PUBLIC HEALTH STATEMENT REGARDING FLIGHT ATTENDANT & CORONA VIRUS

Monrovia

LOS ANGELES - The Los Angeles County Department of Public Health (Public Health) received confir-mation from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) that a South Korean flight at-tendant, who was diagnosed with novel coronavirus 2019 (COVID-19) in South Korea and had re-cently visited LA County, was not symptomatic during their time in LA County and did not pose any risk to others while in LA County. The CDC confirmed the flight attendant did not develop symptoms until after departing LA County.

At this time, there are no new cases of COVID-19 in LA County, and there is currently no evidence of person-to-person spread of the virus within LA County. Therefore, the immediate health risk to the general public of exposure to this virus in Los Angeles County is still considered low.

Public Health is carefully assessing the situation as it evolves. Public Health also continues to proac-tively take steps to prevent the spread of this novel coronavirus and to work with healthcare, schools, colleges, and universities, the business community, and State and Federal partners, among others, to prepare for the possibility of additional cases in the future.

"It is likely we will eventually see more cases of the novel coronavirus, in the midst of continuing to see other respiratory illnesses, like the flu. Respiratory infections predominantly spread when people are sick with fever and cough are in contact with others," said Barbara Ferrer, PhD, MPH, MEd, Direc-tor of Los Angeles County Public Health. "Everyone should stay at home when they're sick. This re-quires our employers and schools to be flexible when staff and students are sick and need to stay home."

Residents can continue to enjoy all their usual activities and feel comfortable eating and shopping at restaurants and stores across LA County, and are encouraged to the follow the actions below.

Public Health continues to recommend that the public do the following to protect themselves and to prevent the spread of all respiratory illnesses:

Stay home when you are sick.

Wash your hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds, especially after going to the bathroom; before eating; and after blowing your nose, coughing, or sneezing.

Avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth with unwashed hands.

Limit close contact, like kissing and sharing cups or utensils, with people who are sick.

Clean and disinfect frequently touched surfaces using a regular household cleaning spray or wipe.

Cover your cough or sneeze with a tissue, then throw the tissue in the trash. If you do not have a tissue, use your sleeve (not your hands). Facemasks are most effective when used appropriately by health care workers and people who are Get a flu immunization if you have not done so this season.

Public Health, along with partners in healthcare, state and federal agencies, have systems in place to support appropriate screening and testing for those with an exposure to COVID-19, and healthcare providers are able to provide excellent care to manage respiratory illnesses.

Who will take care of your kids if something happens to you?

- The 6 most common mistakes parents make when naming guardians, even when working with a lawyer – and how to avoid or fix them.
- How to choose the right guardians for your children and ensure your children are never taken from your home or placed with strangers if something happens to you.
- How to ensure your assets are immediately and privately available to the people you've named to care for your children.
- Why a Will alone is simply not enough to ensure your kids are taken care of the way you want, by the people you want, no matter what.

Each participant in this complimentary workshop will leave with fully executed documents naming legal guardians for their minor children!

Stolen Hearse Undisturbed Body, Casket Recovered

A body and casket were recovered Thursday morning, after the hearse had been reported stolen Wednesday night from St. Anthony Greek Orthodox Church in unincorporated Pasadena.

"Out of all the bad decisions you have made, at least make one good one & bring back the deceased person and casket inside the Navigator," Los Angeles Sheriff's Department said in a tweet.

The suspect driving the black Lincoln Navigator, later identified as James Juarez, was arrested after crashing the SUV at around 7:45 a.m. shutting down part of the 110 freeway in Los Angeles.

It was unclear if Juarez knew there was a body in the Navigator. Police said they found the body untouched.

A witness reported seeing the hearse and reported it to police. Juarez rearended another vehicle after a pursuit. At least one police officer was involved in the accident, no one was injured, they said.

According to investigators, the hearse was stolen around 8 p.m. when a mortuary attendant brought another casket into the church.

Juarez was booked on suspicion of grand theft

South Pas: Celebrating 132 Years

Celebrate, Sunday, March 15, the South Pasadena's 132nd birthday with the City of South Pasadena and the South Pasadena Preservation Foundation at the Library Community Room. 18th One City, One Story Community Conversation

To celebrate the 18th year of Pasadena's One City, One Story community reading project, the public is invited to a conversation with Lara Prescott, author of this year's selected novel The Secrets We Kept, Thursday, March 5, at 7 p.m. in Pasadena Central Library's Great Hall, 285 E. Walnut St.

Prescott will discuss her writing The experiences Secrets We Kept. A question and answer session led by Pasadena Public Library Director Michelle Perera will immediately follow. Attendees are encouraged to bring their copies of The Secrets We Kept for the author to sign following the discussion. Prescott's books will also be available for sale and signing following the program. The event is free and open to the public. Parking is available.

The Secrets We Kept is a thrilling tale of secretaries turned spies, of love and duty, and of sacrifice. Inspired by a true story, the novel details a CIA plot to infiltrate the hearts and minds of Soviet Russia, not with propaganda, but with the greatest love story of the twentieth century: Doctor Zhivago. At the height of the Cold War, two secretaries are pulled out of the CIA typing pool and given the assignment of a lifetime. Their mission: to smuggle Doctor Zhivago out of the USSR, where no one dare publish it, and help Pasternak's magnum opus make its way into print around the world. Glamorous and sophisticated Sally Forrester is a seasoned spy who has honed her gift for deceit all over the world--using her magnetism and charm to pry secrets out of powerful men. Irina is a complete novice, and under Sally's tutelage quickly learns how to blend in, make drops, and invisibly ferry classified documents.

