than the Pharmacy has been burglarized in recent history. 1907 DARLING HOUSE FATE STILL UNDECIDED

The Sierra Madre Planning Commission held another extensive hearing on the construction activity currently underway at what is known as the Henry A. Darling House on Mira Monte. The home, which is not on the city's list of Historical Structures, was purchased recently by a longtime Sierra Madre resident who has begun the remodeling and rehabilitation of the residence.

However, the city, according to Development and Preservation Director Vincent Gonzalez, recently issued a stop work order after the renovation appeared to exceed the demolition permit issued for work on the roof. In addition, a recent report on the property's historical value has cause the city to review the entire project.

The house is located at 126 E. Montecito and has the attention of residents who want to protect all historic residences in the city. At Thursday's meeting, members and supporters of Preserve Sierra Madre (www.preservesierramadre.com) came out in force to encourage preservation of this part of the city's history. According to a communique distributed by the group, "Commissioner [Bob] Spears said that in his 10 years on the Planning Commission, he has never received so many emails about one issue as he did in this case.".

According to Gonzalez, the owners are very interested in maintaining the historic integrity of the property but just how that will be done has been postponed untill the next planning commission meeting in January.

On behalf of the Sierra Madre Community Foundation and Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce, we would like to thank all of our donors who have supported the community holiday display in Kersting Court by helping trim the tree

We would also like to thank Leonora Moss, and the Sierra Madre Middle School Service (Kiwanis Builders) Club for being the elves that made it all happen, as well as Boy Scout Troop 110 for the outstanding job on the candy canes and lollipops. Thank you for helping Sierra Madre!

Despite the cold, windy and rainy weather, the tree was officially lit on Saturday night by Sierra Madre Mayor Gene Goss with the assistance of Santa Claus and the Sierra Madre 2017 Rose Float Princesses.

MAD TOWN COUNCIL THANKS ANTONOVICH

By Joan Schmidt

How does one find the appropriate words to thank someone who has gone above and beyond what is expected of a County supervisor? We are talking TWENTY-FOUR years of total commitment to the Monrovia-Arcadia-Duarte County areas once dubbed "No Man's Land" because no one knew who to call when a problem arose. There was no Mayor or City Hall to contact.

That situation ended in June 1993, when the Monrovia-Arcadia-Duarte Town Council was sworn in by Supervisor Antonovich. It was no fluke or easy task. It began when a community meeting was called in December, 1992. Besides the Sheriff's Department, Field Deputy Sarah Flores attended, representing Antonovich. Subsequent meetings and an election process brought the Town Council to fruition.

As a founding member, I recall the first item on the agenda: a meeting with our three neighboring cities, orchestrated by the Supervisor, and he encouraged our working with them. He spearheaded the county purchase of Euclid Ave. property, Duarte; sixteen beautiful residences were built in conjunction with Habitat for Humanity. Council Member Carolyn Ziegler pursued the transit issue and all three areas continue to utilize Monrovia Transit. The Supervisor not only kept Pamela Park open, but brought us the beautiful new gymnasium, cheerleading uniforms one year, the annual beach bus and much more. Who has not enjoyed those annual family concerts at the Arboretum?

As a human being, I greatly admire the caring.

Supervisor because he is the champion of children, Senior citizens, Veterans and even animals. He has worked diligently with the foster care system. Every year he held that awesome Veterans Fair with entertainment and many booths providing services and information for Veterans and their families. He encouraged adoption of cats and dogs too.

A few days ago, I pulled out a huge binder with letters" from my first Town Council years. I was flabbergasted at the amount I received from the Supervisor on matters he could address-such as Pamela Park, and letters from various county heads whom HE had contacted to assist me. A few include: Harry Stone, Public Works-a private road not eligible for county paving, but pot holes on Lincoln would be filled; Rodney Cooper, Parks and Recreationaddressed bathroom stall issue; Richard DeRock, Access Services and Julian Burke regarding MTA Bus Lifts and purchase of bus passes. During the Supervisor's terms of office, a stop sign FINALLY was installed at Daines/Tyler Avenues, Arcadia, more curbs painted red on Longden Ave. to prevent a tragedy at the Arcadia Ball Field, the great new street signs and THANK YOU SUPERVISOR for the new Live Oak Library FINALLY in the works!

