the monument. He was also a member of the Sierra Madre Kiwanis Club and a supporter of Habitat for Humanity, Amnesty International, Wounded Warriors and Soldiers Angels.

Ed taught school for a while at the very junior high school where he was a rambunctious young man He also worked for Johnson Controls and went on to start Ed Clare's Electric in 1984.

The most important thing in Ed's life however, was his family. After meeting Julie while in junior high, he knew they were destined for each other and the couple was married on February 1, 1969. They brought into this world two children, Paul Clare and his wife Julie of Canyon Lake, Ca., and Danielle Clare Signorelli and her husband Alan from Vista, California. The apple of Ed's eye however, was his grandson, Jake Signorelli.

In addition to his wife of 45 years, Julie, and immediate family, Ed is also survived by a host of friends and relatives including Sister in Laws Dale, Jane (and husband Chip), and Julie Eichner; nieces and nephews Taylor Brown, Aaron Brown, Lindsey Cook, Kellie Plummer and Shannon Eichner; Cousins Connie Whitaker, Debbie Vogts and Genie Hunt. He was preceded in death by his parents, Edward and Martha Clare and sister, Coleen Lohullier.

Services will be held on Friday, October 3, 2014 at the First United Methodist Church, 500 E. Colorado Blvd., Pasadena, Pastor Sandra Olewine Officiating. Internment will be at Mountain View Cemetery.

stabilization of 1,065 objects. "Our grants are highly competitive." said IMLS Director Susan H. Hildreth. "Receiving a grant from IMLS is significant achievement, and we congratulate USC Pacific Asia Museum for being among the 2014 IMLS museum grantees."

IMLS museum grants support a wide variety of projects that create learning strengthen experiences, community communities, care for collections and provide broad public access.

IMLS has supported the museum's project to significantly improve the collections storage since 2009. In 2009-2011, the museum stabilized its collection of ceramics and other threedimensional works in its lower-level storage facility. In 2012-2014 the museum provided new seismic mounts for all three-dimensional works of art on display in the permanent collection galleries, securing freestanding cases against seismic activity and reinforcing glass shelving with Plexiglas.

"This project will benefit the museum, its audiences and the field by providing optimal storage conditions to protect and preserve the museum's significant historical, cultural and artistic legacy benefiting future generations," said USC PAM Director Christina Yu Yu, PhD.

25th Annual Crystal Ball To Honor Mike and Christine Antonovich

By Joan Schmidt

On October 11, Methodist Hospital of Arcadia will hold its 25th annual Crystal Ball. To celebrate its Silver Anniversary, legendary singer/songwriter Paul Anka will once again thrill guests with his timeless musical style. Former Arcadia City Mayor Peter Amundson once told me what a great entertainer Paul Anka was. This was after I told Peter, "You're probably too young to remember him") Anka's repertoire of songs is unmatched. I had never realized what a great songwriter he was for other artists too! Those attending the Crystal Ball surely will leave memorized by his talent.

Besides this great performer, there are two special people dear to my heart being honored- Christine and Mike Antonovich. Christine is a wonderful wife and mother, a successful actress and businesswoman. When they attended the annual Mormon Patriotic Concert a few years ago, fans of the actress Christine, flocked to her after the concert! But there is so much more to this warm caring woman. She is a member of the Methodist Hospital Foundation Board of Directors, a key player on the Crystal Ball Committee and a staunch supporter of many other hospital endeavors and activities. Christine feels that "Only through dedicated hard work by many, can a community hospital truly become outstanding. One of the great joys during my association with Methodist Hospital has been working alongside so many wonderful people from throughout the community. People who understand that events such as the Crystal Ball are what make the care we provide so great."

Mike Antonovich has served the two million residents of Los Angeles County's Fifth District since 1980. For the ten years I served on the Monrovia-Arcadia Duarte Town Council, Mike was inundated with MANY letters of concerns/issues that I wrote pertaining to our community. I have a huge binder of letters from Public Works, LA County Parks and Rec, Traffic and Lighting, Metro...the list goes on. Mike would refer my letter to the appropriate agency who would contact me with a solution. During his 30 years as County Supervisor, he has been committed to public safety, effective and responsive representation and support for small business, out County's foster children, seniors, veterans and even animals!.

Recently, there was a Media Reception for the Crystal Ball. In addition to Mike and Christine, Crystal Ball Co-chair Ron Okum, Methodist Hospital President/CEO Dan Ausman, Methodist Hospital Foundation President Michael Driebe and Dr. Bala Chandrasekhar were present. Both Ausman and Driebe praised Christine and Mike for their generosity, time spent and great support of Methodist Hospital over the years.

The proceeds of this year's Crystal Ball will go to support the creation of Mthodist Hospital's new rehabilitation unit. When finished in 2016, the all-new unit will occupy the entire third floor of the Berger Tower with sweeping views of the mountains and the Santa Anita Golf Course. Currently the rehab unit has 20 beds, but the new facility will have 30.

Please visit www.methodisthospital.org for information about the Crystal Ball or to make contributions.

STUNNING BREEDERS' CUP ART

From Arcadia's Best

The Breeders' Cup today announced that multi-award winning illustrator John Mattos has been named the official artist for the 2014 Breeders' Cup World Championships. The Mattos collection features two brilliant art deco images celebrating the 31st running of the event at Santa Anita Park in Arcadia, Calif., on October 31-November 1.

The Breeders' Cup is Thoroughbred racing's most prestigious international event, consisting of 13 races and purses and awards totaling $26 million. It is also an annual gathering of stars from Hollywood entertainment, business, sports and celebrities from all walks of life, and held at one of the world's most picturesque horse racing venues. The Breeders' Cup will be televised live by the NBC Sports Group, with the $5 million Breeders' Cup Classic shown live and in primetime on NBC.

In his second year as the Official Artist of the Breeders' Cup World Championships, Mattos has evoked his retro-inspired style to capture the Art Deco setting of Santa Anita Park. The first image, which is the 2014 official poster, consists of a monumental Thoroughbred and rider seemingly etched into the San Gabriel Mountains. Below the towering symbol, an elegant crowd watches as the best thoroughbreds in the world race toward a place in prestigious racing history. (see link attached)

The second image depicts a flamboyant female wearing a fascinator showcasing a montage of the racetrack, and is complimented by her trendy aviator sunglasses which reflect the day's racing action (see link attached). Both images will appear on the Friday and Saturday official racetrack programs and on all event tickets to Santa Anita Park.

"John's portrayal of this year's event captures the elegance, style and excitement of the Breeders' Cup at Santa Anita Park," said Peter Rotondo, Breeders' Cup Vice President of Media and Entertainment. "We are honored and delighted once again to display his images as part this year's festivities, and to provide fans an opportunity to take home some treasured memories of their 2014 experience."

"Drawing the majestic Thoroughbred in such a stunning and picturesque backdrop as Santa Anita Park has been an inspiring experience for the second consecutive year," said Mattos. "It is a thrill once again to be a part of this tremendous international event and to share my work with fans attending from all corners of the world."

Since his 2013 Breeders' Cup debut, Mr. Mattos has lent his distinctive style to a number of high profile projects both in the US and abroad. His work has recently been featured on two United States Postal Service "Forever" stamps depicting classic hot rods. Showcased, are two 1932 Ford* "Deuce" roadsters. The fast, powerful vehicles that thrill-seeking enthusiasts have been modifying for nearly a century are celebrated on two eye-popping stamps. Each stamp depicts an iconic 1932 Ford* "Deuce" roadster. Mattos fans can enjoy an appearance on "Jay Leno's Garage" via You Tube, August 14, 2014, to learn about this exciting commission.

Consummate Los Angeles based hot rod historian and owner of one of the quintessential cars, Bruce Meyer discusses the history along with Jay Leno in this fascinating video.

Concurrent with the unveiling of the Official Art of the 2014 Breeders' Cup Championship artwork is the eminent debut of a year-long Mattos installation at one of the London's hottest new hotels in Brown Hart Gardens, Mayfair. The Beaumont Hotel is located moments from Selfridges and Bond Street and is slotted to become a must see for Londoners and travelers alike. The work of famed British sculptor, Antony Gormley has provided a controversial facade element to the building, the interior of which is a $2500 per night hotel suite. John Mattos' work is prominently featured in the fashionable restaurant called the "Colony Room".