The Secrets We Kept combines a legendary literary love story -the decades-long affair between Pasternak and his mistress and muse, Olga Ivinskaya -- with a narrative about two women empowered to lead lives of extraordinary intrigue and risk. From Pasternak's country estate outside Moscow to the brutalities of the Gulag, from Washington, D.C. to Paris and Milan, The Secrets We Kept captures a watershed moment in the history of literature -told with soaring emotional intensity and captivating historical detail. At the center of this unforgettable debut is the powerful belief that a piece of art can change the world.
Author Lara Prescott's debut novel, The Secrets We Kept has been translated into 28 languages and will be adapted for film by The Ink Factory and Marc Platt Productions. Prescott received her master of fine arts degree from the Michener Center for Writers at the University of Texas. Her writing has appeared in The Southern Review, The Hudson Review, Crazyhorse, and more. She lives in Austin, Texas with her husband and cats.

CELEBRATING 90!

ROSEMARY ABERNETHY

Turns 90 and has lived in Sierra Madre over 84 years.

With the gracious help of the Kensington Sierra Madre for the location, Monsieur Crepe for food, and the Bottle Shop for beer and wine Rosemary will be celebrating her 90th birthday on Monday, March 2, 2020 from 5PM to 8PM.

Mayor Pro Tem John Capoccia will be happy to attend Mrs. Abernethy's 90th birthday celebration on March 2nd at the Kensington. He will be presenting her with a proclamation from the City.

Rosemary Abernethy was born on March 2, 1930 at the Pasadena Hospital, which was later named Huntington Memorial Hospital. She came home to Sierra Madre with her parents Tom and Alice Tarwater to an older brother Tom. Her younger brother Ted was born later.

She lived on Windsor Lane at two different locations. The first was next door to the Bakery next to the alley behind the business district. After the bakery burned down, the family moved up Windsor Lane to the corner of Montecito and Windsor. Then moved to the corner of Highland and Lima. She attended Sierra Madre School, Wilson, and Pasadena Junior College.

She met Jim Abernethy at a local malt shop which now houses Wisteria Grill. Had her father known she was at the malt shop she would have been given the "dickens".

She married Jim in 1949 and went to San Diego while he finished his schooling and naval enlistment commitment. She had her first child, Jim, in 1950 and then moved to a home on Berkley Avenue, Pasadena and had her second son Stephen.

In 1955 she had her third son, Mark, and moved back to Sierra Madre; living on Wilson Street across from the Alverno convent.

Her last son, Jon, was born in 1959 at the Sierra Madre Hospital, which sat on the grounds of the current Sierra Madre Kensington.

With a forth son it was necessary to find a larger home and moved to a home on San Gabriel Court in 1959. Rosemary has two grandsons, Trevor and his wife Kendra who live in Washington state, and Kevin and his wife Megan who live in Texas. She also has two great-granddaughters Holly and Charlotte living in Washington.

Rosemary started working wrapping Christmas gifts at Sears in Pasadena on Foothill. The following year she was wrapping gifts at Hinshaw's in Arcadia on Baldwin. She spent time working as a noontime aide at Sierra Mesa School.

Rosemary had worked at the local hardware store, Arnold's, thru family ownership and other owners. She started working at Arnold's Hardware in 1969 working at the front counter and giftware section. Many people in town remember her as the "redhead" in the giftware section, if they did not know her by name. She continued to work there until 2014 amassing over 45 years at the store.

While her husband Jim was elected to the Sierra Madre City Council for 16 years between 1958 to 1978, and Mayor 1965, 1973, and 1977, Rosemary was always out with him at Sierra Madre functions. She met Princess Margaret when she visited the British Home. She participated in the Sierra Madre Extravaganza held at Sierra Madre School, the Sierra Madre carnival, held on-site the current Sierra Madre City Hall and parking lot. She worked on the Sierra Madre Rose Float in the circus tent, before Rose Float Building was built at Sierra Vista Park. Rosemary worked at the Sierra Madre Library Art Fair as a cashier and spent hours prepping donated books for the Sierra Madre Library books sales over the years.

During her life she has lived over 84 years in the City of Sierra Madre and calls it home.

She will be celebrating her 90^{th} birthday on March 2, 2020 at the Sierra Madre Kensington, 245 West Sierra Madre Boulevard, from 5 PM to 8 PM and would love to see you there. The celebration will include food and drinks, so come hungry and thirsty...

WALKING SIERRA MADRE - The Social Side

by Deanne Davis

"It's been a quiet week in Lake Wobegon...the little town that time forgot and the decades cannot improve." Garrison Keillor

Remember "The Prairie Home Companion" that was on the radio from 1974 to 2016. We seldom missed it, especially Garrison's monologue that always began with "It's been a quiet week in Lake Wobegon..." John and I actually got to see The Prairie Home Companion some years ago when our son-in-law, Chuck, and daughter, Leah, took us to the Greek Theater (I think...) and we spent a delightful sunny afternoon watching this charming program unfold.

I was thinking about that as this week has been anything but quiet! Yesterday 12-year old Jessie planned to make popcorn in the microwave and, like so many of us, was doing the task with her mind elsewhere so pressed the "Popcorn" button three times and, as smoke filled the house, the parents came running and arrived just in time to stop what could have been quite a fire. Smoke still lingers in the house. When Jessie and Emily arrived to have dinner at my house last night they reeked of smoke. Pretty exciting. Made me think of the great preacher, Dr. J. Vernon McGee, whose radio program, "Through the Bible Radio" is still playing somewhere today, even though he's been in heaven since 1988. You're probably wondering how I'm going to connect burning microwave popcorn with a great preacher... here it is: Dr. McGee said, "... some believers will enter into heaven with little reward and their clothes smelling like smoke."

I suggested some cinnamon mixed with water in a bowl and allowed to heat up in the microwave. Does wonders when one has cooked fish. Didn't do much for the smoke.

Moving right along, today is Fat Tuesday, tomorrow is Ash Wednesday and just like that, we're in Lent with Easter arriving on Sunday, April $12^{\rm th}$. Lent is a 40-day period when a lot of people think of self-denial, i.e., giving up something; like coffee. Giving up coffee is a very bad idea as here's what happens: headache, fatigue, low energy, irritability, anxiety, poor concentration, depressed mood and tremors, which can last anywhere from two to nine days. Enough time to make everybody in your life wish you'd given up almost anything else, including being anywhere near them. One could consider giving up ice cream, chocolate, tacos, or The National Enquirer as seen when you're in line at the grocery store.