I could go on and on and tell of assistance I received from the Supervisor even when I was no longer on the Town Council. I just want to THANK him on behalf of the entire Monrovia-Arcadia-Duarte Town Council and all its residents for what he has done for us over the years. He never stopped

Walking Sierra Madre...The Social Side

by Deanne Davis

"Christmas! It's almost here! My favorite, favorite time of year. Think mistletoe and holly, children's faces... jolly. Carols on the radio, happy smiles each place you go, Presents piled beneath the tree, some for you and some for me."

My favorite walking partner and Mt. Wilson Trail aficionado, John, and I spent Thanksgiving in Texas with the adorable grandchildren. I have to make a horrible confession: We didn't cook a turkey! I know, we have trampled on tradition, but the honey-baked ham made everybody really happy. Coming home last Sunday afternoon, crossing the mountains to make our descent into Ontario Airport, we passed over snow capped peaks, clouds above them colored with a rosy glow as the last rays of sun capped off the day. By the time I realized I could whip out my camera and take a picture, our pilot had started his turn and we were in the clouds. That's what happens when you're overcome with awe.

Reaching Sierra Madre where the streets were still wet from the weekend showers, we were struck anew by how beautiful our town really is. Many folks have already started putting up their Christmas lights and when we got to Kersting Court to see this year's beautiful tree all aglow with lights and covered with ornaments, and our nativity scene, we were so happy to be home. Have you noticed the garland 'round the lampposts with big red bows at the top? And the banners? And that enormous yellow Dreidel?

We have joined the Star Shower crowd after years of icicle lights dangling from our roof. We're still planning to put regular light bulb lights out on the fence, but later. We tried one of the Star Showers out Monday night and were disappointed that all it would do was white stars. Seriously, Star Shower people, I wanted red and green and other designs. We will try out the other one tonight and hope it's more exciting. Meanwhile, our neighbors, Shawn and Javier, had a brilliant idea, to cross our streets with lights. It's fabulous!

Christmas decorations are coming up from the basement and Fall décor is ready to be packed away. My goal is to have everything in place by December 1st. I hope you're having as much fun this holiday season as we are. However, shopping is not a part of our joyful experience! We make it as easy on ourselves as possible, giving all the small people in our world a Target gift card. Their little faces light up with joy and greed when they think of that thing in Target they've been wanting with all their hearts. We did not do Black Friday as we are too cowardly to venture into stores for that event. We will be shopping here in town for the other things we need. Hope you're doing that, too. Speaking of stores, have you seen how cute and Christmas-y Goodie Bags is. Now there's a place to pick up some sweet treats for stocking stuffers.

Fresh poinsettias are in at Trader Joe's and they are gorgeous. Easiest decorating trick ever: three or four poinsettias in a basket on your coffee table. Look stunning and if your house isn't too warm and you remember to water them, they'll last till New Year's. We've even had some that turned into huge plants out on the front terrace...well, until the white flies got to them.

Thinking about Christmas... when we get a little past the new bike, doll or game stage, it gets harder to decide what we want, which made me think of Amy Grant's song, My Grownup Christmas List. Here's just a little of it... you can google it...

> "Do you remember me? I sat upon your knee. I wrote to you with childhood fantasies. Well, I'm all grown up now, But still need help somehow. I'm not a child but my heart still can dream.

So here's my lifelong wish, My grown-up Christmas list, Not for myself, but for a world in need:

No more lives torn apart, Then wars would never start, And time would heal all hearts. And every one would have a friend, And right would always win, And love would never end This is my grown-up Christmas list."

"Think Joy, think peace, think Christ!"

Tree Lighting Goes On in Spite of Wind

By Dean Lee

City officials had high winds on their minds Friday afternoon as they got ready for the year's official Mayor's tree lighting ceremony held at 6 p.m. in front of city hall. The festive ceremony was held a day after the fifth anniversary of the historic 2011 windstorms that damaged nearly 5,500 trees in Pasadena.

'This was a little déjà vu for some of the folks," said Pasadena Public Information Officer William Boyer. "Everyone pulled together and we got public works to bring out a lot of extra sand bags,"

He said they doubled the number of sand bags at the base of the 22 foot White Fir, the center of the ceremony. Boyer added that they also made sure everything was safe, "like the lights that are out there and out in Santa's Village, there was going to be more of a display, but we didn't set that up because through Jan. 3.

Kennedy, Tyron Hampton and metal fence off of Lake Ave. Andy Wilson, lit up White Fir in the Ćity Hall Rotunda.