Named for various American "colonies" (cities), Mattos' images depict sporting events that reached their heyday in the 1930's in those particular towns. The series is titled, "American Geography Told Through Sport", and will be pivotal design elements in the Beaumont's American themed bar. Mattos' twelve sporting scenes will be stretched like fine art installations, varying in size from 6' to 12' wide. American sporting themes such as spring board diving, greyhound racing, polo, and airplane races are but a few of the vintage themes.

Mattos has numerous ties to the Los Angeles area. He graduated from internationally acclaimed Art Center College Of Design in Pasadena, and he has lectured at UC Berkeley, Stanford, and C.C.A.C, among others. Another connection is his list of credentials for various film properties including Disney, MGM/UA and Coppola/American Zoetrope. The American Film Institute named his artwork for The Rocketeer in their 100 Best Movie Posters of all Time.

THE REEL DEAL: by Ben Show THE MAZE RUNNER REVIEW

Yet another young adult, dystopian future movie based on a book. At this point, everyone basically knows what's going on before they walk into the theater: the government has done something bad and the teenagers must save the day. How do they accomplish that monumental task in this movie? Running through a concrete maze. The boys of the Glade are being forced to live there and do nothing else but survive and try to figure a way out of the maze that traps them. However, when Thomas (Dylan O'Brien) arrives, everything these boys can remember is questioned as the game they are playing

At this point, everyone knows how they feel about these things, love 'em or hate 'em. The only major difference between this and any other film adapted from a young adult books nowadays, is that this film has no mushy love story. That is about all this movie has going for it. The acting is dreadful, the directing is sloppy, and the screenwriting leaves so much out from the book that film feels disjointed. 'The Maze Runner' is, sadly, another dime-a-dozen, teenager focused action

SEVEN OAKS IS TOP NOTCH

Paso Robles, Spanish for the "Pass of Oaks" and most commonly pronounced as Paso "Robles" or simply referred to as "Paso" by the locals, is located in San Luis Obispo County, half-way between San Francisco and L.A. on California's stunning Central Coast. Paso Robles has 26,000 acres under vine and is home to over 200 wineries. The most commonly grown grape is the Cabernet Sauvignon, over 40% of all juices are "Cab" makes sense with the large swing of climate changes of the area.

TABLE FOR TWO by Peter Dills thechefknows@yahoo.com

My favorite and a rising star from the region is JLohr, they have been producing wines from this region since 1974, Jerry Lohr started with 280 acres and now has over 900 acres in Monterey and 2000 in Paso Robles.

The 2011 Cabernet Sauvignon Seven Oaks is smooth easy to drink and I should say ready to drink for those of you that like to enjoy a glass after work or anytime, for me I would pair this with a hearty meat such as spare ribs or even a beef stroganoff. I rather enjoy reds with a meal, never alone. To each his own though.

The quality of the 2011 vintage is apparent in the wine's density and strong regional expression of black cherry and blackberry fruit and soft tannins. I first discovered Jlohr simply by luck, I was in Paso Robles on a weekend getaway and invited to go wine tasting. Some 10 years later the secret seems to be out on these great Paso Robles wines, but I am ok that the secret has finally gotten out. Is the 2011 Jlohr as good as my Jan 25th review of Ghost Block? No but you can get three bottles. Enjoy! Dills Score 90

JUST FOR BEST FRIENDS

A TRIBUTE TO TATERTOTTS

For the short while that I've been writing this column, I never before considered using it as an obituary. It never crossed my mind that I'd write a story announcing the death of my dear dog, Tatertotts. However, as fate would have it, this small printed space is a place where I can pour my heart out while at the same time, hopefully offer a word of encouragement to other dog owners who may, one day have a similar expearience to my own.

Tatertotts was a beautiful, pedigree bloodhound who found me when she was just a 1 1/2 years old, after having been to the show ring twice. Her original owner, a bloodhound breeder/handler in Saddleback Ranch had plans for Tater and her siblings to be champs at show! In fact, a couple of Tater's siblings did turn out to be notorious as best in breed and beyond, wherever they went to Tater, on the other hand, apparently had other plans for her life. She chose to be a domestic dog, which by definition literally means, a dog "belonging to the home". I must say, considering her plan, she picked the right human with whom to carry it out! She somehow knew I would cater to her every need and desire and let her "rule the roost" for as long as she lived.

It was a bit of a challenge at first, when Tater was a youngster. She'd jump up to greet me as I came in the door, and knock me flat on my back! She insisted on having whatever treasure she wanted, with no chance of bantering or bargaining. She knew this soft-hearted human she'd picked to be her forever friend would give in and let her have her way, because I wanted her

It didn't take long before this human realized that way of cohabitating was not going to work out well for either of us, without proper discipline and balance of will. So, I took her to BEST training, at Pasadena Humane Society for a 6 month course where we were both subjected to some basic behavioral training along with several other dogs. Tater did not like being on a slippery floor with a bunch of strangers, at first. However, she eventually figured out that this was what we were going to do, like it or not! Soon she succumbed to a few simple tricks that made all of our lives a lot easier in the home.

Tater loved hiking local trails and cooling off in the foothill streams and pools during our weekend getaways together. Later, as she got older and less agile, she enjoyed putting the top down and taking a drive to the beach or up to Big Santa Anita Canyon to Chantry Flat where we visited the animals at Adam's Pack Station. She seemed to connect well with the donkeys, goats and chickens there, and made friends with the cats. She always got along famously with kitties.

As life went on with Tater by my side, she continued to show me unconditional love and affection as most loved dogs do. Tater had a very close relationship with my husband as well, and he was always there for her when I started my dog walking and sitting business. She recognized that there were times when I needed to be away to help with other people's pets and poppa would be there to take care of her and she never once made me fret or feel guilty

Last Tuesday, Sept. 23, 2014, at the ripe ole age of 12 ¾ years, my sweet Tatertotts crossed what we dog lovers like to call that "Rainbow Bridge" into doggie heaven. Her body of 110 lbs. had had enough, and gave clear signs that it was time. She did not suffer, nor did she have to experience the disgrace of physical frailty that many of we humans will, when it is our turn to get old and pass on.

Tater brought me so much joy during her brief yet happy life here on earth. She taught me so much about loving life. I have so many beautiful memories of the fun times we had together - her strapped into the passenger seat with top down and ears flopping in the wind! We conquered the world, she and I, when it felt like an overwhelming place

No other dog will ever take the place of my precious bloodhound, Tater. No memories of other loved ones can compare to the times we had. She will always be in my heart, and in my mind at times when reminders of her being herself come to me. That girl was a character, and one of the very best friends I will ever have in my life.

Thank you, Tater, for all that you gave . Thank you for loving unconditionally. Carry on, my sweet girl. Go well and go peacefully. We will keep your majesty, be on your way.

PET OF THE WEEK WINSTON: Animal ID #A4753769

Meet Winston, a smart cookie that loves to please!

Winston is a charming 7-month-old brindle male Rhodesian Ridgeback and Belgian Malinois mix puppy who was left at the Baldwin Park Animal Care Center with Chichi [A4753764] on September 8th with no reason given. Winston is intelligent and treat motivated too. He knows how to "sit" and "lie down" on command (as long as there is a reward in store)! Winston also walks pretty well on leash, but like any puppy he would benefit from more basic training so he can turn into a good canine citizen! Winston will make a super indoor pet for an individual or family living in a private home with a nice big, gated backyard!

THE JOY OF YOGA TURNING THE FOCUS INWARD

In a yoga class, the job of the teacher is to get you to turn your gaze inward. This allows you to know what feels good and what doesn't and keeps you from getting hurt. The teacher can guide you – but you are the one in charge of your body and its movement. When practicing, we are focusing on what's happening in the body but also what is happening in the mind. If we are thinking about what we are going to have for lunch after class, then we are not present to what's going on in the body. We do not just want to move through the poses because the teacher says so - while we think about work or the weekend - we want to really think about how the hamstring is lengthening or the shoulder is opening and what the other supporting muscles are doing while we are there. We want to think about the breath and what it can tell us about how we are doing. Were we holding our breath? Where was the stress? How can we calm the stress? How can we breathe into the release?