Our pastor one year decided to give up listening to the radio in his car. He almost lost his mind and those 40 days of lent were the longest and most miserable of his life.

Instead of giving up something, think about adding something. No, not candy, unless it's those Cadbury caramel filled chocolate eggs. Think about adding a new practice to your day. This isn't too hard...well, most of the time... but think about making it a practice to say something nice to everyone you encounter. Something along the lines of "that color blue looks really great on you." Consider adding more "thank you's" into your day. You can sprinkle those just about anyplace and they'll fit.

Back to giving up stuff, how about going through your closet and giving up all the stuff you haven't worn for a year. The Goodwill and Salvation Army folks will welcome you with open arms and give you a tax receipt when you give them those shoes that never did fit you very well, the sweater your Aunt Agnes gave you for Christmas five years ago that's a size too small and covered with elves; all the book you've already read that are just collecting dust on your shelves; the clothes your kids have outgrown that are just sitting in their drawers taking up space they need for what actually fits them now. You can do someone else a favor and yourself one, too. Yes, I know, this represents a lot of work but if you do a drawer or a shelf every day, you'll be amazed to see how much progress you'll make and you'll feel so proud of yourself. Treat yourself to a vente Starbucks latte on the way home from Goodwill.

Meanwhile, after all the rain we had recently, the weeds – picture of these big stinkers here - are emerging like never before. I'm pulling fifty of them out of the ground every time I walk out the door and it doesn't seem to make any difference, but I figure all that bending over has to be good for me. The biggest and healthiest ones are just beyond my reach by my back wall and the dandy tool I got at Home Depot doesn't reach them either. I wonder if I could convince my garden to give up weeds for lent. Probably not.

Thrilled to see RT Rogers Brewing Co. is celebrating their second anniversary on March 7th with what sounds like a great party. I first met Ryan Rogers in March of 2017. He was up to his hips in a deep hole in the ground, wielding a shovel and creating an even bigger, deeper hole, along with lifetime family friend, Dave Bergman. His mom and dad, Joanna and Kelly, were there to lend moral support as the diggers carved out a trench for the pipes which would connect to the restrooms. Ryan, in addition to creative shoveling, is a brewmaster of the finest kind, having been brewing beer since he was 16 years old, fermenting grains in his closet and experimenting in his mother's kitchen. RT Rogers Brewing Co. has grown into a delightful place to spend an hour or so and enjoy one of their craft brews. I'm hoping to be there on the 7th to celebrate with them.

One last thought...rumor has it that Benjamin Franklin originally said, "Beer is proof that God loves us and wants us to be happy." Benjamin would really have enjoyed RT Rogers Brewing Company. You will, too!

CELESTINO'S REVISITED PLUS SPOT LIGHT ON SIERRA MADRE

Mayor Pro Tem Rachelle Pastor is my guest this Sunday Morning on Go Country 105, each week I visit through the radio a different California city. This week is Sierra Madre !!!

Just this past week I visited an old friend, Celestino's, on South Lake. It's right there for the entire world to see, but for some reason I continue to pass by on a daily basis. Thankfully my assignment for the week was to find the best of the best of the Italian family restaurants in the Pasadena area. I found it in Celestino's. Truly a gem in Pasadena. Where do I start, food or service?

Let's start with the service. I was just a bit early for my lunch companion, and I thought I was in a day spa. I wasn't sure who the servers or the busboys were, but the attention was superb. Water? Ice tea? Glass of wine?

I wasn't like I was the only one in the restaurant. The restaurant has a covered front patio, a main dining room, and two areas that can be used for private parties and overflow, plus a covered patio area in the back. For lunch, this place was busy—I think my trend of fancy lunches instead of dinner is catching on. Right off the bat I will tell you that Celestino's looks (and you know I was looking around) to be a business type of lunch spot, not to say I didn't notice two local real estate agents having martinis, I imagine either celebrating or drowning their sorrows. The restaurant itself is pure Italian. There is a service bar big enough to have a drink at while you are waiting for your table, and throughout the restaurant the walls are covered in paintings all representing the Italian Coast, and of course, white linen tables cloth and flowers.

Chef and partner Calogero Drago has set up the menu for that Italian countryside feeling. Keep in mind this was lunch, but Chef Drago did sneak in a few dinner specials. After we started with some very warm and crusty sourdough bread with olive oil, we had Insalata Frutti Di Mare -- for you English-only readers that is a mixed seafood salad with plenty of mussels, clams, calamari rings and fish. Next was Calamari Fritti (which, if you have been following my column, you know I have to order every time). Celestino's serves them with both the rings and the tentacles - yummy! Now, on to our great entrees: whenever I see gnocchi on the menu I order it, and if the first twenty minutes of our visit were any indication on how the meal was going to be, I knew the gnocchi was going to be great. Layered with a lobster sauce and peppers this was the beginning of a beautiful relationship... and the start of a lot more. I had asked the Chef for half portions, and I was beginning to think he didn't believe me, as next up was the Pappardelle con Mezzenzane e Scamorza Affumicate. Translation: Fettuccini with eggplant and smoked mozzarella. For those of you who are calling Celestino's right now for a reservation, I don't blame you, but there is more. Our server, Mario, brought us out Mushroom Soufflé with Fontana cheese and black truffles from the dinner menu, and then the Rack of Lamb on fresh mint. Then, my head spun around as my server forced us to try the Cannoli for dessert -- that was terrific. Don't let the menu translation scare you, Celestino's with the service and the food is arguably the best that I have had in some time.

Lunch and dinner prices reasonable; if you have a little extra dough to spend, there are over 200 wines by the bottle, many of them familiar names. For business or catching up with a friend I recommend lunch, for a night on the town or a romantic dinner I recommend dinner.