Tornek said he was proud of the city and the real sense of expected through today. community, "We're going to count down from 10, we are going to do that together, and if it all goes right we'll see the tree light up," he said to the hundreds of people waiting. Soon after Santa Clause make a grand entrance, to the cheering crowd, atop a Pasadena Fire truck. Attendees stood in line to take pictures with Santa as artificial snow flurries fell around them.

Boyer said this year's tree came from Grants Pass Oregon. The city had, for years, purchased the trees through Burkard Nurseries, but the nursery closed in August after owner Frank Burkard Jr. retired.

Boyer said there is a difficulty in finding a large real tree "I would have liked to stay local but I exhausted all the local nurseries [to get a large tree]."

HOW THESE COMMON ASSETS CAN AFFECT YOUR FINANCIAL AID ELIGIBILITY

Financial aid is a valuable resource for students and their families. And a child going off to college is one of life's biggest events. Unfortunately, certain assets you acquire may adversely affect student financial aid eligibility. That's why careful financial planning is particularly important for families with college age children.

Federal financial aid eligibility is calculated using many variables, parental income and assets being some of the most important. Income and assets can increase the EFC, or Expected Family Contribution. The EFC is a measure of the family's ability to pay for college. But strategic financial planning can help you save funds for college without increasing your EFC and reducing your child's financial aid eligibility. Let's look at the ways some common assets affect financial aid eligibility.

Retirement Accounts: 401(k)s, and Roth and traditional IRAs are not used to determine your EFC. However, funds withdrawn from these accounts, even if used for college expenses, are counted as income and thus can affect your EFC.

Home Equity: Federal financial aid calculations do not include equity in the parents' primary residence. Individual institutions, however, may include equity when determining aid

UGMA/UTMA accounts: These can be considered either the parents' or the student's asset, depending on how the account is titled and who is named as beneficiary.

Family Owned Businesses: The value of small family owned businesses is not included in the federal aid calculation, if at least 50% is owned and controlled by the family, and it has less than 100 employees.

Life Insurance Policies and Annuities: The cash values of these assets are not included in the federal aid calculation.

Mutual Funds: The value of mutual funds is considered an asset, while distributions and capital gains are considered income. This is an important distinction because the portion of income that can be included in the federal aid calculation is much more than the portion of assets that can be included.

529 Savings Accounts and Coverdell ESAs: These are typically considered assets of the parents. Withdrawals are not included, unless coming from a third-party account, such as a grandparent's.

As you can see, planning for college requires you consider many factors, such as which assets can affect financial aid and just how they do so. You can maximize your student's financial aid eligibility, however, by developing a financial plan that will allow you to take advantage of asset exclusions when filing the FAFSA. After all, preserving assets is a key component to successful estate planning.

Notes from the Sierra MadrePlayhouse

CHRISTMAS AT THE PLAYHOUSE

By Artistic Director, Christian Lebano

December has arrived and everyone seems to be in full-on holiday mode! Have you made your plans to see A Little House Christmas yet? We've gotten some lovely reviews of the show: Frances Baum Nicholson says in the Pasadena Star-News: "Sierra Madre Playhouse has pushed aside Dickens for Laura Ingalls Wilder, and brought back "A Little House Christmas" first produced there two years ago. This year's production is ... a revelation. With a new, strong and naturalistic cast, a director who understands how to make the piece flow, and a feel of continuity this year's "Little House" proves charming and sweet..."

Every theater has its traditional Holiday show and most rely on Dicken's A Christmas Carol but because of our mission to stick to the American Experience that is not available to us (and I'm so glad - because as much as I love that story - I'm tired of that being my only choice at Christmas.) Finding A Little House Christmas was a perfect fit for our theater - it celebrates America, it is based on truly classic tales by Laura Ingalls Wilder, AND its message of love and simplicity seems a wonderful antidote to the current over-hyped shopping mania of our contemporary Christmas season.

I don't think that we could do this show every year, but may bring it back every second year - I'm already looking at a couple of wonderful stories for next year. Do make the Playhouse part of your celebration this year! A Little House Christmas runs until December 23 and some shows are already

On Sunday, December 18 we'll feature our first collaboration with Sierra Madre Music when Jessica Pierce and Almer Imamovic perform as the AlmaNova Duo with special guest vocalist Abram Poliakoff in "A Classical Christmas" concert. If you have never heard them perform you are in for a special treat. Jessica has agreed to help me curate the music series and we have many wonderful things planned for the next year - including our on-going collaboration with the Colburn School of Music. Tickets for the Christmas Concert are $20 for adults and $15 for youth 21 and under. I hope we'll see you there.