This internal gaze prepares us for meditation. The thing we really want to know: Can we be alone with our thoughts? What can the subconscious mind tell us? The yogis say that if we can spend some time with these thoughts during meditation, then we will not be kept awake by them all night. In meditation, we can see what our mind is processing. We can see what we need to focus on and pay attention to, just like in the movements.

In this world of multi-tasking, it is really nice to get in there and concentrate. You may even have a better night's sleep!

See you in class. Namasté, René

MY 5 TOP PICKS FOR FALL PRODUCE

Dr. Tina is a traditional naturopath and nutritionist at Vibrant Living Wellness Center they are planning their Halloween costumes. Fall also means that we have a whole new crop of fresh produce available to us. Fall produces tends to be rich in nutrients and fiber. When we eat the produce that is in season we tend to eat fresher produce and less expensive produce.

This is because store can obtain these crops from more local sources cutting down on fuel

cool down. The kids

cost and storage cost. To get the most nutrients from produce is best to eat it as close to when it was

Here are my top 5 picks for fall crops that you should try to incorporate into your diet each week this fall: Beets: They can lower blood pressure, they are anti-inflammatory and their fiber helps to keep your digestive track clean. Use the greens (Top leaves of the beets) in stews and salads as they have a higher iron content than spinach, and a higher nutritional value than the beet itself.

Winter Squash: Winter squashes are low in calories and high in vitamin C and potassium. Winter squash is a rich sources of anti-inflammatory nutrients such as omega 3s and beta-carotene, which are important for a strong immune system so they help protect against colds and the flu. No to mention that these squashes are very inexpensive. There are many varieties of winter squashes available at the grocery stores. Some traditional favorites include acorn, butter nut, pumpkin, and spaghetti varieties.

Broccoli: Best known for being rich in Vitamin C just 1 cup of raw florets a little more than your daily needs. It also is also known to lower your risk of type 2 diabetes. It may also be a cancer fighter.

Pears: Pears are an excellent source of fiber and a good source of vitamin C. They are full of fiber, twice as much as brown rice. They are nutrient dense too meaning they only have 100 calories per serving.

Sweet Potatoes: These delicious potatoes also help in prevention of heart attacks. They contain vitamin C which besides improving immunity it also produces collagen which helps maintain skin's youthful elasticity. Sweet potatoes contain Vitamin D which plays an important role in our energy levels, moods, and helps to build healthy bones, heart, nerves, skin, and teeth, and it supports the thyroid gland. If this is not enough they also are a good source of magnesium, which is the relaxation and anti-stress mineral.

Why not sample every fresh taste of fall. My recommendation above will not just keep you healthy but by eating produce in season you are getting the best tasting produce and saving money too!

VACCINATION OPTIONS AVAILABLE TO SENIORS THIS FLU SEASON

Dear Savvy Senior,

I understand that there are several types of flu vaccines being offered to seniors this flu season. What can you tell me about them?

Cautious Senior Dear Cautious,

Depending on your health, age and personal preference, there's a buffet of flu shots available to seniors this flu season, along with two vaccinations for pneumonia that you should consider getting too.

Flu Shots Options

Just as they do every year, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) recommends a seasonal flu shot to almost everyone, but it's especially important for seniors who are at higher risk of developing serious flu-related complications.

The flu puts more than 200,000 people in the hospital each year and kills around 24,000 - 90 percent of whom are seniors. Here's the rundown of the different options:

Standard (trivalent) flu shot: This tried-andtrue shot that's been around for more than 30 years protects against three strains of influenza. This year's version protects against the two common A strains (H1N1 and H3N2), and one influenza B

Quadrivalent flu shot: This vaccine, which was introduced last year, protects against four types of influenza - the same three strains as the standard flu shot, plus an additional B-strain virus.

High-dose flu shot: Designed specifically for seniors, age 65 and older, this vaccine, called the Fluzone High-Dose, has four times the amount of antigen as a regular flu shot does, which creates a stronger immune response for better protection. But, be aware that the high-dose option may also be more likely to cause side effects, including headache, muscle aches and fever.

Intradermal flu shot: If you don't like needles, the intradermal shot is a nice option because it uses a tiny 1/16-inch long micro-needle to inject the vaccine just under the skin, rather than deeper in the muscle like standard flu shots. This trivalent vaccine is recommended only to those ages 18 to 64.

To locate a vaccination site that offers these flu shots, visit vaccines.gov and type in your ZIP code. You'll also be happy to know that if you're a Medicare beneficiary, Part B will cover 100 percent of the costs of any flu shot, as long as your doctor, health clinic or pharmacy agrees not to charge you more than Medicare pays. Private health insurers are also required to cover standard flu shots, however, you'll need to check with your provider to see if they cover the other vaccination options.

Pneumonia Vaccines

The other important vaccinations the CDC recommends to seniors, especially this time of year, are the pneumococcal vaccines for pneumonia. An estimated 900,000 people in the U.S. get pneumococcal pneumonia each year, and it kills

This year, the CDC is recommending that all seniors 65 or older get two separate vaccines, which is a change of decades-old advice. The vaccines are Prevnar 13 and Pneumovax 23. Previously, only Pneumovax 23 was recommended for seniors.

Both vaccines, which are administered just once, work in different ways to provide maximum protection.

If you haven't yet received any pneumococcal vaccine you should get the Prevnar 13 first, followed by Pneumovax 23 six to 12 months later. But, if you've already been vaccinated with Pneumovax 23 you should get Prevnar 13 at least one year later.

Medicare currently covers only one pneumococcal vaccine per older adult. If you're paying out of pocket, you can expect to pay around $50 to $85 for Pneumovax 23, and around $120 to $150 for the Prevnar 13.

KATIE Tse.....This and That EDUCATION, SUCH AS IT IS...

figured the hot-topic button suited for the political columnists. Right after religion and politics, voicing your views on education is the most unlikely way to win friends and influence people. And few issues in education are as controversial as common core.

Although I'm happily not responsible for teaching common core, it still manages to seep into my job at a public school. My run-staff meetings. common communism, core sounds good in theory. And when you read the standards, they don't seem that evil. What causes eyes to roll are the various applications of common core. A collective groan erupted when one of my coworkers explained that "addition" is out, and "number bonding" is in. Kindergarteners are now busy learning to "decompose" numbers. Meanwhile half of them are strangling each other. But when we're racing to match other developing nations in math and language, training in civility must take the back seat.

The term "omphaloskepsis" comes to mind.

Toss that one around at your next party! It refers into our work email, click "print," and BAM! to the practice of intently gazing into one's navel, and I'm reminded of it at every common core professional development day. We sit in groups and ponder questions like, "Why do we use 10 as a base for counting?" and "What does 3 X 5 really mean?" Deep stuff... And that's just 1st grade! I shudder to think of what the junior high teachers have to do! I'm waiting for a meeting at which the presenter will be wearing his shirt backwards and ask why our society expects the buttons to be in front. But these are depressing observations, and who wants to read about that on a lovely Saturday morning?

I try to keep my articles actually have gotten better! I'm talking about light and inoffensive. So, I our new Xerox machine! Ah, the Xerox machine. It used to be an incomprehensible monster that of education might be better randomly consumed the papers of unsuspecting teachers and aides. The worst thing was to be the person responsible for jamming it in morning. Jamming the copier anytime was bad, but the morning is a particularly frantic time of the school day. People are printing out tests, worksheets, homework, and other vital papers. The foreboding sound of a page ripping deep in the bowels of the machine is sure to drain the blood from the bravest teacher's face. And ins with common core typically occur during attempts at repairs usually just made the problem worse. Finally someone tapes the sign "Copier Broken!" on it, and your name would be mud until the maintenance guy came later in the week to fix it. Yes, I'm sure fear of Xerox machines caused some people to choose another line of work instead of teaching.

But it's not like that anymore! Now the graphic display on our copy machine shows us exactly where the problem is, and what knobs and levers we need to pull to get the mangled paper out. We even have little buttons on our ID badges to scan instead of punching in our code each time. And we can print from home if we have a burning desire to do so! All we need is to sign

Our papers will be neatly stacked and waiting for us in the copy room when we arrive in the morning.