Tune in This Sunday for my Radio Show on Go Country 105 FM, at 8 AM

ARCADIA ADOPTS COMPREHENSIVE PENSION MANAGEMENT PLAN, SAVING $85 MILLION

February 25, 2020 - On February 18, 2020, the Arcadia City Coun- pensions cil unanimously adopted a comprehensive Pension Management Plan to address the City's $154 million in unfunded pension liabilities. After several months of careful review and consideration, the Citizen's Financial Advisory Committee (CFAC) recommended a tax increase to help address the City's rising cost of services, primarsix-point strategy to reduce the City's long-term pension costs by over $85 million dollars.

"This plan is a comprehensive approach to tackling the biggest issue of our time," said City Manager Dominic Lazzaretto. "It creates flexibility to address whatever surprises may come our way without exposing the City to excessive levels of risk." The Pension Management Plan focuses on the following:

Use of reserves to prepay existing liabilities

- Refinancing existing debt to lower interest rates to free up
- cash flow Prepaying costs with surplus funds from the voter-approved
- Measure A sales tax increase

CITY OF MONROVIA LAUNCHES COMMUNITY SURVEY FOR MEA-SURE K SPENDING PLAN

MONROVIA, CA - Monrovia community members have an opportunity to share their input on the preliminary spending plan for the new sales tax revenue received from Measure K. Residents, along with in-town business owners, are encouraged to take theMeasure K Preliminary Spending Plan Community Survey, beginning today through April 30. The survey is nine questions and is es-timated to take around ten minutes to complete.

On November 5, 2019, residents of Monrovia voted to approve Measure K, the Keep Monrovia Revenues Local Sales Tax Measure, to ensure new sales tax revenues stay in Monrovia to be rein-vested into the community. Measure K will generate an estimated $4.5 million per year in additional sales tax revenues for the City. Leading up to the election, a preliminary fiveyear expenditure plan was developed, identifying community enhancing projects. Those who choose to take the sur-vey will be asked to rank these spending plan options, which includes:

- Establishing a new and/or improved community center
- Reducing costs for residents by decreasing utility bills, such as water
- Working towards a AAA credit rating by building the rainy day fund and planning for future costs increases
- Investing in public buildings, park improvements and community facilities
- Addressing other community priorities like affordable housing, preventing homelessness, youth programs and public safety, etc.

After April 30, the findings of the survey will be discussed by the Monrovia City Council, along with the Measure K Citizens Advisory Committee, and will be shared with the community. Hard copies of the surveys are available upon request. The new sales tax will go into effect on April 1, 2020. For additional information on Measure K,visit MonroviaMeasureK.org.

FAMILY MATTERS By Marc Garlett

WHAT HAPPENS TO YOUR PETS WHEN YOU DIE?

If you have pets, I'm sure you love them, but you may not have not provided any written or, better yet, legally documented instructions about what should happen to them if you become incapacitated or when you die. If you have, read this article with an eye to ensuring you've checked all the right boxes. If you haven't, read on because it's time to act, and this knowledge will make it easier for you to do things right.

Let's start by looking at what happens if you become incapacitated or when you die if you've done nothing to ensure the well-being and care of your pets. It may be that if you do nothing, one or more of your friends and family will step forward to take care of your pets. But, will the person who steps forward be the person you would choose? And, will they take care of your pets the way you want? If you do care, you need to take action rather than just leaving the well-being and care of your pets to chance. If you don't designate at least one person, and ideally one person plus backups to care for your pets, and provide instructions to the people you've named, and perhaps also money to support the care of your pets, your pets could become a burden to your friends and family, or even end up at the humane society.

Steps to Plan for Your Pet's Care in Your Estate Plan

So, step one in all circumstances is to legally name the people you would want to care for your pets in the event you

Step two is to give the people you've named specific instructions about how you want your pets to be cared for if you cannot do it including type and amounts of food, any medications needed, exercise plan, and any other special things you know about your pets that any caretaker should know.

Finally, step three is to consider whether you need to provide financial resources to care for your pets.

If your pet has any special needs, or if you want to provide funding for training, regular exercise, or a certain kind of food or care, it's up to you to provide the financial resources to the people you've named to take care of your pets. All of this can be included as part of your comprehensive estate plan.

LOCAL STUDENTS MATCH BIG DREAMS WITH BIG OPPORTUNITIES

By Dr. Edward C. Ortell, Citrus College Governing Board

The California School of the Arts - San Gabriel Valley (CSArts-SGV), a unique public charter school, opened its doors in spring 2017. This spring, CSArts-SGV will present its "Season Finale Fanfare Experience" at Citrus College's Haugh Performing Arts Center on Sunday, April 26.

As it has for the past two years, this annual event will feature performances and works of art from each of the school's arts conservatory programs, including the School of Dance, the School of Fine and Media Arts, the School of Music and the School of Theatre. And, Citrus College is more than a venue where CSArts-SGV students can showcase their talents. The college is also in partnership with CSArts-SGV, offering early college classes taught by college faculty on CSArts-SGV's campus in Duarte.

As part of Citrus College's robust Early College/Dual Enrollment programs, CSArts-SGV high school students can simultaneously earn both high school and college credit, while taking rigorous conservatory style courses in Citrus College's world renowned Visual and Performing Arts program. In addition to an opportunity to study for the careers of their dreams, this partnership also provides students with access to the same student services that are available to traditional Citrus College students. Currently, Citrus College holds more than a dozen dual-enrollment classes on the CSArts-SGV campus.

A new policy brief by the American Institutes of Research (AIR) found a strong return on investments made in early college programs across the country. According to Dr. Kristina Zeiser, a lead researcher for AIR, "...research showed that that early colleges are an effective way to increase rates of college-going and college completion..." In addition, early college programs, where students earn their high school diploma and credit towards an associate degree, have a positive impact on participants' enrollment and success in college. They are also helping to close stubborn achievement gaps.