We are now reaching out to our supporters and donors to make commitments of support for the next year. You each should be receiving your solicitation letters soon and when you do, I hope you will consider making a generous gift to SMP. I've spoken of some of our dreams and plans, to make them a reality we will need the help of our friends, old and new, in our Marquee Giving Circle. Please help us keep SMP as a vital and treasured part of this community. Groucho Gala on Sunday, December 4 is almost sold-out! All proceeds go to the Playhouse - Frank Ferrante is donating his performance to us and your tickets are tax-deductible after the first $30- it's going to be a fantastic evening, I can't wait!

As always we do it for you - our SMP family. Your support and loyalty mean so much to us. For tickets please call Mary in the box office at 626.355.4318. Hope to see you soon!

"In this book you will find common-sense approaches to help you to be a good man, a great dad and a loving husband. I have invested fifty-five years into researching this book. Like any good scientist, trial and error have played a major part in my findings. Wisdom is about learning from what we have done or what others before us have experienced, and evolving as a result. It is my hope that the wisdom I share with you here will make your journey towards a brilliant life a straighter road, allowing you to get there faster" (Bradley Brown). A wonderful book. Winner of the Heartland Prize, Anthill follows the thrilling adventures of a modern-day Huck Finn, enthralled with the "strange, beautiful, and elegant" world of his native Nokobee County. But as developers begin to threaten the endangered marshlands around which he lives, the book's hero decides to take decisive action. Edward O. The Book of Joy: Lasting Happiness in a Changing World by Dalai Lama, Desmond Tutu

Two great spiritual masters share their own hard-won wisdom about living with joy even in the face of adversity. The occasion was a big birthday. And it inspired two close friends to get together in Dharamsala for a talk about something very important to them. The friends were His Holiness the Dalai Lama and Archbishop Desmond Tutu. The subject was joy. Both winners of the Nobel Prize, both great spiritual masters and moral leaders of our time, they are also known for being among the most infectiously happy people on the planet.From the beginning the book was envisioned as a three-layer birthday cake: their own stories and teachings about joy, the most recent findings in the science of deep happiness, and the daily practices that anchor their own emotional and spiritual lives. Both the Dalai Lama and Archbishop Tutu have been tested by great personal and national adversity, and here they share their personal stories of struggle and renewal. Now that they are both in their 80s, they especially want to spread the core message that to have joy yourself, you must bring joy to others. Most of all, during that landmark week in Dharamsala, they demonstrated by their own exuberance, compassion, and humor how joy can be transformed from a

A 2016 REPORT: MILLENNIALS & THEIR SMARTPHONE HABITS

A staggering 85% of millennials own smartphones, making them the largest generational group in the USA to own a smart device. 87 percent of American Millennials say their smartphone never leaves their side. Millennials have reported feeling increasingly depressed and anxious due to smartphone use. The fear of missing out(FOMO) and the need to check their phones compulsively are also commonly reported side effects of the same. Millennials are also annoyed by the amount of time they spend on smartphones. One study reported that M's check their phones as much as 167 times a day They also don't like the pressure to consistently document their lives, as well as security concerns with regard to stolen data and other security variables. 82% of millennials check their smartphones within an hour of getting up. 38% of millennials have taken a call while driving, only 25% of them have a hands-free set... 43% of millennials can't go to the toilet without their smartphone, with full-time employees and men being the most affected. One in three millennials checks their phones right after sex while twice as many men than checking. No doubt Smartphone use is highly addictive.

women have checked their phones during sex. Contrary to popular belief, the large majority of millennials (64%) neither sexts or send naked selfies. More than half of all millennials now only browse the internet on their smartphones, what's more - among teenagers, it's 91%. To be fair, millennials have many compelling reasons for using their smartphones: Experian data show that roughly one in five millennials (again, more than other age groups) use their phones to read the news during a typical week, and millennials are more likely than other cohort to use their phones to stay in touch with friends. What's more, Pew data shows that millennials are more likely than other groups to use their phones to look at educational content, find and apply for jobs and learn more about a health condition. For the rest of us:The majority (89 per cent) of Americans check their smartphones "at least a few times a day," while 36 per cent admit they are "constantly checking and using" their phones, some can't go longer than a few minutes and others can last longer than 24 hours without