So, if you're reading this humble article and considering a career in teaching, I can't promise that common core will be gone by the time you get your first job. I can't even be certain the common core police won't put me away for suggesting that it might eventually be (gasp!) obsolete. But, you can rest assured that the old tales you've heard of copier machines breaking down when people looked crooked at them are

SEAN'S SHAMELESS REVIEWS: A WALK AMONG THE TOMBSTONES

ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT

By Sean Kayden

"A Walk Among The Tombstones" differs from Neeson's other roles such as "The Taken Series", "Non-Stop," and "The Grey." Neeson plays Matthew Scudder, a former NYC cop, now practicing as an unlicensed private investigator. He's hired by a drug trafficker (Dan Stevens) to find the kidnappers responsible for killing his wife. The story behind the murder isn't as cut and dry as Neeson first believes. "A Walk Among The Tombstones" is based on the book by Lawrence Block. The Matthew Scudder character appears in a series of books written by the author. Veteran screenwriter Scott Frank ("Out Of Sight," "Minority Report," "The Lookout") wrote and directed the adaptation for the big screen. There's quite a bit to enjoy here, however, the plot becomes a bit muddled after the first half of the film. With too many one-dimensional, uninteresting supporting characters, all you have is the always-compelling Liam Neeson.

Liam Neeson in yet another revenge thriller? Not exactly.

The film opens up in 1991 with a grisly Scudder sitting at a bar. When two men decide to rob the place and shoot the bartender, Scudder, off duty, chases after the thugs. We witness Liam Neeson be yet another man with a special set of skills to take down these men. However, something seems to have gone wrong. Flash-forward to 8 years later, we see a different, cleaned up version of Scudder. An ex-druggie approaches him at a diner for a job. Scudder is reluctant, but agrees to meet the man's brother. This is where we find out about the drug dealer's wife who was kidnapped in broad daylight and chopped up into pieces. He doesn't want to go to the police. He wants these men brought to him. These two sickos are creepy and downright eerie. However, there's not a lot

While that doesn't sound like such a drag, (and believe me it's not) you're still only left with a dark thriller relying on familiar tropes and clichés. They merely only satisfy, of depth to them. One of the kidnappers doesn't even speak until nearly the end of the film. Neeson's character eventually teams up with a young black boy he meets at public library. The two form an unconventional partnership. The troubled boy has Sickle Cell Anemia, which is thrown into the plot for seemingly no reason at all. We also have other social commentaries such as gun safety and Alcoholics Anonymous thrown in for good measure. As Scudder grows closer and closer to the villains, the audience may grow further and further away from the befuddled plot. The third act showdown was as cliché as they come by. Unfortunately, Scott Frank couldn't throw any appealing twists or turns to give it a

Scott did indeed make a moody, old-fashioned crime drama. The film is loaded with things from the 90s like Y2K, video stores and payphones. The cinematography is top notch with creepy visuals. There are some graphic scenes here, which is a nice throwback to darker dramas of the past. Overall, I thought the film started off promising, but fell apart in the second to third act. It felt like it was borrowing a lot from other and better films. I think it was a well-made film, but it lacked true identity. It all came down to a predictable and play-it-safe kind of ending. Little thrills, many kills, "A Walk Among The Tombstones" offers Neeson as engaging as he's ever been in recent memory, but his one-man show is merely the only thing worth checking out. by Sarah Waters This is an enthralling novel about a widow and her daughter who take a young couple into their home in 1920s London. It is 1922, and London is tense. Ex-servicemen are disillusioned; the out-of-work and the hungry are demanding change. And in South London, in a genteel Camberwell villa—a large, silent house now bereft of brothers, husband, and even servantslife is about to be transformed as impoverished widow Mrs. Wray and her spinster daughter, Frances, are obliged to take in lodgers. With the arrival of Lilian and Leonard, a young couple of the "clerk class," the routines of the house are shaken up in unexpected ways. Little do the Wrays know just how profoundly their new tenants will alter the course of Frances's life-or, as passions mount and frustration gathers, how far-reaching, and how devastating, the disturbances will be. Sarah Waters has earned a reputation as one of our greatest writers of historical fiction, This is a love story, a tension-filled crime story, and a beautifully atmospheric portrait of a fascinating time and place.

Based on extensive research and in-depth interviews with Cosby and more than sixty of his closest friends and associates, it is a frank, fun and fascinating account of his life and historic legacy. Far from the gentle worlds of his routines or TV shows, Cosby grew up in a Philadelphia housing project, the son of an alcoholic, largely absent father and a loving but overworked

Whitaker tells the story of how, after dropping out of high school, Cosby turned his life around by joining the Navy, talking his way into college, and seizing his first breaks as a stand-up comedian. The book reveals the behind-thescenes story of that groundbreaking sitcom as well as Cosby's bestselling albums, breakout role on I Spy, and pioneering place in children's TV. But it also deals with professional setbacks and personal dramas, from an affair that sparked public scandal to the murder of his only son, and the private influence of his wife of fifty years,. Whitaker explores the roots of Cosby's controversial stands on race, as well as "the Cosby effect" that helped pave the way for a black president. For any fan of Bill Cosby's work, and any student of American television, comedy, or social history, Cosby: His Life and Times is an essential read.

OPENING 4000 MILES - IT TAKES A VILLAGE

By Artistic Director, Christian Lebano

It is Friday morning and we are just hours away from opening Amy Herzog's Pulitzer-nominated play 4000 Miles in its Los Angeles County premiere. As I write this piece there are lots of people working very hard to get our show and the opening night reception which follows it tonight ready for a sold-out house.

As the director of the play, one of the Producers, and the Artistic Director of the theater, I am in a constant state of humbled gratitude at the dedication of all of the people who are working so hard to bring this beautiful play to life tonight. From the marvelous cast (Mimi Cozzens, Christian Prentice, Alexandra Wright, and Susane Lee) who have shared themselves so fully with me in rehearsals and worked so hard to create the wonderfully complex characters they are each playing, to the incredible designers who have manifested all of my ideas for this show so well (Set Designer John Vertrees who has helped me build the world in which our show happens, Lighting designer Pablo Santiago - nominated for an Ovation award this season - whose lights really help tell our story, Costume Designer Kristen Kopp who last worked with me on Driving Miss Daisy and who has really found the essence of each character, Barry Schwam who has worked tirelessly to incorporate the sound, Lisa Wasserman who has created a wonderful lobby exhibit, and Jonathan Beard who has written the most evocative music for our show,) and the relentless work of our Stage Manager Sarah Poor, her Assistant Wysper Erigio, and our House Manager/Props Mistress Olivia O'Neill.

On this show we have three community partners who have made a huge contribution to the production -Matthew, Michael, and Brandon of Centric Bike Company of Sierra Madre have given us technical assistance, loaned us a bike, and are hosting our opening night party; Christian Boehr of Atomic Threshold Scandinavian Furniture has leant us the beautiful furniture we are using in the production – all of which is for sale afterwards!; and Friends of the Sierra Madre Library who have so kindly loaned us all the books we are using to dress the set. Without them this show would not have happened and I am incredibly grateful.

We have a terrific group of volunteers who have showed up to help us with the party tonight and as ushers during the show Cara Clarke, Annette Dray, Prudence Levine, Marianna Catz, Jane Park and Linda Trevillian.

I couldn't accomplish half as much as I do without the support of our Board members Louise Calaway, Paul Van Dorp, and Serge Varella - each of them have played a significant role in making tonight happen.

Our small but mighty staff of Box Office Manager Mary Baville, Social Media Manager Jill Maglione, Photographer Gina Long, and Website Manager Daniel Pelletier make sure that the world knows what we are doing!

And finally, the tireless work of SMP's Management Team: Estelle Campbell our Managing Director, Ward Calaway our Operations Director, and Ben Womick our Technical Director - without them there would be no Sierra Madre Playhouse.

This list only hints at all the work done by so many people to bring 4000 Miles to life. I am incredibly proud of this show and what we are doing at the Playhouse. Please come see what we are up to - and if you know of someone who hasn't been to our theater bring them along. The best support we can get from this community is a sold-out run. I think this show deserves it. Come see if I'm right.

NOVEMBER 4th IS ELECTION DAY

With less than six weeks to go, appeals are being made to Californian's to exercise their Constitutional right to vote. And, despite the emphasis on the importance of invididual participation in the electoral process, in all liklihood this state will once again have a dismally low turnout. In the last Gubernatorial election, turnout of registered voters in Los Angeles County was 43.3%. Not bad you say, well that is 43.3% of registered voters. Unfortunately, that figure was only 32.8% of the citizens who were eligible to vote. In other words, only 1 out of 3 people who could have voted actually did vote. One has to wonder why people bother to complain if they won't participate in the process. You can't say it doesn't work unless you try it! People, we have got to do better.