Citrus College's early college program and CSArts-SGV are proving to be two innovative educational paradigms that partner beautifully together. While approximately 10 percent of students reside in Duarte, CSArts-SGV draws students from more than 80 cities within and beyond the San Gabriel Valley, providing opportunities for career training in fine and performing arts within reach of hundreds of aspiring students each year.

PASADENA SCHOOL DISTRICT MESSAGE ON CORONAVIRUS

Dear Pasadena Unified Community:

The Pasadena Unified School District is continuing to work closely with the Pasadena Public Health Department, the L.A. County Office of Education, and the L.A. County Department of Public Health to monitor the latest developments about the novel Coronavirus (COVID-19), provide accurate information to our communities, and keep our students, teachers, and staff safe and healthy.

On Tuesday, officials from the Centers for Disease Control warned that the novel coronavirus will almost certainly spread in the United States, and that schools and businesses should prepare for a possible pandemic.

We understand that this statement may be creating concerns for our school community. While the fact remains that there is still only one confirmed case in L.A. County, PUSD is preparing and planning to keep our students and staff safe. At this time, there are no plans for imminent school closures.

PUSD is updating protocols and preparing plans for virtual learning for schools in the event of a prolonged emergency of any kind, including coronavirus. We will keep you updated as this plan develops. Information is also posted at pusd.

As a reminder, the most important thing we can all do is to practice good hygiene habits, including staying home if you feel sick - and that the best prevention against any virus is to wash our hands often. To help prevent the spread of respiratory viruses, including the coronavirus and flu, public health officials encourages everyone to:

Stay home and away from others if you have a mild illness (with a fever of 100°F or above).

Stay at home until you are free of fever for 24 hours without the use of fever-reducing medications.

Wash your hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds. If soap and water are not available, use an alcoholbased hand sanitizer.

Avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth with unwashed hands.

Cover your cough or sneeze with a tissue, then throw the tissue in the trash.

Clean and disinfect frequently touched objects and surfaces.

Be sure to get your influenza vaccine to protect yourself from the flu.

In addition, we want to ensure that our schools continue to focus on creating a welcoming environment for all students as there may be fear in our communities.

PUSD Health Programs is working closely with the Pasadena Public Health Department and our schools to provide guidelines and resources to share accurate information and take appropriate action. If you have questions about these topics, please contact our Health Programs office at (626) 396-3600 ext. 88243.

Sincerely, Brian McDonald

VINEGAR OF FOUR THIEVES

[Nyerges is the author of "How to Survive Anywhere," "Extreme Simplicity," and other books. To learn more about his books and workshops, he can be reached at www.SchoolofSelf-Reliance.com]

We're very advanced here in the U.S., and there's no reason we should ever be concerned about any-thing as drastic as bubonic plagues, right? Oh, so wrong! Plague is spread by fleas, on the rats, which are common when the level of general hygiene drops. Now that the Corona virus (Covid-19) is on the news everyday, it might be a good time to revisit the possibility of a deadly pandemic. Though we ha-ven't seen anything like this (yet) in the U.S., look at how four

During an outbreak of bubonic plague in France several centuries ago, four thieves managed to loot the empty plague-ridden homes without contracting the dreaded plague. After all, they figured, what did it matter? Nearly everyone was dead. Some Middle Ages accounts tell us that during some of the worst plague outbreaks, the dead outnumbered the living, and the dead could not be buried fast enough.

thieves managed to deal with plague con-ditions during the Middle Ages.

These four thieves were arrested by policemen for looting, and were brought before the French judge in Marseilles. Wondering aloud, the judge asked how it was that these four thieves managed to resist the plague, especially since they had been in and out of so many plague-infested

"We drink and wash with this vinegar preparation every few hours," they answered. The judge made a shrewd bargain. The thieves would be given their freedom in exchange for their "antiplague recipe."

This recipe is recorded in Dian Buchman's Herbal Medicine book. Buchman writes, "this recipe has been used for centuries, but legend has it that it was discovered during a devastating bubonic plague."

Here's the recipe:

- VINEGAR OF FOUR THIEVES:
- 2 quarts (half gallon) apple cider vinegar.
- 2 T lavender.
- 2 T rosemary.
- 2 T sage. 2 T wormwood.
- 2 T rue.
- 2 T mint.

Combine the herbs and steep in vinegar in the sun for two weeks. Strain. Add 2 T. of garlic buds and steep for several days. Remove. To preserve, add 4 oz. of glycerin.

Karin James, the editor of the Forest Voice, adds that the vinegar recipe can be used for washing floors, walls, windows, and will offset smells in the home. It helps to deter bugs if you rinse your hiking gear in it. She also saves the herbs when she strains them out of the vinegar, and places them where ants come into the kitchen. "It works," she states. "No more ants!"

We posted this recipe on our web site and got many responses from readers. One suggested that it is the vinegar which is the primary reason that this recipe worked. We have used raw apple cider vinegar (in our drinking water, in ratio of about 2 teaspoons per quart) and have found that it keeps the mosquitoes from biting us, and helps reduce heat stress when working out in the sun. Whole books have been written about the health benefits of vinegar. We strongly suggest you always use only the raw apple cider vinegar.

While we certainly hope that we're never going to have to worry about outbreaks of bubonic plague, health authorities point out that the plague has never entirely disappeared. In fact, it is still found in the fleas of squirrels living in the nearby mountains. Conditions of poor hygiene are the breeding ground for rats, and plague.

Ubiquitous homeless camps, with no running water, toilets, or hygiene conditions, provide a conducive condition for plague to spread again. While we certainly hope that efforts to assist homeless are more and more successful, it's nevertheless valuable to look to the past for one solution to this problem.

The Vinegar of 4 Thieves is a low-cost easy-to-make formula, and is clearly a low-tech approach to the problem. When I have soaked a kerchief in the solution that I made, wore it to cover my mouth and nose, the odor of the vinegar was potent, and it kept people from wanting to be close to me – which might have been a contributing factor in its effectiveness!

