South Pasadena Bans Sale of Dogs, Cats, and Rabbits

The South Pasadena City Council passed an ordinance Wednesday banning the sale of dogs, cats, and rabbits in pet stores. The unanimous vote followed appeals by the South Pasadena Animal Commission, local rescue group The Dog Rescuers, local residents, and PETA representatives.

"Cruel puppy, kitten, and rabbit breeding mills churn out animals into a world that's already bursting at the seams with homeless animals," says Tracy Reiman, PETA's executive vice president and a South Pasadena resident. "PETA hopes South Pasadena's progressive example will inspire other cities across the country to ban the sale of animals in pet stores."

According to PETA, every year, more than 6 million dogs and cats end up in U.S. animal shelters, and half of them are euthanized because there aren't enough good homes for them. Countless more end up on the street, where they may starve, freeze, get hit by cars, or endure abuse. PETA encourages caring people to adopt from local animal shelters and never buy from breeders or pet stores.

Pet stores also obtain animals from breeding mills, where animals are denied socialization, exercise, and veterinary care. Mother animals spend lonely lives inside miserable cages, producing litter after litter like breeding machines. Once their bodies wear out and they're no longer profitable, they're killed or abandoned they said.

Reiman said the group is also sending rabbit-shaped vegan chocolates to the mayor and city council members and South Pasadena Police Capt. Mike Neff, who was instrumental in putting forth the ordinance.

ARCADIA UNIFIED DOUBLES TAXPAYERS SAVINGS TO $80 MILLION

ARCADIA-- It was only a couple of months ago that the Arcadia Unified School District announced a bond refinance plan that would result in an estimated $40 million in savings to Arcadia taxpayers. With the refinancing process complete, that figure has more than doubled to over $80 million. In its presentation of the bond refinance results at the May 9 Board of Education meeting, Arcadia Unified's Business Services revealed that it has secured Arcadia taxpayers over $80 million in tax savings.

The increased savings come by way of several favorable factors, but at the forefront is Arcadia Unified's adherence to fiscally responsible practices as reflected by the District's credit rating. The District began the bond refinance process by having two industry-leading credit rating agencies, S&P Global Ratings and Moody's Investors Service, review its credit rating. Each agency rated Arcadia Unified higher than anticipated, AA and Aa1, respectively, citing reasons for the increased rating as Arcadia Unified's conservative management of funds and responsible financial practices along with the District's extremely strong financial condition and high reserve levels.

Out of all of the school districts in California that issued bonds last year, less than 16% received as high a credit rating as Arcadia Unified from either agency. As a result of this exceptional rating, the District received very competitive bids for the bonds, with Bank of America Merrill Lynch, who submitted the lowest bid, selected as the winning underwriter. Another key component to the savings is that the bonds were refinanced as current interest bonds, eliminating all of the previous, more expensive capital appreciation bonds.

"Our district would be hard-pressed to operate at the remarkable level we do without Arcadia taxpayer support," said Arcadia Unified Superintendent Dr. Aragon.

David Vannasdall. "I am incredibly proud of the work our team does in ensuring our district's sound financial status and for exemplifying best practices in management of our taxpayers' money. These savings are exclusively for the taxpayers and come at no cost to the district. I can't be happier with these results."

"It's fantastic to see that just weeks after our voters passed Measure A, securing $77 million for our schools over the next 18 years, we can offer our generous community $80 million in tax savings," expressed Arcadia Unified Board of Education Member Kay

The majority of the refinanced bonds originated from Arcadia Unified's Measure I, Facilities Bond. Approved by voters in November 2006, Measure I, or the Arcadia Neighborhood Schools, Health, Safety, and Repair Measure, authorized $218 million of general obligation bonds to be spent solely for the 1 improvement and modernization of Arcadia Unified School District schools and facilities. Fiscal management of the bonds has been overseen by Arcadia Unified's Business

During the altercation, the victim fell to the ground and was kicked in the head multiple times by the suspect. The suspect was arrested and taken into custody for the assault.

SIERRA MADRE ELEMENTARY STEAM CLASSROOM RIBBON CUTTING

Pasadena, CA – Sierra Madre Elementary School students, faculty, parents, elected officials and community members will celebrate a ribbon cutting ceremony Monday, May 22, 2017 at 7:45 a.m. to mark the opening of the school's new Science, Technology, Engineering, Art, and Math (STEAM) portable classroom. The ceremony will be held during the school's regular morning assembly.