Nevertheless, as has been the policy of this paper for the last 8 years, in addition to the many and varied opinions that will be presented by columnists or via Letters To The Editor, the paper will provide unbiased information on all candidates and propositions on the ballot. That does not mean, however, that the paper's editorial board won't make a recommendation, but it does mean that you will also have the unadulterated information before you to make up your own mind. And, any recommendations that may be made by the paper will not be a part of our effort to educate voters about what is on the ballot. They will be in a totally separate part of the paper so there can be no confusion.

During the next six weeks, we encourage readers to submit their opinions too. It is very informative to learn what your neighbors are thinking. You may bring attention to a point of view or issue that has been overlooked. You can contact the paper via fax, mail, or e-mail. We will publish as many letters and/or comments as possible.

As the Publisher/Editor of this newspaper, I don't care what or who you vote for. I care that you vote. No elected official or set of laws can ever represent the people if the people don't speak up! For those of you who already do vote, then take this time to encourage someone who doesn't to try it. Things will only get worse if we don't take a vested interest in our government, local, statewide or nationally.

Let's prepare ourselves to make informed decisions. Don't limit our civic participation be limited to Facebook chatter. Get prepared, make a decision and then vote at the polls.

CAPTAIN DONNIE MAULDIN ASSUMES COMMAND AT TEMPLE CITY STATION

By Joan Schmidt

To me, the rank of "Captain" is underrated in the Sheriff's Department. The Captains/Commanders at each of the Patrol Stations have the same responsibilities for their cities as does a Chief of Police.

Being assigned as Commander of Temple Station for instance brings A LOT of responsibility. The newly assigned Captain/Commander of Temple Station is "Chief of Police" to FIVE cities: Temple City, Rosemead, South El Monte, Duarte and Bradbury. That's not even including the unincorporated areas such as "MAD" (Monrovia, Arcadia, and Duarte), East Pasadena, North San Gabriel and South San Gabriel! I get exhausted just thinking of his/her responsibilities.)

Recently I had a chance to meet Temple Station's new Commander Donnie Mauldin and learn about his career

Captain Mauldin has been with the Sheriff's Department for 33 years. After his promotion to Captain by current Sheriff John Scott, Captain Mauldin assumed command of Temple Sheriff's Station.

In 1981, Mauldin began his career with the Sheriff's hiking, pla Department when he was hired as a Law Enforcement Intern and assigned to the then-Antelope Station. In

Chris Reed

1982, he attended the LASD Training Academy as a member of class #211. After graduation, deputies are given a custody assignment- his was at the East Facility (Pitchess Detention Center), followed by assignments to Firestone Station and the Emergency Operations Bureau. In 1992, Mauldin promoted to Sergeant and worked at the East Los Angeles Sheriff's Station, where Deputies Drew Burtness and Vince Romero began the outstanding VIDA Program for atrisk youth and of course youth who had gotten into trouble already.

As a sergeant, Mauldin also worked at the Scientific Services Bureau and the Internal Affairs Bureau. In 2001, Mauldin promoted to Lieutenant and worked at the North County Correctional Facility, Internal Affairs Bureau, West Hollywood Station, Professional Development Bureau, Training Bureau/Recruit Training, Commercial Crimes Bureau, Internal Affairs Bureau, and the Executive Offices as an aide to Sheriff Scott. After promoting to Captain, Mauldin assumed command at Temple Sheriff's Station.

On a personal note, Captain Mauldin was born and raised in the Antelope Valley; currently he resides in Los Angeles. In his spare time, he enjoys working out, hiking, playing tennis, and traveling.

TURF REMOVAL REBATES DOUBLE

How much do you really use your lawn anyway? Reduce your water bill by 20% by removing 40% of your grass! Now get paid $2 per square foot in SoCal

Residents in the Foothill Municipal Water District service area continue to strive for water savings by removing their thirsty lawns with drought tolerant landscaping. Requested rebate amounts doubled between the first quarter and second quarter of 2014 as seen in the bar chart below. The rebates are $2 per square foot of turf removed and replaced with drought tolerant landscaping. Residents and businesses must register and prequalify for the rebate prior to starting any work.

"As people become more aware of the drought and continued impacts of climate change on water supplies, they are looking for ways to save water. The measure that has one of the largest savings is removing turf since about 70% of water use in the area goes to irrigate lawns," said General Manager Nina Jazmadarian.

For a list of all water-saving rebates offered, please visit www.socalwatersmart.com or www.fmwd.com/conservation.aspx.

Foothill Municipal Water District provides imported water to Crescenta Valley Water District, La Cañada Irrigation District, Mesa Crest Water Company, Valley Water Company, Lincoln Avenue Water Company, Las Flores Water Company and Rubio Cañon Land & Water Association. Kinneloa Irrigation District, another retail agency, takes no water from Foothill.

October: Domestic Violence Month and The Annual Campaign to Help Victims

By Joan Schmidt

The San Gabriel Mission Playhouse was the setting for the 11th annual Domestic Violence Campaign Kick-off hosted by Congresswomen Judy Chu, Grace Napolitano and Kaiser Permanente.

Judy Chu welcomed us and gave a history of the Domestic Violence Campaign which coincides with Domestic Violence Awareness Month; it is a collection drive of gently used women's and children's clothing, household cleaning products, toiletries, school supplies and used cell phones to benefit domestic violence survivors in shelters throughout the San Gabriel Valley.

Congresswoman Chu thanked the City of San Gabriel (Council Members Jason Pu and Chin Ho Liao) and the San Gabriel Mission Playhouse for use of the facility. Chu spoke of Verizon Wireless and its refurbishing old phones for the victims. She mentioned other items collected and noted the first year, there were 20 bags of donations; last year, 112 bags. Chu also spoke of Westfield Mall's Spa Day and the victims' incredulous smiles. She felt the "great heroes" were the organizers to help victims. The four shelters who will benefit are Elizabeth House, Foothill Family Service, JFS Haven House and Project Sister Family Services. Congresswoman Grace Napolitano thanked Chu for her outstanding work/involvement with this cause since its inception eleven years ago and appreciated being included in it. Napolitano felt "We need to do more work together-federal, state and local level...let businesses become part of the solution...we need to educate young people."

Dr. Victor Cheng, MD, Kaiser Permanente is a family physician who treats domestic violence victims. He was honored to be part of the Kickoff and happy to see a lot of media to spread the word. "We have to step up and stop the cycle."

Mr. Ken Muche, Head of Public Relations at Verizon Wireless said the issue (domestic violence) is often not spoken about. 60% of us probably know a victim; 22% are actually victims. Victims shouldn't feel isolated, powerless. Verizon has donated funding for grant programs and even given prepaid phones to victims at shelters as they need to call for job interviews, doctor's appointments and such.

Rosemary Morbato, President of San Gabriel Valley District of Women's Clubs and Ana Interiano, Director of YWCA San Gabriel Valley Wings also spoke before Paulette gave personal testimony. Paulette was a victim for many years and spoke of extensive abuse. When she realized it had to stop before she was killed, she first sent her children to her mother's. Paulette always was concerned about their safety. Then she finally did something. She told us how restraining orders didn't work- he would stalk her, and hide under her car. She truly is an amazing woman and all present were in awe of her. Paulette will speak anywhere, anytime-her goal is that no one should suffer from domestic violence.

Collection boxes are in the lobbies of the following Kaiser Facilities: Baldwin Park Medical Center, 1011 Baldwin Park Blvd; Diamond Bar Medical Offices, 1336 Bridge Gate Drive; Montebello Medical Offices, 1550 Town Center Drive; San Dimas Medical Offices, 1255 West Arrow Highway; West Covina Medical Offices, 1249 S. Sunset Avenue.