BEWARE OF POTENTIAL 2020 CENSUS SCAMS

Dear Savvy Senior:

Can you offer some tips to help seniors guard against census scams? With the 2020 census gear-ing up, I've read that there are a lot of potential scammers out there looking to take advantage of older people and I want to protect myself. Cautious Judy of what you need to do.

Unfortunately, scams have become a persistent problem when the U.S. Census Bureau does its once-a-decade count of the U.S. population. Here's what you can expect from the 2020 Census in the coming weeks, and how you can protect yourself from potential scams.

What to Expect In mid-March, you and nearly every other U.S. household will receive an invitation in the mail to respond to the 2020 Census. This year, you will have the option of completing the 2020 census questionnaire either online, by mail, or by phone. The invitation will include detailed instructions

If you don't respond to this invitation letter, you will receive several follow-up postcard remind-ers from the Census Bureau by mail. If you still don't respond by late April, a census worker will come to your door to collect your response in person.

It only takes a few minutes to complete the census questionnaire.

While census participation is very important and required by law, you also need to be vigilant of census-linked scams. This is especially important for seniors who tend to be prime targets.

The Census Bureau warns against phishing email scams as well as con artist masquerading as census workers who will try to solicit your personal financial information. Here are some tips that can help you protect yourself.

Guard Your Information

Don't give out your personal or financial information. The Census Bureau or a legitimate census worker will never ask for your Social Security number, bank account number, credit card number, money or donations. And they will never contact you on behalf of a political party. If you're asked for any of these, whether it be via phone, mail, email or in person, it's a scam and should be reported to rumors@census.gov.

The Census Bureau will not send you an unsolicited email to request your participation in the 2020 Census. So, ignore any emails you get that may direct you to a census website that looks real but is fake - and may be infected with malware. Also, don't reply to the email or open any attachment because they could contain viruses that could infect your computer. Forward the email or website address to the Census Bureau at rumors@census.gov. Then delete the message.

Be Safe at Home

If someone visits your home to collect a response for the 2020 Census, make sure you verify their identity. A legitimate census taker must present a field badge that includes a photograph of themselves, a Department of Commerce watermark and an expiration date. Census workers will also be carrying a Census Bureau laptop or cellphone, as well as a bag with a Census Bureau logo.

Also, remember that a census worker will only ask you the questions that appear on the question-naire – your name, gender, age, race, ethnicity, phone number, type of residence and number of people living with you. They will not ask for sensitive personal information, such as your Social Security or credit card number.

If you have questions about their identity, you can call 800-923-8282 to speak with a local Cen-sus Bureau representative. If it is determined that the visitor who came to your door does not work for the Census Bureau, contact your local police department.

For more information on the 2020 Census, visit 2020census.gov.

Send your senior questions to: Savvy Senior, P.O. Box 5443, Norman, OK 73070, or visit Savvy-Senior.org. Jim Miller is a contributor to the NBC Today show and author of "The Savvy Senior" book.

OUT TO PASTOR

A Weekly Religion Column by Rev. James Snyder

IN MY HUMBLE OPINION

It was a busy week last week. I was chasing my tail so much, I thought I would actually catch it. What I would do after I caught it is beyond my imagination.

Whenever the mail comes, I'm always expecting "the check." Rarely do I get it, but my expectation is that I will get a $10,000 check. I don't know from whom.

"What are you going to the mailbox for?" The Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage would ask. "Are you looking for your $10,000 check?" One of these days, I am going to get a $10,000 check and rub it in her face before I take it to the bank.

This time the mail brought me a package from one of my relatives. It turned out to be old pictures of my family from decades ago. Most of them were black-and-white, so you can imagine how old they were. As I was going through these photographs, I could hardly recognize most of them. According to the letter in the package, they were my relatives. Most had been dead for 40 to 50 years. I cannot re-member what I had for breakfast this morning, let alone a relative 50 years ago.

Then I hit that "aha" moment. There was a picture of a relative I had long ago forgotten about. Why I forgot about him, I will never know. He actually died almost 50 years ago.

When I saw that picture, I had to call my wife over to show her. "This is a picture of Uncle Frank." I leaned back and smiled, thinking of him and all the antics as-sociated

"Have I ever met your Uncle Frank?"

I looked at my wife, smiled, and said, "No, my dear, you would have remembered him if you did." The memories of good old Uncle Frank began marinating in my head, and stories began develop-ing. If anybody could screw up a situation, it was good old Uncle Frank.

He was a good person in many regards; very congenial and generous and happy all the time. How-ever, his timing was not really that good, and what he said never aligned with what was happening at the time. His wife, Aunt Betty, always got frustrated at her husband when he was interrupting her conversa-tions. He did that quite often, much to her chagrin. And believe me, her "cha" didn't grin that much. In the middle of a conversation, Uncle Frank would break in and say, "In my humble opinion..." Then he would take the conversation off in the direction nobody could have ever expected. He had the knack of messing up conversations to the point that nobody knew what anybody was talking about. If, for example, somebody was talking about politics, Uncle Frank would say, "In my humble opin-ion, the Red Sox are going to win the World Series..." And for the next five or six minutes, he would be talking about baseball, which had nothing whatsoever to do with the conversation he in-terrupted. By the time he was done, nobody could remember what in the world they were talking about be-fore. I never really knew if Uncle Frank did that on purpose or if it just came naturally to him. I would have liked to have gotten to know him a little better because I am suspicious that he did it most of the time on

One time, I wish that I could have been there then, it all came to a head.

What I have learned is that humble people rarely give their opinion.

I think it was in a church setting, but a group of people was together talking about something. I do not know what the conversation was about, and I wish I'd been there. But it was at that point that everything came to a head with good old Uncle Frank.

As the conversation was getting along all of a sudden, Uncle Frank said, "In my humble opinion..." At that moment, Aunt Betty had enough, jumped in, and took control of the situation.