The ribbon cutting will be followed by a tour of the classroom and interactive STEAM activities.

The STEAM classroom consists of science labs and learning spaces, including an outdoor learning lab and planter boxes, engineering blocks, and a 3D printer.

Opening of the STEAM classroom enhances science and environmental learning at Sierra Madre Elementary and supports the Next Generation Science Standards. In addition to a droughtresistant garden and koi pond, the school conserves water by collecting rainwater in barrels which is then used to irrigate landscaping.

The ceremony marks the completion of the portable classroom which was funded by Measure TT, the $350 million school bond initiative approved by voters in 2008.

Built in 1930, the Sierra Madre campus serves 694 prekindergarten through fifth grade students.

THE MISSING PAGE Real Life Tips from Llfe's Instruction Manual CREATING YOUR IDEAL LIFE, START WITH A QUESTION

Each week I encourage my readers to ask themselves a power question. The frequency of the question determines the answer received. I have one for you: Are you better now than you were three years ago?

Ronald Reagan asked a similar question of the American people in 1980, and he landed in the Oval Office. It required voters to look within and to imagine life under a Reagan administration. He won two terms, so his message resonated with voters. They voted for him with thoughts of a better future for themselves and the country.

It is a relevant inquiry because an affirmative answer represents life on a growth path. A negative response means stagnation or regression. Do you want to have a betterlife? What would that look like for you? Would you be experiencing more fun? Would your relationships be richer? Would you have more satisfying work? Would you be using your creativity? ### FOOD AND DRINK & MORE

HAPPY HOUR PASADENA STYLE

A friend in the wine business says that selling wine to restaurants and supermarkets is like "hand-to-hand combat".

TABLE FOR TWO by Peter Dills thechefknows@yahoo.com

I guess what he means is there is a lot of competition. Wines lists have certainly evolved in the past twenty years. The happy hour scene in the San Gabriel Valley has really heated up. It used to be that McCormick and Schmick's was the only game in town for upscale surroundings and low prices. Although the time of the $1.99 burgers and $3 beer is long gone, there are four restaurants in a one-mile radius that are fighting for your last dollar with some pretty impressive wine/beer selections.

First, how did the happy hour first come into our lives? It was an old Navy term - the sailors would get a break from their daily activities and drink beer and fight on the ship. Drinking on the ship was soon outlawed and the "happy" part went away. During Prohibition, adults would meet in speakeasies or friends' homes before going out to dinner. Since it was illegal, alcohol could not be served in restaurants, so friends would say, "let's meet for happy hour". It took some forty years for restaurants and bars to catch on with drinks and food specials, though some states, to this day have banned the term "happy hour".

Sip and share at Del Frisco's from 4 PM to 6:30 PM. Their menu has what is called food to fight over", including deviled eggs, pork nachos and waygu corn dogs, a nice selection of wines (including a Josh Cellars Cab that will go well any other appetizers). What I like is that they have all of their tap beers for $6, and all sip and share items are reasonably priced at $7. Get the White Sangria, a perfect drink for summer, plus it comes with a popsicle! I wish they had a bit more food to fight over, but the price is right. 55 S. Lake Ave Pasadena. Various locations

Paul Martins', also on South Lake, starts at 3 PM and has $6 beers and wines from $6 to $10. If you get the burger for $16, they throw in the beer gratis. The educated Guess Cabernet ($14) is a stand-out. 455 S. Lake Pasadena. Various locations

As far the food, Ruths Chris gets the nod over the others. Their Swizzle and Stir menu is $9 and includes a steak sandwich that is the bargain of all bargains. Happy hour includes selected mixed drinks and wines by the glass. 369 E. Colorado Blvd. Pasadena. Various locations

Alexander's, located at the aforementioned McCormick's old spot, offers their Social Hour. This is definitely a business hour with no shortage of incredible eats at more of a white linen price, but still a reduced price point. Try the Waygu Burger ($17) and the Imperial Waygu Pastrami ($23) which goes great with Simmone Brut $9. If draft beer is your style, try Anderson Valley ale ($4). Stop here Monday through Friday 5 PM-6:30PM. 199 N. Los Robles Pasadena