Collection Locations are at Chu's Pasadena Office (527 S. Lake Ave, Suite 106); her Claremont Office (415 W. Foothill Blvd., suite 122): Alhambra City Hall (111 S. First St.); Altadena Community Center (730 E. Altadena Dr.); Joslyn Adult Rec Center (210 N. Chapel, Alhambra); Monrovia Community Center (119 W. Palm Ave.); Monterey Park City Hall (320 W. #### Is Pluto a Planet? The Votes Are In

What is a planet? For generations of kids the answer was easy. A big ball of rock or gas that orbited our Sun, and there were nine of them in our solar system. But then astronomers started finding more Pluto-sized objects orbiting beyond Neptune. Then they found Jupiter-sized objects circling distant stars, first by the handful and then by the hundreds. Suddenly the answer wasn't so easy. Were all these newfound things planets? Since the International Astronomical Union (IAU) is in charge of naming these newly discovered worlds, they tackled the question at their 2006 meeting. They tried to come up with a definition of a planet that everyone could agree on. But the work. The current, official definition says that a planet astronomers couldn't agree. In the end, they voted and picked a definition that they thought would

- is a celestial body that: 1. is in orbit around the Sun,
- 2. is round or nearly round, and

3. has "cleared the neighborhood" around its orbit. But this definition baffled the public and classrooms around the country. For one thing, it only applied to planets in our solar system. What about all those exoplanets orbiting other stars? Are they planets? And Pluto was booted from the planet club and called a dwarf planet. Is a dwarf planet a small planet? Not according to the IAU. Even though a dwarf fruit tree is still a small fruit tree, and a dwarf hamster is still a small hamster. Eight years later, the Harvard-Smithsonian Center for Astrophysics (CfA) decided to revisit the question of "what is a planet?" On September 18th, CfA hosted a debate among three leading experts in planetary science, each of whom presented their case as to what a planet is or isn't. The goal: to find a definition that the eager public audience could agree on! Science historian Dr. Owen Gingerich, who chaired the IAU planet definition committee, presented the historical viewpoint. Dr. Gareth Williams, associate director of the Minor Planet Center, presented the IAU's viewpoint. And Dr. Dimitar Sasselov, director of the Harvard Origins of Life Initiative, presented the exoplanet scientist's viewpoint. Gingerich argued that "a planet is a culturally defined word that changes over time," and that Pluto is a planet. Williams defended the IAU definition, which declares that Pluto is not a planet. And Sasselov defined a planet as "the smallest spherical lump of matter that formed around stars or stellar remnants," which means Pluto is a planet.

After these experts made their best case, the audience got to vote on what a planet is or isn't and whether Pluto is in or out. The results are in, with no hanging chads in sight.

According to the audience, Sasselov's definition won the day, and Pluto IS a planet.

The video of the debate and audience vote can

EDITOR'S NOTE: For me personally, Pluto has always been a planet and always will be. Ed Krupp, director of Griffith Observatory in Los Angeles, to have especially strong feelings about little Pluto, agrees, and shows nine planets (including Pluto) in Griffith's displays. Neil deGrasse Tyson, director of Hayden Planetarium in New York, disagrees, 2014 AstroPoetry Contest—shows: and has left Pluto out of Hayden's displays. And the legislature of New Mexico, where Pluto discoverer Clyde Tombaugh spent his later years, has passed an official declaration that Pluto will always be called a planet in that State.

FAMILY MATTERS

Prepare Your Heirs to Receive, Protect, and Grow Their Inheritance

There are many iconic American families that come to mind when we think of vast family wealth. The Vanderbilts, for example, were one of the riches families in America in the 19th century. Cornelius Vanderbilt, the family patriarch, built his railroad and shipping fortune to $100 million – which was more than the U.S. Treasury held when he died in 1877.

That massive family fortune -- which would be more than $200 billion in today's dollars -- has been gone for more than 40 years now. It did not survive past three generations, primarily due to mismanagement by successive generations of heirs.

A recent Forbes article looked at ways to prepare heirs for an inheritance, with an emphasis on protecting and growing that inheritance. Here are some tips:

Share your vision. Conduct a family roundtable where the heads of the family come together with everyone and share their hopes and dreams for the family, as well as how they plan to reach their goals for the future. The idea is to start an open multi-generational dialogue.

Tell your story. To help younger generations understand the importance of protecting and growing inherited wealth, it helps if they first understand the values and visions of their predecessors. Sharing family memories, experiences and life lessons from older generations is one key component to ensuring the family story continues on well into the future.

Record your story. Your lasting legacy should be much more than just money; it should also be about those valuable intangibles that make your family unique, told through your insights, values and experience. We do this through our legacy planning process, helping you capture and pass on your own story and your aspirations for your loved ones through a special video we produce for each of our clients.

Gather together. Annual family retreats, gatherings, or reunions also help solidify family values and nurture common ground and goals. Consider holding an annual retreat where multiple generations can gather to bond, make plans for the future, and renew family harmony. Family is one of the great human institutions. Yours can, and should, be the foundation for building real wealth – both financial and personal – for your children and for generations yet to come. With a little foresight and effort it can be done. You can do it. We can help.

As always, I wish all the best to you and your family,

HOW TO BUY LIKE A SELLER

If you're in the market to buy a home, take a counterintuitive tip and imagine the day you'll be selling it. That's right - whether you're a first time buyer, or relocating, this home probably won't be your last, so look for features that will pay off when the day comes to move again.

North, south, east or west, the biggest amenity the next buyer will look for is central air conditioning. In the Deep South, over 90% of buyers rank central air as critically important, and three-quarters of buyers everywhere else put it high on the list.

Another often-overlooked feature is storage. Over half of buyers desire a two-car garage and a walk-in closet for the master bedroom. Ample closets and storage space just

Manufacturing alive and well in SGV

From The San Gabriel Valley Economic weighing between 1 and 2 pounds - face a variety Partnership

By Cynthia Kurtz

Friday, October 3, 2014 is National Manufacturing Day. You might think that this isn't particularly important to California. There is a perception that manufacturing has left California and the San Gabriel Valley.

Off-shore production, strict environmental regulations, and automation have taken a toll on the number of manufacturing jobs. But these good paying positions are far from gone. The SGV can still boast of 58,900 jobs in manufacturing having added over 700 new jobs in 2013.

There are significant shifts in the types of manufacturers that choose to locate here. Based largely on our incredible research and educational institutions, Southern California and the SGV are enjoying a resurgence in aerospace and bio-science

A great example of these emerging new companies is Prolacta Bioscience. Founded in 1999, Prolacta screens, collects, tests, pasteurizes and fortifies lifesaving products for use in neonatal intensive care units. As demand increased the company outgrew its first home - a 10,000 square foot facility in Monrovia. In 2013 the company moved to a new $18 million 67,000 sq. foot pharmaceutical grade processing plant in the City

WHAT SHOULD YOU DO WITH YOUR OLD 401K?

By Greg Welborn

Even given the current economic times, surveys continue to show that Americans change jobs very 3 to 5 years. If your employer offers a retirement plan, often times you have limited control over costs and investment options. But if you are leaving for greener pastures, you typically can gain more control over your retirement plan account. The usual choices are to leave it, take it, or roll it over. The usual education you receive in deciding which option to pursue is zero. So, here's a little primer.

Take It: If you take the money and run (by that I mean, you spend it on something worthwhile or not so worthwhile), then Uncle Sam and his cousin in Sacramento will want their pound of flesh. Any withdrawal you make will be fully taxed at your regular income tax rate and, if you're under 59 ½, will suffer a 12% penalty tax as well. The withdrawal could also push you into a higher tax bracket. This is not the ideal option.

Leave It: If you leave the money in the old employer's retirement plan (assuming that's one of the plan options), then you can continue to watch the money grow tax free. But, you would still be subject to the same limited investment selections and the potentially higher-thanaverage fees buried inside most employer sponsored retirement plans. There are some employer retirement plans with great investment options and low costs, but there are way too many where that is not the case.

When you're an active employee and the employer is offering a match, then any limitations in terms of restricted investments or high fees is more than offset by the tax deduction and/or employer match you receive. If you're leaving the firm, usually moving the money makes the most sense if the plan's investments are overly restricted and the costs excessively high.

of risks with many related to feeding and getting enough nutrition.

Ample evidence exists to show that a mother's own milk reduces the risk of illness in her infant but mother's milk may not be available or may not contain enough calories for premature infants. Milk and concentrations made with cow or other animal milks can cause other complications.

The answer was to develop products that could be used when a mother had insufficient milk or when there was a need to boost the nutritional intake of human milk for premature babies.