"Frank," she said in a very stern voice, "you are not humble, and nobody is interested in any opin-ion you

According to the report I was given, everybody went silent and tried looking in the opposite direction because Aunt Betty was staring at Uncle Frank as he had never been stared at before or since. From that moment on, nobody ever heard Uncle Frank ever say again the words, "In my humble opinion..." My wife laughed rather heartily as I told her this story. I wish she could have met him because he was quite a character. I must say, as I think about that situation, my wife reminds me a lot of good ole Aunt Betty. Later on that day, we were involved in something; she was talking about the plans that we needed to make, and I interrupted her by saying, "In my humble opinion..." That is as far as I got because she immediately jumped in and said, "Now I know who reminds me of Uncle Frank."

A verse of Scripture came to my mind at that time. "Likewise, ye younger, submit yourselves unto the elder. Yea, all of you be subject one to another, and be clothed with humility: for God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble" (1 Peter 5:5).

VALUES STUART TOLCHIN

OPINION:

Are you familiar with the quotation "What we obtain too cheaply we esteem too lightly. It is dearness that gives everything its value." This is a quote from Thomas Paine, the founding father whose writing inspired the American Revolutionaries to fight a war against the Mighty British Empire to secure their freedom. He inspired men to understand that as they fought so hard for their own freedom they would understand its importance and value the preservation of those hard won freedoms in the future. of those hard won freedoms in the future.

Maybe it's been all too easy for this generation. I watched the Democratic Presidential "Debates" a collection of degenerating ad hominem insults hurled primarily between old men of my age and religion and thought of Thomas Paine's quote. The debate went on and seemed to completely ignore that a Climate Emergency existed and a pandemic was threatening the welfare of the planet. These men are from a generation that should understand the importance of protecting the freedoms that we have. In fact, Senator Sanders, the present frontrunner, is someone whose grandparents were

This connection to the Nazis reminds me of the article I wrote two weeks ago which focused on the movie Jo JO Rabbit. The creator of that film received an Academy Award for Best Screen Writing. This man, Taika Waitit.i also known as Taikiki David Cohen, is someone whose father is Maori and whose mother is Russian Jewish. He gave an amazing acceptance speech which included the following: "The Academy would like to acknowledge that we have gathered here on the ancestral land of the Tonga, the Tavanium, and the Chumash who formerly inhabited the yeary land where the ceremonial presentations are taking place." He formerly inhabited the very land where the ceremonial presentations ae taking place". He concluded his speech by uttering two words "kia ora".

I had previously seen his movie Jo Jo Rabbit and understood that it was a satire concerning the adoration of the German Leader, Adolph Hitler. As a hint, the movie begins with clips of adoring fans at a rock-concert. Taika Waititi actually plays Adolph Hitler as an imaginary friend of a young German boy who adores him. By the film's end the adoring boy realizes his imaginary friend is a lying fraud unworthy of any adoration. He kicks Hitler, his imagined former idol out the window. Once out the window, the imaginary friend explodes and disappears into space. I believe that this satirical film was making a statement about the present American misguided adoration of its President. I wondered about the meaning of the last two words of the acceptance speech. After reading and ignoring entries pertaining to Korean automobiles, I learned that the meaning of the Maori words was something equivalent to the English expression Go In Health Be Safe. This completely fascinated me as the expression was roughly equivalent to the Yiddish expression Gay Gezunt which my primarily Yiddish speaking grandmother uttered each day as I went off to Elementary School. The Yiddish dictionary describes the meaning as absolutely equivalent to the Maori expression. My grandmother was of that generation of Jews who realized how valuable and yet how tenuous were her freedoms in America. Really, she and my mother remained anxious and nervous all of their lives concerned about the permanence of their safety.

Returning to the subject of the Democratic Debates, there were polls that stated that the main reaction to the debates by those polled was nervousness. That day I had received bumper stickers which a friend had created in response to my article Kia Ora which discussed the significance of the acceptance speech. In that article I had warned that the acceptance speech had contained warnings to the American Public that their glossy frivolous celebrations might well be part of a temporary culture that was adoring the wrong thing, not valuing or protecting what was really important. In other words, if we did not keep our eyes open this entire culture or civilization could well disappear like the Nazis or the Indian Nations that had inhabited America and were now completely forgotten. I had pasted the Kia Ora stickers on my car as a reminder to myself of the tenuous nature of what is only a tenuous hold on everything we think we value but now take for granted.

As I drove to a restaurant early the next morning, I heard on the radio that the Trump administration was assuring everyone that there was nothing to worry about the coronavirus and that everything was under control. Next I heard that this assurance was contradicted by almost all scientists. I became increasingly anxious as I next heard reported that elderly individuals with diabetes were particularly susceptible to the virus. I was in both categories and became even more nervous. I found myself at Roscoe's chicken and Waffles, a server of delicious sugary high carbohydrate food which should be avoided by individuals like me.

I drove to the restaurant and upon entering I was greeted by a server who remembered me and said "long time no see". I started to explain when she noticed my car and its bumper stickers. She laughed and said that "Kia Ora" was what the Polynesians said to each other in Hawaii. I took her laughter to mean that it was the dispossessed people like the native Hawaiians who were telling each other to be safe knowing that their whole culture had been destroyed by the Europeans and Americans. Really, I don't know why she laughed but looking at the bumper stickers I realized I was doing the opposite of protecting that which I valued most: MY OWN HEALTH as I was so busy worrying about everything else. Perhaps I should run for President.

BRINGING CHOCOLATE, PEANUT BUTTER, AND AMERICANS TOGETHER AGAIN

benefiting from the GI Bill.

Every time I bite into a Clark Bar, I become 10 years old again.

Irish immigrant D.L. Clark created the legendary chocolatecoated peanut-buttercrunch confection in Pittsburgh in 1917.

Individually wrapped Clark Bars were shipped to U.S. troops during World War I and became popular nationwide following the war.