CIMINO, ENGELAND AND HENDERSON WIN KIWANIS CHILI COOK-OFF

The Sierra Madre Kiwanis Club held its' annual Chili Cook Off on Saturday to a full house at the city's recreation center. Rocking to the beat of JJ's Jukebox, members were able to judge the culinary skills of 9 amateur contestants in two categories. Celebrity Food Critic Peter Dills awarded the Critic's Choice Award to Sierra Madre Public Works Director Chris Cimino for his special recipe bourbon enhanced Chili. Attendee's voted and gave the People's Choice Award to none other than Kiwanis' own Immediate Past President and Mountain Views News Publisher Susan Henderson (pictured above with current President Judy Webb-Martin). Henderson served up her secret recipe NOLO-West (New Orleans/West Coast) Turkey Chili over jalepeno

There was also another competition among the city employees who entered and City Manager Gabe Engeland now has a new nameplate on his desk which identifies him as the, "2017 Best Chef At City Hall". Engeland's chili was good and spicey! City staffer James Carlson also was a runner up in the main competition. The guys at city hall proved one thing....they sure can cook!

The event, formerly known as the Boot Skootin' Boogy, is the brain child of Kiwanian Joe Pergola and over the last six years has raised thousands of dollars to support the Paul Magaris Grant Fund which provides financial support to the community's youth activities.

The Sierra Madre Kiwanis Club was founded in 1927 and is a part of Kiwanis International. The SM Club is celebrating its 90th year. It's motto is, "Serving the children of the world, one child, one community at a time. In addition to the individual grants, the group also supports the city's Halloween Contest, Christmas Trees in Kersting Court, the Huck Finn Derby, the Library's Summer Reading Program (Sierra Madre Public Library) and much more!

Stop by The Lodge any Tuesday at noon and learn more about Kiwanis and listen to the Guest Speakers on a wide variety of topics. ,

SHOULD ALL BABY BOOMERS GET TESTED FOR HEPATITIS C?

Dear Savvy Senior,

I've recently read that all baby boomers should get tested for hepatitis C. Is this really necessary, and if so, what are the testing and treatment procedures? Healthy Boomer

Dear Healthy,

It's true. Both the U.S. Preventive Services Task Force and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) recommend that all baby boomers - people born from 1945 through 1965 - get a hepatitis C test.

The reason is because baby boomers account for 75 percent of the 3 million or so hepatitis C cases in the U.S. Those that are infected are at very high risk of eventually developing liver cancer, cirrhosis or other fatal liver diseases.

Most hepatitis C infections occurred in the 1970s and 1980s, before there were tests to detect them and before the nationOs blood supply was routinely screened for the virus.

Hepatitis C is transmitted only through blood, so anyone who received either a blood transfusion or an organ transplant prior to 1992 is at increased risk too. So are health-care workers exposed to blood, and people who injected drugs through shared needles. The virus can also be spread through microscopic amounts of infected blood that could occur during sex, from sharing a razor or toothbrush, or getting a tattoo or body piercing at an unsterile shop.

Most people that have hepatitis C don't know they're infected because there are no symptoms until their liver becomes severely damaged. It can actually take 30 years for people to show any signs of the virus, but by then, it may be too late to treat. But if it's detected in time, new treatments are now available Assistance to Pay for Treatment? that can cure it.

Testing and Treatment

If you're between ages 52 to 72, or fall into one of the previously listed high risk categories, you should see your primary care doctor for a basic blood test to determine whether you have ever been infected with hepatitis C. This is a relatively inexpensive test and medical care.

If the test is negative, no further tests are needed. But, if the test is positive, you'll need another test called HCV RNA, which will show whether the virus

If you test positive, you have chronic hepatitis C and will need to talk to your doctor about treatment options. If you're infected, but have no liver damage, your doctor should monitor your liver at your annual

The main treatments for chronic hepatitis C today are several new FDA approved antiviral medications that have a 95 percent cure rate. Compared to older treatments, these new medications have minimal side effects. Unfortunately, all the new drugs are very expensive, a 12-week treatment course can cost anywhere from $50,000 to $90,000.

Not all health insurance plans, including Medicare Part D plans, cover all prescribed medications for hepatitis C. And due to the expensive nature of these medications, most insurance plans require that you meet several requirements in order to get coverage.