Prolacta Bioscience has created specialty formulations specifically for the needs of premature infants. The City of Industry facility is the first large scale human milk processing facility in the world and Prolacta is the only company to offer products made with 100% human milk.

Healthcare experts have praised the company for its innovative products. Studies show that premature babies who are fed a 100% human milk diet have a better chance of survival and a better

The company intends to grow here. Scott Elster, Prolacta's Chief Executive Officer said, "The opening of this (City of Industry) facility means that Prolacta can meet the nutritional needs of every extremely premature born infant in the country."

So make your plans for National Manufacturing Day. We definitely have something to celebrate.

Roll It: Which brings us to the rollover option. When you leave employment, you have the option to roll over the money in your employer retirement plan into your own Individual Retirement Account (IRA). Almost any bank or brokerage firm will set this up for you. Not all banks or brokerage firms offer the same investment selections and low fee structures, but there are plenty which offer great selection and rock bottom costs. By rolling over your money into an IRA, you retain tax-free growth benefits and you gain more control over performance. If fees are low, you're even further ahead. The only caveat here would be for employees who are not yet 100% vested in their employer's plan. If that's the case, I wouldn't recommend changing jobs for a while. Wait until you're fully vested - 6 years max in most cases.

While not an exhaustive discussion of the options and their respective advantages and drawbacks, this is a pretty good primer on what to do when/if you're looking at a job change. As always, if you're in doubt, consult a trusted, objective advisor.

First, I get the need for a restriction. If we offered all day parking on the street, the employees of all the shops on Sierra Madre Blvd would park there. Not good for business. As it is now, there are a number of spaces in the back parking areas that one can park all day. And those are, rightfully so, mostly populated by the employees of the shops.

Why do I think we should add an hour to the parking restriction? Thanks for asking. I will tell you. I was sitting at an outside table of one of our local eateries when I overheard one half of a phone conversation. This woman on the phone was headed into one of the six hundred hair salons in downtown. She was negotiating a post salon lunch with the person on the other end of the phone. I overheard her say (approximately), "I would love to have lunch with you here in Sierra Madre but I don't want to have to move my car. Why don't you meet me at (some Pasadena restaurant)." Because of the 2 hour restriction we, the city, and the local restaurant lost both business and revenue. Add one hour to the restriction and we could add more business. Sounds like a good

All local, county and state decision makers turn legislation into law. And many of those laws can be...well I'll just share some of California's more colorful ordinances

In LA County you may only throw a Frisbee at the beach with a lifeguard's permission. It is a misdemeanor to shoot at any kind of game from a moving vehicle, unless the target is a whale.

Everyone knows in Arcadia peacocks have the right of way to cross any street, including driveways.

In Belvedere, CA, the law reads: "No dog shall be in a public place without its master on a leash."

In fashion conscious Carmel a man cannot go outside wearing a jacket and pants that do not match.

Detonating a nuclear device within Chico city limits may result in a $500 fine. No one may annoy a lizard in a Fresno city park.

It is expressly illegal to drive more than two thousand sheep down Hollywood Blvd. at one time.

Also, in San Francisco, persons classified as "ugly" may not walk down any street. In Walnut, kites may not be flown above 10 feet over the ground.

If a guy wants to dress as a female in Walnut you need a special permit from the

Thanks to the folks at dumblaws.com for their wealth of information on the law. I am serious about switching the restriction from 2 to 3 hours. It adds a time cushion for visitors to downtown to visit more than one shop. Thanks for your consideration.

The Thing I Miss Most About Summer

By Dr. James L. Snyder

Summer is over and winter is beginning to give us her cold shoulder. The only way I can really handle winter is the hope of summer coming again in all her warm embraces. I can only take the shivers for so long.

In our home, there is a divide over the subject. The Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage lives for winter and I live for summer. How two people who can be so opposite and still live together harmoniously is one of the mysteries of matrimonial bliss. I endure her complaining about how hot it is during the summer and she somehow endures my shivering throughout the winter. And boy, do I shiver. I am not so sure what it is about winter that is so fascinating for her. Maybe it is because she gets to wear more clothing than she can during the summer. Or, maybe she just likes the cold. That is not exactly true because once I gave her a cold shoulder and I have been paying for that ever since. She does have that cold stare when I am in trouble, but that comes during the summer as well as the rest of the year. Maybe she likes winter because in the middle of winter is Christmas. If anybody loves Christmas, it is my wife. She begins her Christmas planning in January and knows exactly what she is going to buy throughout the year. I think it has something to do with when things go on sale or something like that. Personally, and do not let this get back to her, I think it is just an excuse to go shopping. I will not say she is a Shopaholic, but give her a coupon and she is off to the mall. You did not hear it from me. Also during the winter season is Thanksgiving where my wife outdoes herself in making Thanksgiving dinner for all the family. She makes enough for an army and out of deep respect for her, I eat like an army. Actually, I eat until I hear that little whisper from the other end of the table, "Don't you think you have had enough?" What she does not understand is, when I am eating I am not thinking.

As for me, I enjoy summer and all the laziness associated with summertime. All those lazy, crazy days of summer were designed for people just like me. When it comes to lazy and crazy, I am the expert. I can remember years ago when I was doing something and my wife thought it was a little out of line, she would say, "Are you acting crazy?"

She does not say that anymore because she has concluded, and rightly so, that I am not an actor. If I were acting, she is sure I would get an Oscar.

However, something about summer makes a person slow down a little bit and not be in such a hurry. One of my excuses is that it is too hot to do anything today. I love that excuse because my wife always agrees. I cannot use that excuse in winter for obvious reasons. According to her, an activity will warm me up. I have never warmed up to that idea.

I like summer because there are so many fun opportunities to get together with family. Every summer we go and spend a week with my son and his family, which is one of the highlights of the summer. I only have one week out of the year to spoil his children so I try to make the best of it.

If I had the ability to manipulate seasons, I would make sure that 11 months out of the year it would be summer. I would have to give one month to my wife for winter, but I would only give her one month. That is about all I can handle. Summer is a time to enjoy the nature God has created. It is wonderful to see green grass and green leaves on the trees and watching blossoms turn into full-fledged flowers.

What could be better than sitting on the back porch with a tall glass of iced lemonade watching the sunset? I love hearing the crickets in full concert and that only happens during the summer. Here in Florida we have little frogs that think they are crickets and chime in adding their voice to the evening

Did I mention picnics?

What would summer be without a picnic? In my mind, a picnic is an excuse to overindulge in the fine art of stuffing yourself. The picnic is a little different so that somebody cannot query me with, "Don't you think you've had enough?" The "Food Whisperer" is not allowed at picnics. After all, at a church picnic it is imperative that I sample every dish brought to the picnic. I do not want to leave anybody out on this. The picnic is the time to let down your hair, if you have any, and just enjoy food and fellowship.

It amazes me how fast time flies when you are not paying attention. King Solomon understood this when he wrote, "To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven" (Ecclesiastes 3:1). One man's winter is another man's summer and the joy of life is learning to appreciate what you may not really like.

HOWARD Hays As I See It

"President Obama got it right with Ebola. The president must also do the same with ISIS.

- Greg Welborn in the MVN, September 20, 2014

"Consider the difference between the president's response to ISIS and his response to the Ebola outbreak.

- Brit Hume on "Fox News Sunday", September 21 2014

One thing I learned from last Sunday's talk shows is that Brit Hume must be reading Greg Welborn's column in the MVN. One thing I didn't learn is that there in New York City on that Sunday one of the largest demonstrations in our nation's history was taking place, along with 2,700 other events occurring in 150 countries on that day. In discussing the war against ISIS on ABC This Week. The Nation editor Katrina vanden Heuvel in her listing of "real security challenges" facing America "a catastrophic climate crisis which the Pentagon has called 'a clear and emerging danger' - there are a hundred thousand people marching outside this studio today because of that." Aside from that mention, the subject was pretty much ignored.

Estimates put the number of demonstrators at from 300,000 to over 400,000. It reminded me of the question ten years ago as to why, if the prospect of war with Iraq was so unpopular, there weren't the protests like back in the Vietnam days. There were, in fact, protests – particularly in 2003-2005, when tens of thousands demonstrated in Washington, Boston, San Francisco, Chicago and throughout the

The difference was in the coverage. In the Vietnam era, network news departments were still independent of the commercial, revenue-producing side of the business. With that separation now gone, news coverage is more often adjusted so as not to offend sponsors – such as by avoiding stories that might raise concern over a rush to war or the "clear and emerging danger" of climate change.