According to "Sweets: A History of Candy," Clark applied a new technique that allowed a thin milk-chocolate shell to coat a non-chocolate filling, producing America's first successful "combination" candy bar. That makes the Clark Bar's origin a reflection of American innovation.

Clark's family-owned business produced the candy until 1955, when his company was acquired by corporate owners in Pittsburgh. But every October for decades after that, thousands of families bought the highly affordable bars to hand out on Halloween night. That makes the Clark Bar a tremendous source of American nostalgia.

By the time we were both 10 in 1972, my best friend Tommy Guillen and I had Halloween night down to a science.

We knew which houses to hit and which to avoid. A couple of families always handed out popcorn balls or Rice Krispies marshmallow bars - families that were just begging to have their car windows soaped!

Georgetown, the richest neighborhood near our homes - literally on the other side of the railroad tracks – was our first Georgetown parents filled our pillowcase sacks with brand-name candy heaven: Hershey's, Nestle Crunch, Milk Duds, Good & Plenty, Almond Joy, $100,000 Bar, Twizzlers, Snickers, Milky Way, Kit Kat, M&Ms, Reese's Peanut Butter Cups and the granddaddy of them all, Mallo Cup - chocolate-covered marshmallow perfection!

After miles of walking, we'd head back across the railroad tracks to hit the small ranch houses in the adjoining borough

- affordable homes built during the post-World War II boom for returning veterans

The families in those neighborhoods were wonderful - but, being budget-conscious, they were strictly Clark Bar families, as the locally produced confection was always discounted during the Halloween season. Our pillowcases would be filled with dozens of Clark Bars when we'd finally conclude our trick-or-treating.

The Clark Bar's corporate ownership would go through a series of sales and bankruptcies over the years. Production finally ceased in 2018, breaking the hearts of millions of 1970s kids like me.

But now, the Clark Bar is back!

Boyer Candy in Altoona, Pa. - the very same company that makes the Mallo Cup – has begun producing the Clark Bar again. That makes the Clark Bar part of a classic American comeback story.

Though I didn't yet appreciate or understand the Clark Bar's history when I was 10, I certainly enjoyed devouring hundreds of them. The Clark Bar remains a heavenly piece of Americana – one thing that still unites millions, even in these highly partisan and divided times.

Regrettably, the Clark Bar's comeback is currently limited to the Pittsburgh market. But if you can, buy a pack or two - and share them with friend and foe alike.

Sharing the Clark Bar's tastiness just might melt hearts just enough to foster calm, reasoned discussion.

Every time I taste one, I become as hopeful and optimistic as I was when I was 10.

I hope everyone can enjoy and share the positive energy that comes from enjoying a few bites of the Clark Bar's chocolate and peanut butter perfection – together.

MICHAEL REAGAN

Two weeks ago, I was happily sailing on a huge cruise ship in the Indian Ocean.

My Collen is a travel agent and I was tagging along with her and her group on a Celebrity Cruise Line ship as it sailed from Dubai to Singapore and back with 2,300 souls aboard.

Everyone on board our ship knew what was happening that same week to the unlucky people stuck on the Diamond Princess cruise liner docked offshore Tokvo.

Because a passenger who left Diamond Princess nine days earlier in Hong Kong had tested positive for the new coronavirus sweeping China, the Japanese government had ordered everyone to stay aboard the luxury cruise ship.

We weren't doctors or epidemiologists, just vacationers.

But we knew that cooping 2,666 people together on the Diamond Princess for 14 days was going to be trouble - and it was.

Because Japanese officials dithered around and then screwed up their containment measures on the ship for two weeks, the Diamond Princess became what the New York Times called "a floating epidemiological disaster."

According to the Times, "with 634 infections and two deaths, the cruise ship represents the largest concentration of coronavirus cases outside China."

We were a lot luckier, even though we never made it all the way to Singapore.

Our wise captain decided it wasn't worth the risk of getting any closer to the epicenter of the coronavirus outbreak and we turned back to Dubai after stopping at Sri Lanka.

The Celebrity Cruise Line people did everything right. Everyone was compensated for their lost cruise time and given $500 to pay for straightening up their travel arrangements.

Most important, as far as I know no one on our cruise ship caught the flu.

Since I've been back in Southern California, however, I've been getting sick watching the mainstream media sensationalize the dangers of the coronavirus.

Every time another country like Brazil gets its first official coronovirus case, they throw up another panicky headline about how the deadly pandemic is putting every human on the planet at risk. The mainstream media rarely take the trouble to point out that it is the already sick, the very old and the very young who are most likely to die from flu-caused problems like pneumonia, strokes and heart attacks.

SICK OF THE MEDIA HYPE

The coronavirus may yet live up to its media hype and become a true pandemic in the United States or elsewhere that kills hundreds of thousands.

But as the stock market dropped a few thousand points this week on the Dow Jones, it'd be a nice public service if the media put the death toll of the coronavirus in the proper perspective.

President Trump did exactly that during his press conference on Wednesday.

He pointed out to the entire country that old-fashioned Asian flu - the regular kind of constantly changing viruses that many of us take shots for every year - kills from 25,000 to 69,000 Americans

Every year after every year after every year.

When President Trump admitted he was "shocked" to learn that the "regular" flu was so deadly, he was of course mocked for his ignorance by the mainstream liberal media and their Democrat pals.

They would like you to think President Trump is the only person in America who wasn't up to speed on America's annual flu deaths, which actually are statistical estimates made by the Centers for Disease Control.

But I bet most Republicans and Democrats were unaware of how deadly the "regular" flu is.

For example, did you know that 2017-2018 was one of the deadliest flu seasons in our history?

Did you know that 80,000 Americans - older, younger, sicker Americans died that flu season, the most since the mid-1970s?

Do you remember the scary media stories, the doomsday predictions, the pan-ic in the streets, the stock market crash of early 2018, the soccer games played in empty stadiums, the closing of public schools?

Neither do I — and neither do the