If your insurance provider doesn't cover the antiviral therapy your doctor recommends, there are financial assistance options available. To look for help, visit HEPC.liverfoundation.org and put your cursor on "Resources" and click on What if I need Financial

TAKING THE FIRST STEPS TO EXPLORE CLIMATE ON PROXIMA B

The quest to discover whether a planet orbiting our closest neighboring star, Proxima Centauri (4.2 light-years or 25 trillion miles from Earth), could support life has taken a new, exhilarating twist.

The planet was only discovered in August 2016, and is thought to be of similar size to Earth, creating the possibility that it could have an Earth-like atmosphere. Scientists from the University of Exeter have embarked on their first, tentative steps to explore the potential climate of this exoplanet, known as Proxima B.

Early studies have suggested that the planet is in the habitable zone of its star Proxima Centauri-the region where, given an Earthlike atmosphere and suitable structure, it would receive the right amount of light to sustain liquid water on its surface. Now, the team of astrophysics and meteorology experts has undertaken new research to explore the potential climate of the planet, towards the longer term goal of revealing whether it has the potential to support life.

Dr. Ian Boutle, lead author of the paper, explained: "Our research team looked at a number of different scenarios for the planet's likely orbital configuration using a set of simulations. As well as examining how the climate would behave if the planet was 'tidally-locked' (where one day is the same length as one year), we also looked at how an orbit similar to Mercury, which rotates three times on its axis for every two orbits around the Sun (a 3:2 resonance), would affect the environment."

Dr. James Manners, also an author on the paper added: "One of the main features that distinguishes this planet from Earth is that the light from its star is mostly in the near-infrared. These frequencies of light interact much more strongly with water vapor and carbon dioxide in the atmosphere, which affects the climate that emerges in our model."

The team found that both the tidally-locked and 3:2 resonance configurations result in regions of the planet able to host liquid water. However, the  $3.\overline{2}$  resonance example resulted in more TRAVELING AT THE SPEED OF LIGHT, a radio substantial areas of the planet falling within this temperature range. Additionally, they found that the expectation of an eccentric orbit, could lead feasible—or desirable—to send such a message is to a further increase in the "habitability" of this another matter, and how that message could be "fleecing" the public to the fledgling SETI (Search MtnViewsNews.com.

I was a bit nonplussed, even though this scene has become way too normal. To speak on a cell phone to someone else while handling a paying customer is the antithesis of service. My friend told me I was making a big deal out of nothing. "Besides, I do that all the time at my office and home," she smiled. "Multi-tasking."

"Really?" I responded. "So that's your fancy word for doing two things at the same time and doing them both poorly?"

why I felt that we'd just had less than an ideal interaction. Perhaps it was because the clerk's mind was elsewhere, and that I believe you really cannot do two things simultaneously, and do them lower cost, more quickly. I had to think about each well, which is why it is illegal to talk on a cell phone and drive. I asked my friend to explain what sort of "multi-tasking" she does at work.

I think it's a somewhat fraudulent, self-deceptive concept where you believe you're doing more than you actually can do. It's a belief that by moving a lot of stuff around, that your quantity is more important than quality. This is probably one of the reasons why the quality of goods and services has declined.

MY ADVICE: TWICE IS JUST AS NICE

Every veteran husband knows if he wants to technical name for this is "re-wife psychology."

We have survived nine congregations, 19 homes, three children with nine grandchildren and all without compromising our relationship. My sanity is another issue.

Throughout our marriage, we have always held to the advice not to go to bed angry. Of course, there have been a few sleepless nights. I have a simple rule: do not close your eyes if there is an angry woman in the vicinity.

I honestly can say our marital relationship through the years has been most amicable. Since our marriage, my wife and I spend a lot of time working together and we never seem to get bored with one another.

We are a great team. She puts up with me and I let her. It works wonderfully and we have been able to accomplish a good deal together.

Only one area where we disagree and there may might add, have survived quite happily. I suppose no relationship is absolutely perfect this side of the Pearly Gates. Not to boast, but I have my wife beat in this one area. I do not often get the upper hand with her; in fact, I cannot remember any other occasion where this has occurred.