Sunday's march came in advance of Tuesday's address by President Obama to the U.N. General Assembly and the gathering of 120 world leaders on the subject of climate change. In the meantime, much of what coverage there was of last Sunday's march in NYC was on the fact participants had left trash to be picked up.

The U.N, meeting and surrounding events were a prelude to negotiations on a global agreement to take place in Paris next year. In his address, the president described climate change as "the one issue that will define the contours of this century more dramatically than any other . . . an urgent and growing threat" that is "changing faster than our efforts to address it". He mentioned the draft rules his administration presented on limiting carbon emissions from power plants, and his executive order that climate change be factored into considerations of international development projects. He emphasized the need for a "global compact" in which "nobody gets a pass" – and spoke of his discussion with Chinese Vice Premier Zhang Gaoli, noting that as the world's two largest emitters "we have a special responsibility to lead. It's what big nations have to do."

Also last week, Shaun Donovan used his first speech as our new Director of the Office of Management and Budget to state, "Climate denial will cost us billions of dollars." He mentioned "extreme weather events", and the $65 billion price tag of Superstorm Sandy alone. There's also the longer, more intense forest fire season, draining resources of the U.S. Forest Service to where there's nothing left for forest management. As Donavan put it, "So we spend what we have to in order to put out the fires, and then we under-invest in the tools that can help mitigate them, only leading to higher costs in the future".

With wonderful irony, last week the Rockefeller Brothers Fund, established with the fortune brought by Standard Oil a century ago, announced it had joined the divestment movement by taking its money out of fossil fuels – as it had already pulled its investments in coal and tar sands. It's now banking more of its funds on alternative energy. As Steven Rockefeller (son of Nelson) put it, "We see this as having both a moral and economic dimension.'

Google, Inc. had been a backer of the American Legislative Exchange Council (ALEC), a Koch-backed group pushing voter suppression and re-purposing public programs for private profit. But, as announced last week, it was their positions against clean energy and pushing climate "denial" in schools that led Google to pull their support. According to Google CEO Eric Schmidt, "Everyone understands climate change is occurring and the people who oppose it are really hurting our children and our grandchildren and making the world a much worse place, and so we should not be aligned with such people — they're just, they're just literally lying." Also last week, Republicans on the House Committee on Science, Space and Technology (you can't make this up) thought they'd school White House Science Advisor Dr. John Holdren when he came to testify. Rep. Steve Stockman (R-TX) observed that when an ice cube melts in his glass, the water level doesn't go up. Rep. Dana Rohrabacher (R-CA) insisted on knowing the level at which CO2 could damage humans, despite Dr. Holdren's trying to explain it was CO2's effect on the climate, not on humans directly, that's damaging. When Dr. Holdren suggested to Rep. Larry Bucshon (R-IN) he refer to the scientific literature, the Congressman replied that with 'all the climatologists whose careers depends on the climate changing . . . I could read that, but I don't believe it". On The Daily Show, Jon Stewart compared the hearing to "pushing a million pounds of idiot up the mountain."

At the U.N., President Obama warned, "The alarm bells keep ringing. Our citizens keep marching. We cannot pretend we don't hear them. We have to answer the call." That's regardless of whatever sideshow might be happening in Congress, or even whether or not the subject is mentioned at all on the Sunday talk shows.

How To Ruin A Great State

When I came to California with my parents as a young lad, my folks were enthusiastic about the move they had made. They were coming to a state which was respected nationwide for its almostperfect position geographically and economically. It possessed a wonderfully temperate climate, an entrepreneurial, anything-ispossible culture, good infrastructure, a great school system and an advantageous position on the western coast with the burgeoning Asian markets just over the horizon. Many of those benefits have disappeared, and those that remain are being squandered. To figure out what went wrong, we need look no further than those now-familiar red/blue political maps.

The red/blue political map of the state of California shows a narrow strip of blue (Liberal) population hugging the coastline from San Diego up through San Francisco and an overwhelmingly wider red (Conservative) landmass in the rest of the state. If we look a little harder, we'll see that California is being ruled by a liberal aristocracy huddled together in their thin blue coastal ribbon where they have been successful in insulating themselves from the disastrous consequences their loopy policies inflict on

As we move through our umpteenth year of draught, water policies are a good starting point for our effort to understand the ways and wiles of the Liberal, blue zone elite. Much of coastal southern California gets its water from the Pyramid Lake reservoir. The San Francisco area draws on a similar reservoir devoted to its geography. These reservoirs have been maintained at roughly 90% capacity throughout our current draught so that LA and San Fran suffer very little from water shortages. To keep them filled, water has been diverted from other uses, such as agricultural in the interior of the state. For way too much of the water that does remain inland, it is diverted to replenish streams (which flow to the sea) so that small fish can live while humans suffer. Liberals in the coastal ribbons can exercise their almost religious-like commitment to extreme "environmentalism" without suffering the same burden that such devotion-to-cause inflicts on the rest of the state.

The same environmental approach wreaks havoc on energy availability in the state. California has vast reserves of oil off-shore and newly discovered fields of natural gas. But these remain largely off limits because of Liberal environmental hysteria. Hysterias have their costs, but here too these burdens are not equally, or even fairly, shared. Along the blue coastal ribbon, the interaction of sun and ocean keeps temperatures for most of the year within a range where air conditioning and heating are sustainable with manageable energy consumption. In the center of the state, and up through its mountains, summer and winter both impose substantially greater suffering.

Freezing nights and sweltering days in the interior can only be mitigated by vastly more energy than is needed in the blue zone. Because energy supplies are kept artificially low through restrictive exploration policies, energy costs are higher and shortages more common in the interior than on the coast. The Liberal coastal elite easily avoid a burden their policies impose on the rest of the state's population.

Consider the effect of Liberal domination of the education hierarchy. Liberals from the blue zone have implemented such disastrous economic policies that California now ranks close to the top in per capita education spending and close to the bottom in education quality. We pay a lot for very little.

But not all schools are the same. Many among the blue zone elite can access private schools or live in smaller enclaves where the advantages of parental involvement, expectations, and financial contributions can overcome almost any education policy's unintended consequences. Over the last several decades, there have been a number of attempts to institute a state-wide school choice or voucher program so that poor families would have the same choices as their blue Liberal elites. In each case, minorities and the poor overwhelmingly supported choice and vouchers, only to see Liberals vote it down.

Tax policy is similarly founded on such exemption from consequences. Liberals are great champions of progressive tax policies wherein the tax rate on the wealthy is supposed to be higher than the tax rate on the poor. But the state needs money, and when the coffers got low, blue zone Liberals easily voted in sales tax increases that exact the greatest toll on the poor. Those in the upper income strata can easily absorb a 20% or so increase in sales taxes. They've got money to spare. For someone who literally lives paycheck to paycheck and struggles to save for the future, a 20% increase in the price of daily necessities hurts. If you question my math, remember we used to have a sales tax in the 8% range. Now it's in the 10% range with all the local surcharges. That's easily a 20% increase in tax burden.

I still love California and have hope that its future will be brighter – that we will once again be the envy of the nation, and perhaps the world. Accomplishing that, however, will take many changes in a vast number of policies, rules, and taxes. Perhaps that seems impossible to some, and it may be so long as blue zone Liberals are exempted from what they impose on the rest of a red state's population. But the simple change of demanding that everyone bear the burden of stupid and fanatical policies would hasten the day when reason and plenty return to California.

TITLE AND SUMMARY

REPEAL OF UTILITY USERS TAX

SUMMARY:

The current rate for utility users' tax is 10%, which will step down to 8% on July 1, 2015 and again to 6% on July 1, 2016. If approved by a majority of Sierra Madre voters, this initiative would repeal all current City utility users' taxes, including those imposed on charges for telephone, electricity, gas, water and video services.

The initiative says it would prohibit the City from enacting any new utility users's tax.

The initiative says it will allow anyone to defend the initiative

The City's existing utility users' taxes fund general City services, including police, paramedics, parks, libraries, streets, and other public services and facilities. If voters approve the initiative, the City must either to reduce funding for these programs and services or find some other funding source for them, if possible.