BUBBLES ARE IN SEASON

This week we go back to basic training, after all week are just weeks away for Christmas a few years back and un-named restaurant had a sandwich board in front of their restaurant and it said come on in and try Sal's Award winning Chili, the local Health Inspector (not sure if he was a fan of chili) wanted to see the "Award" , the restaurant was unable to produce documentation and was ordered to erase the claim. It was the Health Dept. responsibility to enforce truth in advertising. If I've seen it once I have seen it a hundred times, banners for a Champagne Sunday Brunch. Champagne? No way. California produces some top-notch sparkling wine, many are produced in the Methode champenoise. But, any inspection will reveal that it is not real Champagne, though yes, Champagne is sparkling wine. Real Champagne is made from white grapes, usually chardonnay: red grapes such as pinot and sometimes they are blended. If you find a brunch that serves real champagne by all means let me know me and the Health inspector will be first in line.

Here are two sparkling wines to consider for the upcoming summer

Domaine Chandon was my father Elmer Dills' favorite sparkling wine, so much so that he'd often wait for those great 30% off wines sales and literally stock up his garage with it. The amazing part of this is that price hasn't changed much over the past few years. Retail $18 you can find it for $14 on sale.

My favorite sparkler is top of the sparkling wine price ladder, but well worth it. Domaine Carneros Brut. This estate bottles sparkling wine that comes as close to the champagne variety bottled in France that I have come across. It should it comes from the Taittinger family of French wines. The flavor is a little toasty in the beginning with a clean, long finish. Domaine Carneros and Chandon is best enjoyed with oysters and goat cheese, or any friend foods. Domaine Carneros Retail $30 on sale for around $22

JUST FOR BEST FRIENDS

SOMETHIN' LOVIN' FROM YOUR OVEN

Happy

by Chris Leclerc

A few years ago I received a beautiful bundle of holiday goodies from a dear friend and fellow dog-lover. Inside the package was an amazing assortment of tasty goods for me and the hubby to enjoy but it also included a bag of home-baked dog biscuits for my girls, Tater and Molly. Well, I must say they loved her for it! I also thought it was a great gift idea, so I decided to try baking a few dog treats of my own to give away in the spirit of the holiday season.

The concept of cooking home-made eatables for my pets has always interested me because I know if I am preparing it, I can control what goes into it and I like to select healthy, nutritious ingredients that are good for their particular needs.

I had never baked snacks or treats for my dogs before, so I made my first attempt soon after realizing how much my girls enjoyed that gift basket we had recently received. To help get the ball rolling I called on a few friends to see if they had any tried & true recipes they'd used and would like to recommend.

Among the canine cookie concoctions I collected, my attention was drawn particularly to a couple given to me by one of my clients. She occasionally bakes for her awesome foursome as I like to call her beautiful brood of four small dogs, all of whom enjoy the home-baked treats she prepares and keeps for them in a cookie jar on the kitchen counter.

During my visits to her home, I've noticed the dogs showing interest in the cookie jar, and they seem to know those treats are to be given on special occasions only. Now and then they'll appeal to me for a little something from of the loving jar, and I am happy to oblige, now and then! Believe me, being catered to is nothing new for that four-legged crew, but this doggie-ma says her pups like bones baked at home far more than those she brings home from the store.

Here are the recipes my dear friend/client shared with me. While home-made treats may require a little time and effort, I do believe our pets are worth it. I encourage all my pup-owning pals to try one or both of these recipes. And if you do, I hope you'll enjoy making use of them. Be careful not to use ingredients that may not agree with your pup's palate - particularly where food allergies are of concern. I found lots of recipes on line, many designed for dogs with special dietary needs, so there's sure to be something there to fit your pet.

Happy Holidays to all you animal lovers out there, and bon appetite to your beloved canine companions!

DELICIOUS DOG BISCUITS

Source: Gourmet / December 2005

Ingredients: 3 1/2 cups whole-wheat flour, 1 ¾ cups cornmeal, 1 ¾ cups old-fashioned rolled oats, ½ cup toasted wheat germ, ½ cup packed light brown sugar, 1 tbsp baking powder, 1 ½ tsp salt, ¾ cups cold, unsalted butter cut into tbsp. size pieces, 1 cup, plus 1 tbsp water, ½ cup fresh flat-leaf parsley, ½ cup chopped fresh mint leaves, 1 large egg

Special Equipment: A pastry or bench scraper and a bone-shaped dog biscuit cookie cutter

Directions: Pulse flours, cornmeal, oats, wheat germ, brown sugar, baking powder and in salt in a food processor until evenly combined. Add butter and pulse until mixture resembles coarse meal with pea-size butter lumps. Add 1 cup water and pulse until a coarse, dense dough forms.