Nevertheless, we have come to a meeting of the but it has happened to me many times. minds on this subject. Really, if you don't mind, the meeting doesn't matter.

Where my wife and I disagree concerns reruns. She hates reruns and I love them. If I enjoy a book or a movie or a television program, I like seeing it again and again. Not my wife. "There are too many things I haven't seen yet," she argues, "to watch something the second time.

Of course, there is something to what she says. Nevertheless, I still enjoy seeing or reading something I like the second time or more.

My favorite movie of all times is "Old Yeller." Thanks to the invention of video, I own my own copy of this classic and never tire of watching it.

My wife, on the other hand, tires of me watching it. There is nothing quite like curling up in my favorite chair with a soda and a mountain of popcorn watching "Old Yeller" on a winter's eve. If you have seen the movie, you know the closing scene is the real tearjerker. I do not want Old Yeller to die. Every time I watch, I cross my fingers and hope this might be the time Old Yeller makes it.

I do not like to be negative. I want to be optimistic about things and put a positive spin on everything. One day, I am sure, I will watch it and to my happy surprise, Old Yeller will make it.

I have seen it 973 times so far and it has not changed. Nevertheless, you never know. Stranger things have happened.

My experience has taught me that the really good things in life, only improve the more they absolutely refuse to qualify that statement.) Although the Bible is more than a classic, it does bear much repeating. I have found that the more I read the Bible the more I get out of it. A passage that I have read 20 times before becomes new and fresh the next time I read it.

I cannot explain this wonderful phenomena,

King David understood this as no other person in the Bible. In one passage, he testifies to the importance of God's Word in his own life. "Thy word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not sin against thee" (Psalms 119:11).

The Apostle Paul said this about the Bible, "All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness:" (2 Timothy 3:16). The Bible is a marvelous book that bears repeating. The more I read it, the more I enjoy it.

From 1932 to 1943, this stunning early California Hacienda-style estate was owned by Herbert Hoover, Jr., son of the 31st president of the United States. President and Mrs. Hoover visited often and the home was known as "The Winter White House". It was originally built in 1928 by local businessman, Frank Picard, and the estate included almost 6 acres of land. In 1932, when the Hoovers moved in, they added a children's wing. #### LA COUNTY'S DYNAMIC DUO:

Kathryn Bargar and Debra Mendelsohn to the Rescue!

By Joan Schmidt

A few years ago, a term limit was set for the LA County Board of Supervisors and I was upset. For the 25+ years, Supervisor Antonovich worked tirelessly to improve our area. He endorsed Kathryn Bargar as his successor. I had met this awesome lady, but could she fill his shoes? Supervisor Bargar brought in Debra Mendelsohn, another change, as her Chief Deputy.

At last night's Town Council | Meeting, Mendelsohn gave a report on Bargar's activities and I couldn't write fast enough to record the updates!

 California Avenue-The

deplorable condition was mentioned at the April Meeting. Mendelohn and Bargar discussed and prioritized it. Funding was secured for improvement and work began within days. One must realize the vast size of our Fifth District. To put us first WAS a big deal.

- Supervisor Bargar and Deputy Mendelsohn are working with all three cities-Monrovia, Arcadia, and Duarte and surrounding county areas to combat crime. Dialogue and their working together has been encouraged.
- Supervisor's aggressive approach to crime includes a LASD Summer Enforcement Team made available by some of her discretionary funds.
- Funding also provides two additional deputies for increased weekend saturation patrol and LASD's Operations Safe Streets.
- A special grant for the Monrovia-Arcadia-Duarte Town Council to sponsor the Summer Concert Series at Station Square and for operational costs such as printing flyers and Certificates, purchasing awards and other needs.
- A future LA County Fair Day with the MAD Unincorporated areas. Currently "Cities" have days with reduced admission and special events.
- Town Council will have a Booth at Supervisor 405 S. Santa Anita Ave. Arcadia, CA 91006

Bargar's Annual Veterans Fair. The Monrovia-Arcadia-Duarte Town Council, Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department and Los Angeles County Parks and Recreation Department are VERY GRATEFUL to Supervisor Bargar and Chief Deputy Debra Mendelsohn. Both of these fine ladies are working nonstop to bring positive changes to our areas.

At the Town Council Meeting, Captain Dave Flores thanked Supervisor Bargar and Chief Deputy Mendelsohn for their great support and funding. He introduced the Special Summer Enforcement Team- Sgt. Jeff Serpa, Deputies Eric Marbach, Steven Provenzano, Monique Moreno and Jose Villanueva and OSS Gang Investigator Deanna Ballesteros.

When Sam Estrada, Pamela Park Director gave his update, he also acknowledged Bargar and Mendelsohn and their great support and funding which helps with special events such as Youth Appreciation Day and Parks after Dark Program.

Student Creates First Synthetic Retina For the Visually Impaired

Until now, all artificial retinal research has used only rigid, hard materials. The new research, conducted by Vanessa Restrepo-Schild, a 24 year old researcher at Oxford University, is the first to successfully use biological, synthetic tissues, developed in a laboratory environment. The study could revolutionize the bionic implant industry and the development of new, less invasive technologies that more closely resemble human body tissues, helping to treat degenerative eye conditions such as retinitis pigmentosa.

DONATE EMPTY PILL BOTTLES TO HELP OTHERS

When we pick up our prescriptions, we take the containers for granted. By contrast, in many countries medicine containers are very difficult to come by. Simply put, qualified medical care is scarce and expensive in impoverished communities.

In developing countries, medicines when actually obtainable are often dispensed into hands, pockets, leaves or any other available container.

Charitable organizations have started collection efforts to help those less fortunate than us. One project was to provide clean, used pill bottles for in Indianapolis, Indiana. The program ceased its collection of this typically disposable resource, information.

giving new purpose to something many of us take for granted.

Animal shelters and boarding kennels often also need prescription bottles to facilitate caring for animals. These organizations often lack adequate resources to purchase bottles for medication distribution.

While it may seem inconceivable that something as small as a pill bottle is worth much, its value as a basic medical resource can make a significant difference to people and animals all over the world. This ties into estate planning because I believe estate planning is about much more than simply passing on your money to the next generation. Instead, it's a whole lifestyle shift towards looking at how you can do the most good in the world while you are living and leave the world a better place after you are gone. And if you are a parent of young children, getting your little one's involved in efforts such as these early in life teaches them what you value and how even small contributions can have a big impact. Passing on your values begins with conscious choices made on a daily basis and estate planning is one of the best ways I know of to consciously plan for a life that truly matters.

Think about it.

YET ANOTHER IMPEACHABLE OFFENSE

Forgive my frequent references to Richard Nixon. It's just eerie how his impeachable behavior is being replicated by the current con man. As Yogi Berra reputedly said, "It's like déjà vu all over again." For instance: When Nixon decided to thwart the FBI's probe of Watergate, he farmed out the job to his top henchman, H.R. Haldeman. On June 23, 1972 - forever memorialized on an Oval Office tape - Nixon decreed that the CIA should tell the FBI to lay off. He told Haldeman to set up a CIA meeting, and he said: "They should call the FBI in and say that 'We wish for the country, don't go any further

That was obstruction of justice. The only difference today is that Donald Trump didn't farm out his obstruction job to anybody. He did it all by himself. In accordance with his motto, as articulated during his 2016 Republican convention speech: "I alone."

During a meeting on Feb. 14 - according to James Comey's contemporaneous memo -Trump ordered Mike Pence and Jeff Sessions to leave the room so that he could speak to the FBI director alone. As Comey later wrote, in a memo shared with associates at the time, Trump asked Comey to drop the FBI probe of paid Russian propagandist Michael Flynn: "I hope you can see your way clear of letting this go, to letting Flynn go. He is a good guy. I hope

After this bombshell exploded, the Trump team predictably insisted that the memo wasn't "truthful or accurate." Decide for yourself who to believe: Comey (who has been writing detailed contemporaneous memos for years), or the sociopathic liar who apparently cleared the room because he didn't want any witnesses.

If you believe Comey - whose memo will inevitably go public - then you'll surely be interested in 18 U.S. Code Section 1505, which deals with "Obstruction of proceeding before departments, agencies, and committees." The key passage:

"Whoever corruptly, or by threats or force, or by any threatening letter of communication, influences, obstructs, impedes, or endeavors to influence, obstruct, or impede the due and proper administration of the law under which any pending proceeding is being had before any department or agency of the United States" is guilty of obstructing justice. (Emphasis

After the Comey memo hit, virtually all the Republicans went AWOL. Fox News was so devoid of Trump defenders that it felt compelled to ignore the story entirely - opting instead to run giant headlines about the Clinton Foundation (I kid you not) and the breathtaking news that Tim Allen's TV show had been cancelled.