Turn out onto a lightly floured surface and knead in parsley and mint until well distributed.

Gather, then halve dough with scraper. Form into 2 balls and flatten each into a 6-inch disk.

Put oven racks in upper and lower thirds of oven and preheat to 350 degrees F. Roll out 1 disk of dough into a round (1/3 inch thick) on a well-floured surface with a rolling pin. (If dough becomes too soft to roll out, wrap in plastic and chill until firm.) Cut out as many biscuits as possible and arrange about ¼ inch apart on a baking sheet.

Gather scraps and re-roll, then cut out more biscuits. Repeat with remaining dough using another baking sheet.

Whisk together egg and 1 tbsp water. Brush biscuits with egg wash and bake, switching position of sheets halfway through, until tops are golden brown, about 35 minutes total. Turn off oven and dry biscuits * Biscuits keep about 1 month, layered between sheets of wax paper or parchment in an airtight container.

City of Sierra Madre Public Hearing Notice

The City of Sierra Madre MUNICIPAL CODE TEXT AMENDMENT 16-04 (MCTA 16-04)

Properties in the City of Sierra Madre, County of Los Angeles, State of California

The City of Sierra Madre gives notice, pursuant to State of California law, that the City Council will conduct a public hearing to consider adoption of Municipal Code Text Amendment 16-04 (MCTA 16-04) amending Chapter 17.22-Second Units. The purpose of the MCTA is to achieve compliance with Senate Bill No. 1069 (SB 1069), which expands a property owner or developer's ability to build a second residential dwelling unit on their property and simultaneously restricts discretionary and regulatory authority over such development by introducing new development standards, including allowable floor area, garage conversion requirements, setback provisions, rental restrictions, fire sprinkler requirements, and utility connections. The Planning Commission recommended that the City Council approve MCTA 16-04 and adopt Urgency Ordinance 1383-U.

PLACE OF HEARING City of Sierra Madre

City Council Chambers 232 W. Sierra Madre Blvd. Sierra Madre, CA

All interested persons may attend this meeting and the City Council will hear them with respect thereto.

ENVIRONMENTAL DETERMINATION: An Initial Study was prepared for the 2008-2014 Housing Element in accordance with the City's guidelines implementing the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA). This Initial Study was undertaken for the purpose of deciding whether the measures identified in the Housing Element to fulfill the City's RHNA allocation may have a significant effect on the environment. On the basis of the Initial Study, City staff concluded that they will not have a significant effect on the environment, and a Negative Declaration was adopted by City Council on June 11, 2013. The project also qualifies for a Statutory Exemption pursuant to Section 15061(b)(3), in that the City can say with certainty that there is no possibility that the activity in question may have a significant effect on the environment because adding the regulatory requirement of a conditional use permit in order to build a second story unit is not likely to result in additional construction beyond that already permissible.

APPEAL: A decision by the Planning Commission is subject to a 10-day appeal period to the City Council. If in the future anyone wishes to challenge the decision of the Planning Commission in court, one may be limited to raising the issues that were raised or presented in written correspondence delivered to the Planning Commission at, or before, the scheduled public hearing. For further information on this subject, please contact the Planning and Community Preservation Department at (626) 355-7138.

You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sa le date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 800-280-2832 for information regarding the trustee's sale or visit this Internet Web site http://www. qualityloan.com, using the file number assigned to

The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the property address or other common designation, if any, shown herein. If no street address or other common designation is shown, directions to the location of the property may be obtained by sending a written request to the beneficiary within 10 days of the date of first publication of this Notice of Sale. If the sale is set aside for any reason, including if the Trustee is unable to convey title, the Purchaser at the sale shall be entitled only to a return o f the monies paid to the Trustee. This shall be the Purchaser's sole and exclusive remedy. The purchaser shall have no further recourse against the Trustor, the Trustee, the Beneficiary, the Beneficiary's Agent, or the Beneficiary's Attorney. If you have previously been discharged through bankruptcy, you may have been released of personal liability for this loan in which case this letter is intended to exercise the note holders right's against the real property only.