Perhaps the Republicans are beginning to realize that they've lashed themselves to a sinking ship. One Republican lawmaker privately told a CNN reporter on Tuesday night that the reaction among his colleagues to the Comey news is "Wide-eyed and WTF."

Jimmy Gurulé, a Notre Dame law professor, former assistant attorney general under George H.W. Bush, and an ex-Treasury undersecretary for enforcement under George W. Bush, says, "If the [Comey] allegations are true, President Trump has committed a serious federal crime." Myra Adams, a McCain campaign aide in '08 and a Bush aide in '04, says, "Grounds for impeachment are defined by whatever the political market will bear. At this writing, one wonders just how much more the political market will bear after only four months of President Trump, and I say this after voting for him!"

And commentator David Gergen, who advised three Republican presidents (including Nixon), connected the dots on CNN, saying, "I think we're in impeachment territory now for the first time ... It looks like [Trump] was trying to impede the investigation. He was using his power to do that, and when James Comey didn't go along with him, when he wasn't his boy,

The GOP's current fig-leaf defense is basically, "We don't yet know if this Comey memo is real." Jason Chaffetz, chairman of the House Oversight Committee, is threatening to subpoena it. (Chaffetz, in his "request" letter to the FBI: "If true, these memoranda raise questions as to whether the president attempted to influence or impede the investigation.") But the big question is what the Republicans will do if or when they actually see the memo. Will they finally stand up for America and fulfill the oath they took to defend it?

"This is no longer about Trump. We know what he is," said former Bush speechwriter David Frum. "It's about Congress and specifically Republicans in Congress. Who are they?"

MAKING SENSE by MICHAEL REAGAN

CHANGING THE CHANNEL ON CONGRESS

I give up.

Ten minutes after I started watching the Senate intelligence committee hearings Thursday morning, I got so frustrated I started looking for a good cartoon show.

What's so aggravating about these staged Congressional hearings is that you know what the Republicans and the Democrats are going to say before you even turn on the

If it's healthcare reform, the right side says it's going to replace Obamacare with something that works -- but then they can't sell their conservative ideas to the public and they don't have the courage to really try.

Meanwhile, the left side says the right is going to let poor people die or throw grandma off a cliff and that only more socialism will save us - and of course the Big Liberal Media always agrees.

If the hearing is about what ex-FBI Director James Comey did or did not say to President Trump before he was fired, as Thursday's was in part, we get the usual predictable partisan BS.

Was anyone rally surprised that Democrats were against Director Comey and wanted his scalp for, they claim, causing their heroine Hillary to lose the election right up until the minute President Trump actually fired him?

Now Schumer and the gang are defending Comey, making phony comparisons to Watergate and calling Trump's quick decision to fire his FBI director somewhere between Nixonian and Hilterian.

The Democrats serving in Congress hate Trump, still can't believe he was freely elected and want to see him impeached, jailed or worse.

At the same time, it's become obvious that most members of the Republican majority have no spines and no genuine conservative principles.

Republicans and Democrats in Washington don't know how to solve anything. They don't know how to work together toward a common goal for us Americans. They only know how to work against us, because their only common bipartisan goal is to stay in office.

They're politicians, first and foremost. They work much harder at self-preservation than they work at helping the rest of the country.

Is it any wonder that every time I sit and watch Congress in action, I say to myself, "Why the heck do I even go to the polls anymore?" No matter how smart and sensible these people are when we vote for them, when they get to DC they turn into self-serving partisans. It's not a joke to say that if one party came up with the cure for cancer, the other party would be against it. It's already become clear to me that the only thing that can change in Washington

Nothing important is going to be solved in the House and Senate with healthcare or taxes in the next four years unless Donald Trump stands up and says to Congress,

No one else has the political courage to take a stand on anything, except for Trump. I used to be bothered by the president not apologizing for his mistakes. Now I

He's far from perfect. But at least he has a pair of you-know-whats - which are surely lacking at other end of Pennsylvania Avenue.
